BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Daring, Beautiful Lead Sets Four Heart Contract

Here is another hand illustrating the extreme importance of the first lead made by the defending side AFTER the opening lead.

North dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

SOUTH
(Mr. Meek)
♠ J 4 2

♦ A 5 4
♣ 6 5

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠
2 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	All Pass

Mr. Masters opened the jack of diamonds and dummy's king won. Mrs. Keen figured the lead was from a suit headed by jack-10 and saw no reason at this stage to discourage continuation of the suit. Therefore she followed suit with the eight spot.

At trick two Mr. Meek led the nine of hearts from the board and ducked it losing to the king.

A CLEAR IDEA

At this point, after the play of only two tricks, Mr. Masters had a clear idea as to his chances of defeating the contract.

For one thing, if Mr. Meek had the king of clubs, he had no problems, and it would almost surely be impossible to beat him. Future defense, then, had to be based on the hope that Mrs. Keen held that card.

Next, it seemed certain that Mrs. Keen did not have a single-spade because if she had been able to ruff a second round of spades she would have played her lowest diamond at trick one in an effort to encourage her partner to shift when he next gained the lead.

A GAMBLE

Apparently the defenders could win one heart, one club (if Mrs. Keen had the king) and therefore two spade tricks would have to be garnered. If Mr. Meek did not have as many as three spades, again the contract would be unbeatable.

On this reasoning, Mr. Masters made a beautiful and daring lead at trick three. He laid down the queen of spades. Dummy's king won and Mr. Meek then picked up the remaining outstanding trumps in two leads.

He now had no better play than to take the club finesse. This lost to the king and Mrs. Keen returned her last spade. Holding the ace-10 over Mr. Meek's jack, Mr. Masters automatically got two tricks in the suit to put the contract down one.

LEGAL NOTICE

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the form supplied by the Department of Fisheries and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein, and no tender will be considered for only a part of the work. Copies of documents including instructions to tenderers, form of tender, general conditions, plans and specifications may be seen on application to the Chief Supervisor of Fisheries, 1110 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, B.C., or may be obtained on loan from him upon deposit of $50.00 in the form of a certified cheque or Money Order, made payable to the Receiver General of Canada.
