Beginning and End of Supersonic Jets

Wards Leave For Victoria

Const. and Mrs. Joseph Ward left the city aboard "The Queen of the North" Saturday morning for Victoria where Const. Ward has been posted as radio operator with "E" Division RCMP headquarters.

Const. Ward a veteran of 15 years service with the Royal Navy from 1914 to 1929 saw service in the Mediterranean theatre as well as at Turkey, Greece and Russia. He joined the provincial police in Nelson in 1941 as a radio operator and went into the RCMP in August, 1950. For the past 11 years, Const. Ward was stationed in Prince Rupert. He had served previously at Port Alberni, Vancouver and Campbell River.

For seven years of his stay here Const. Ward had run the Civic Centre boxing club, training Golden Gloves champions three years in a row. An ardent football enthusiast and sports fan besides, Joe Ward seldom missed in turning up at the Civic Centre twice a week to train and encourage city lads in the art of "fisticuffs."

MUSEUM—briefs

—By JOCELYN BOLTON—

Despite the cold weather, (and I am sorry to say that the Museum suffers from the cold) we have had a number of visitors looking around. Edmonton, Alta. appears on our register, also Quebec, Abbotsford, Victoria, Kitimat and quite a number of local people.

On Saturday the young people were in and out all day, and two of the boys, John Zille and Roy Pawlucki are going to help us do some painting next Saturday. The Museum will be closed to the public November 19, while we work without guests being bothered with paint.

Our new show case is now in place, and will be finished soon we hope. Jack Wrathall is coming to cut glass for our cases, as we also had some glass given us by Mrs. Claire Cordingley and in that way more exhibits will be under glass and receive better care.

J. B. Scott has been doing considerable work again for us, in fact Mr. Scott is always busy helping the Museum become a more attractive place. Our African spears are attractively displayed in the upper hall, lights have been fixed and many other little jobs have been done.

J. G. Lewis has also been kind enough to have a building report made and is having our Columbia Cellulose display renovated for us. Mr. Wrathall and Mr. Scott have also taken some excellent photographs of the inside of the Museum. We have copies at the Museum for any one to see and in time we plan to have a book of these enlarged photos on display. We hope that Prince Rupert citizens will obtain copies to send to friends or to keep, as Prince Rupert is one of the few cities in B.C. than can boast of a Museum. We receive many compliments about our Museum and our method of displaying exhibits.

Father Shoots, Burns Family

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police in suburban Shorewood early today found a family of five shot to death in their home, with four of the bodies afire.

The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Buckethal and their three children.

Police said that earlier this morning they had discovered a fire at Buckethal's plumbing shop in Milwaukee. When they went to his home to report the blaze they found smoke coming from the building. Officers broke into the house and found all five bodies. They said the wife and three children apparently had been shot and then covered with oil which was ignited. Buckethal also had been shot dead.

Police chief Emil Bartels said it appeared that Buckethal shot his family and then turned the gun on himself.
