Kitimat supervisor addresses teachers

In-service training is most valuable when teachers are eager to achieve maximum effectiveness in their teaching, said Mrs. J. Nelson, primary supervisor from Kitimat when she addressed a meeting of Prince Rupert primary teachers at King Edward school on Saturday, February 28.

Mrs. Nelson said that the teacher is the most important part of teaching. Teachers with a sincere philosophy of teaching will achieve maximum learning in their pupils by gaining their co-operation. Pupils receive their greatest inspiration through the personality of the teacher.

During the second half of the lecture Mrs. Nelson offered a great many specific suggestions and teaching aids to those present. About 25 teachers and principals attended the lecture, which was followed by a luncheon.

Another primary meeting, for the benefit of beginning teachers, is tentatively planned for next September.

Top Wren staff officer to pay 3-day official visit to Chatham

A full complement of seven wrens at HMCS Chatham are without an officer, it was announced today by HMCS Staff Officer Lt. Ronald A. Orton, RCN.

Lt. Orton suggested that during the three-day visit of Wren Staff Officer Lt. L. Frances A. Tait, who arrives here March 7 until March 10, on an inspection tour of western Canadian naval divisions, that possibly some qualified person could be interviewed and fill the vacancy.

A nurse or a university graduate of single status would be most acceptable for this position, Lt. Orton said today.

. . . Lieutenant (W) L. F. A. Tait, RCN (R)

Lt. Tait, who arrives here Saturday night by train from Edmonton, will inspect HMCS Chatham Wrens, Doreen Davidson, Diane McCorkindale, Katie Osowetski, Barbara Smith, Ann Wick, Dona Douglas and Jeannette MacDonald.

On Sunday Lt. Tait will be taken for a harbor cruise. During Monday her time is open for appointments to anyone wishing to discuss various items with her, Lt. Orton reported.

Monday night she will attend weekly divisions.

Stationed as Wren Officer at the headquarters of the Commanding Officer Naval Divisions, Hamilton, Ontario, Lt. Tait has held the appointment since January, 1958, when she succeeded Lt. Cdr. (W) Winifred Grace Lyons.

Born in Vancouver, Lt. Tait entered the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service in August, 1943, and took her basic training at HMCS Cornwallis, Gait, Ontario, afterwards at HMCS St. Hyacinthe, naval communications school at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec.

She received her commission in June, 1944 and took her discharge with the rank of Lt. at HMCS Discovery in 1946, returning to naval service in 1951.

While touring from February 22 to March 24, Lt. Tait will inspect naval divisions at Fort Arthur, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Prince Rupert, Vancouver and Victoria.

She left here Tuesday morning en route to Vancouver.
