School Opens Tomorrow For Retarded Children

Culminating the work and planning of many months, the Prince Rupert Branch of the British Columbia Association for Retarded Children announced today that plans for the school were sufficiently far advanced to make it possible to register for the Fall term along with the other city schools tomorrow.

It is expected that seven pupils will be present on opening day and that there may be others during the term, J. G. Lewis, association president said in announcing the opening of the school.

The school will opreate in the Anglican Mission house on the corner of Sixth Avenue West and Tatlow Street. Much of the re-decoration work and many of the necessary supplies and services have been donated by interested citizens and groups in the city. It is hoped that most of the remaining capital needs will be met in the same way.

Hendrica Prockter, who has been engaged by the association as instructor, returned yesterday from New Westminster where since mid-August, she has been doing practice instruction work and observation at The Woodlands School for mentally deficient or retarded persons. Mrs. Prockter has brought back many new ideas and has already accumulated a quantity of teaching materials for immediate use. She will be assisted during September by volunteers from Cambrai Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. Volunteer help for later months has yet to be planned.

The time-table of the school is not yet entirely certain, Mrs. Prockter said. It will depend upon the needs and capacities of the individual pupils. While she has two or three possible schedules in mind, Mrs. Prockter is at the moment thinking of a morning session for all the pupils, with an afternoon session limited to those capable of absorbing more teaching along basically academic lines.

Pipe Band Aids Festivities In Terrace

The pipe band of the 120th troop, 5th West Coast Harbor Defence Bty., RCA (M) made its first out-of-town appearance over the Labor Day weekend when, with the permission of troop commanding officer Capt. R. W. Lewis, it assisted with the celebrations in Terrace.

Led by 2nd/Lieut. J. F. Munro, the kilted bandsmen marched the entire length of the parade route ahead of the parade, all along Lakelse avenue starting at Eby Street and ending at the Civic Centre grounds. At the grounds the band entertained the crowd with martial airs.

Lieut. Munro said that arrangements made by the Terrace Civic Centre association "did much to help the success of the band's first out-of-town appearance."

PROMINENT IN FALL collections is this Paris-designed black-and-gray wool suit. The self-fabric belt gathers in a slight fullness at the waist. Casual and easy to wear, it has a moderately deep collar to give a softly tailored look. Designer is Gattegno of Paris. (CP Photo)

Ever Since Eve

TO BE AS MODERN as tomorrow, today's housewife is the one who has discovered the joys of using aluminum foil. It is claimed that there are a 1001 uses for this wonderful product, and I quite believe it. However, as space is restricted, I shall give you only as many suggestions we can squeeze into the allotted space.

ALUMINUM FOIL holds heat, will not burn. Keeps food hot longer—will not catch fire in oven or broiler. Wrap around baby's milk bottle on auto trips or outings, to maintain temperature.

ALUMINUM FOIL seals moisture in or out. Keeps food from drying out—prevents condensation dropping in refrigerator-stored foods. Keeps paint brushes soft and pliable overnight, without the bother of cleaning.

ALUMINUM FOIL is kind to food. It's non-toxic—will not affect taste or odor of the most delicate foods. Makes an excellent emergency container for minimum doses of aspirin or other medical supplies.

ALUMINUM FOIL makes an amazing garden mulch. The foil is simply laid between rows as close to plants as possible—using two strips between widely spaced rows. Edges are weighted down with a little earth—or, for more natural appearance in flower gardens, entire surface of foil can be lightly sprinkled with soil.

IF YOU ARE PLANNING to cook fish or game in a frying pan, you'll save a tedious scouring job by first lining the pan with aluminum foil. Be sure that the foil is firmly pressed against the bottom and sides of the pan for proper contact with heat. Melt butter in the pan before cooking the fish or game.

MATCHES ARE SAFE against dampening, exposed film is sealed away from light, items such as fish hooks will not snag fingers or clothing when protected with foil.

ALUMINUM FOIL is just the thing for wrapping cigarettes, cigars, plug or pipe tobacco. Moisture is sealed in and drying out prevented.

Labor Day Meet Success

house, new swings for the children, picnic tables and benches, a new fence around the pool, new bleachers and through the generosity of the Gyro Club a wading pool at Casey Park will be ready for next year."

Commissioner Kraupner said that progress was sometimes slow but that money needed for parks sometimes had to go elsewhere.

The parks board, he said, "is trying to spend its money wisely and carefully and in places where it will do the most good."

Speaking for organized labor, Angus Macphee, executive member of Local 708 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp and Sulphite workers, a member of the TLC, said that Labor Day was a time to remember labor's struggle.

Whereas between 1886 and 1894 May Day was celebrated as the workers battle for the eight-hour day, during the last 50 years the first Monday in September had been marked to commemorate labor's struggle for a higher standard of living, social security and laying labor's plans for the future."

Labor's struggle towards its goal was shrouded in bitterness and sometimes blood, Mr. Macphee said. He urged his fellow workers to remember the olden time names of Debbs, Heywood, the IWW and Joe Hill, the present day names of Reuther, John Lewis and the CIO and the places, Winnipeg in 1919 and the post office (in Vancouver) in 1930.

"Memories are only good, however," Mr. Macphee said, "to plan for the future."

He said today's standard of living was bound up in overtime, two pay cheques in the home and easy credit terms.

More to the point was the 30-hour week, full unemployment insurance and the guaranteed annual wage.

"These things are not unrealistic. Once upon a time, the eight-hour day, the abolition of child labor and women's suffrage were thought unrealistic."

The year of 1956 was a historic one, the speaker said, adding that with the merger of the AFL and CIO, labor was going to take unprecedented political action so that at long last the politicians would listen to labor and be forced to pass legislation to benefit the workers.

"Labor will move forward in society that moves forward," Mr. Macphee concluded.

Under the able guidance of Arthur Murray, whose genial wit and clever repartee keeps the swim gala going at a pleasing pace every year, the swim events got under way. (See results on Page 4.)

Between swim events there were demonstrations of life-saving practices by Ken McKinnon, Dr. Cliff Turpin and swimming pool instructor Stanley Fielding. The latter pair also gave an exhibition of swimming strokes along with George Fielding an exhibition of diving.

Attracting much attention and demonstrating the progress city children have made during the year under the guidance of Stan Fielding and other instructors was the exhibition given by youngsters of how they are taught their swimming lessons. Taking part were Arlene Rutherford, 7; Marie Ridsdale, 11, both first year pupils and Helen Woodcock and David Petrie.

Among those helping with the serving of free refreshments for the children were Keith Mudock, Gerald Norberg, Ted Remple, Jack Phipps, Kay Murray, Paul Dvornak, Lawson Hewitt, Margaret Lowes, Louis Bottong, John Morrison, Doug Newton, Harold Cummins, S. J. Dominato, Ted Jerstad and Peter J. Lester.

Mr. Lester reported this morning that the children consumed 190 pounds of weiners, 180 cups of ice cream, 100 dozen buns, 50 loaves of bread and 116 cases of soft drinks.

Starter for the swimming events was Fred Calderoni while judges were John Dumas, Ken McKinnon and Jim Hegan. Ken McKinnon and Dick Ayres judged the diving. Scorekeeper was Parks Commissioner Duncan McRae. Handing out Daily News ribbons to competitors as well as cash prizes was Fred Jones. Commissioner Kraupner pinned on the ribbons.

Parks board pins for members registered in swim classes this year, will be given out today.

In and Around Masset

By ART SENFT
Daily News Correspondent

I have just returned from Vancouver and believe me it's a pleasure to be back where it is quiet and peaceful.

It is a shame that so few people know where Masset is. One letter arrived here with a special note to the postmaster.

It read: "Notice postmaster. Many letters have been missent to different places, so please note: Masset is in the Queen Charlotte Islands, in the province of British Columbia, Canada." Needless to say this letter arrived promptly.

After a recent visit from Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi, it is reported that the work on the road to Port Clements will really go ahead.

Seining has been halted in Masset Inlet for 10 days. Reports have it that fishing was fair up to that point. Gillnetters are doing quite good at outside points.

City Dancer Wins Top Prize

Miss Bertrand, whose talent as an acrobat and singer has been demonstrated at the annual Civic Centre "Sweethearts on Parade," won out over six other contestants with an acrobatic and vocal number.

A cow's best friend

Any self-respecting cow likes to know that the precious food product she supplies is handled with greatest care so it will reach her customers fresh and pure.

From the dairy farm to your doorstep, aluminum is aiding the hygienic handling and processing of dairy products. Milk pails, cans and churns . . . tank trucks and dairy equipment . . . hoods for milk bottles and foil for butter and cheese . . . all are of aluminum. This modern metal's smooth surface prevents contamination, is easily kept shiny-clean. And it does not "pick up" foreign flavors or odors. As one European authority has said, aluminum and milk are made for each other.
