PARENT-TEACHER NEWS

Music co-ordinator explains band program

Sixty-five parents and teachers listened enthusiastically to guest speaker James White music co-ordinator for Prince Rupert schools Tuesday night when the Conrad Street Parent-Teacher association held its first meeting of the 1959-60 season.

Mr. White told the group that the intermediate classes would centre around a program for string instruments while the junior and senior high school programs would expand to include all instruments which would be brought together for band formation.

To illustrate the benefits of music in schools, Mr. White showed a film which portrayed an adolescent boy, who overcame his reticence and gained both poise and confidence through musical training.

During the business session the association voted to continue its sponsorship of the Conrad Cubs and Boy Scouts.

Elected to the group committee were Erwin Enright, Donald Wanamaker, Karl Lundstrom, Mrs. Andrew Marshall, T. A. McNeice and Mrs. John Dohl.

The Roosevelt Park school Parent-Teacher association held its first meeting of the season Wednesday night with 111 parents in attendance to see Mrs. Lloyd Bowman installed as president by Mrs. Arthur Logan, past president of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher council.

In her inaugural meeting Mrs. Bowman explained the objects and aims of the association.

Speaking on "Why Should There Be a PTA?" Mrs. Bowman said that the PTA has high ideals with eight objectives.

"Parents should think of the association as their PTA at their child's school," the new president said.

"The meetings are a time to discuss problems pertaining to the safety and welfare of the children and an opportunity for teachers and parents to meet socially, not a time to discuss pertinent facts about your child," she said.

School principal John H. Steele, in welcoming new and old members remarked that the quality of education at present is the best ever.

He said that he is highly pleased with the teaching staff this term, as teachers have an average of seven years teaching experience.

He discussed the new music program being introduced in the city schools this year, under the leadership of James White, co-ordinator of musical education for School District 52.

Mr. Steele explained how music classes in city schools for Grades from 1 to 12 would be conducted and said that instrumental work would begin in Grades 4, 5 and 6.

After Mr. Steele introduced his staff, Mrs. Bowman presented corsages and boutonnieres to the teachers and school secretary Mrs. J. J. Donaldson.

A coffee hour followed when parents and teachers enjoyed a social get-together.

The Annunciation Home and School association held its first meeting of the season Tuesday night when president H. G. Hennessy welcomed new members and teachers at the well attended session.

School principal Sister Beatrice reported that school enrolment this year stood at 248, an increase of six over last year. She introduced two new teachers Sister Clara for Grades 11 and 12, and Grade 2 teacher Miss Jean Sesler.

The new tunic uniform being worn by the girls in Grades 1 to 2 was being well enforced, Sister Beatrice said. She also reported that a jumper uniform to be worn by the girls in Grades 7 to 12 would begin early in October when the outfits arrived from Vancouver.

Sister Clara's classroom won the attendance prize.

Following a short address by Parish Priest Rev. James Tracey, refreshments were served.

McLean-Stephens repeat vows in southern Cathedral rites

Prince Rupert shares interest with Kamloops in the marriage solemnized in Kamloops St. Paul's Cathedral, September 4 when Miss Heather Ann Stephens became the bride of Kenneth Frederick McLean.

Rev. James Slater officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of former city residents Mr. and Mrs. Lorne H. Stephens and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred McLean of Prince Rupert.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal gown of pure silk organza cut with basque waist nestling into a bouffant skirt and a cascade of pack poufs above a chapel train. A coronet headdress studded with mother-of-pearl sequins held her illusion veil.

For "something old" the bride wore her mother's cameo ring. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisy mums tied with yellow satin ribbon.

She was attended by maid-of-honor Miss Beverly Calderoni, formerly of this city and now of Vancouver and her little sister Lorna as flower girl.

Miss Calderoni chose to wear a rose-colored chiffon gown in bellerina length with a matching floral bandeau of carnations, also en tone. Lorna wore a bouffant gown of yellow nylon sheer-over-taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations tinted to match her dress.

Robert Duncan of Prince Rupert was best man while the groom's brother Lorne McLean, also of Prince Rupert was usher serving with Darryl Stephens, the bride's brother.

Mrs. Roy Maskell played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Dave Summers, when she sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

Attractive arrangements of gladioli and fall flowers graced the altar.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shaw when the toast to the bride was proposed by Hunter Shaw. The bride's table was covered with a white damask cloth. Crystal holders with lighted white tapers and crystal vases of sweet peas flanked the two-tiered wedding cake.

Besides the groom's parents attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Prince Rupert; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Stephens of Mara, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. A. Zittergun also of Mara and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McMillan of New Westminster.

Congratulatory telegrams were received from Swift Current, Sask., Victoria, Prince Rupert and Detroit, Michigan.

When leaving for the honeymoon trip to Vancouver and southern United States points, the bride wore a two-piece teal blue wool-knit suit with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

Upon their return to the city this weekend, newlyweds will make their home at Seal Cove. Mr. McLean is employed with his father at McLean's Shipyard Limited.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Clara A. Bellamy returned home over the weekend following a holiday in Vancouver and Vancouver Island with her daughter Miss Irene Bellamy, who remained in the south to take nurse's training at the Royal Columbian hospital, New Westminster.

Here on a motor vacation from California were Mr. and Mrs. John Matson and their son Woodrow, as guests of Mr. Matson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Matson, 650 Seventh Avenue East. Mr. Matson works for the Oakland Tribune as assistant advertising manager. While here their son Robert 17, joined them flying from Mather's Air Base in California and returned with them by car.

Sailing aboard the "Canadian Prince" tomorow night are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wallace, of Sunnyside Cannery.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Stockdale and their son Peter, leave tomorrow night aboard the "Canadian Prince" for Vancouver en route to Vancouver Island where Dr. Stockdale has been appointed assistant director of the Central Vancouver Island Health Unit.

WEEKLY SERMON

By THE REV. DONALD CHASSELS, of St. Peter's Anglican Church, Seal Cove.

September is here with a vengeance. Meetings are being held and programs are being laid out in cadet corps, service clubs, lodges and churches. Some are wondering if perhaps they have bitten off more than they can chew; but this thought is easily pushed aside.

As this rush of "busyness" commences, let's pause and consider what it is all about, and where we are going.

For many, a night or two per week is being set aside for some interesting activity which will be of benefit to the community or to self, and this is all to the good.

Others will find (or perhaps notice for the first time) that their rules or stated principles contain an embarassing clause, probably near the beginning, about belief in a "supreme being."

Of course, the fact that this stipulation appears in such a prominent place, implies that the activity of the society should be governed by such belief! But due to denominational differences, the subject is probably taboo.

For this reason it is important that each member should find out in his own way something of the nature of the "supreme being" who governs his destiny.

And in spite of the clause, some members will miss the point, and regard the activities of the secular society (with humanistic aims) as itself a substitute for religion!

If there is no ruling belief or aim behind these activities, no foundation which is a touchstone by which they are integrated and unified, we will find that we become disintegrated personalities, spending ourselves on various activities tending to break our lives into unrelated and fragmented compartments.

But with no firm foundation, the building will crumble under stress.

In itself, the lodge or service club can be a fine thing. But let's not make the mistake of supposing it can replace religion.

Build on a firm foundation, and all the pieces that make up the building of life will fall into place naturally . . . I should say supernaturally!

"For other foundation can no man lay than that that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

Not bread alone . . .

For those in trouble, The Salvation Army keeps an open door. In its hostels, havens, homes and hospitals, workers who understand the human heart know that bread alone is not enough.

While the body is cared for, the spirit is healed and uplifted by the message of hope. Men, women and children are "made whole", and shown the way to loving service of God and man.

In this work of mercy you can share. Your contribution will bring the glow of happiness to your heart.

The understanding heart and the human touch

Give from the heart
