BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Mr. Dale, the master of bridge humanics, is not the hero in every hand. Sometimes he is the goat—which only serves to prove that even the wiliest of players can be fooled if you go about it in the right way.

He opened the bidding with four spades to make it difficult for his opponents to find their best spot. He was happy to hear Mrs. Fusty branch out with a bid in his five-card secondary suit and happier still when his partner doubled it.

He won the first trick with the ace of spades. If he had led another spade at trick two, Mr. Abel could have ruffed and run off four heart tricks. Later, Mrs. Fusty would have had to lose a trick to the 10 of diamonds for a thumping five-trick set.

Mrs. Fusty

But Mr. Dale did not lead a second spade and the reason was that Mrs. Fusty promptly dropped the king under the ace. Mr. Dale fell for this piece of deception, figuring the king was a singleton and that the lead of the queen of spades would be ruffed, setting up dummy's jack.

At trick two he decided to shift to the deuce of clubs. The crazy pattern of play continued when Mrs. Fusty ducked in dummy and ruffed in her hand. She started her top diamonds and Mr. Dale could see what was coming. He would be thrown in with the fifth lead of diamonds and would have nothing left but spades. He would probably be permitted to win with the queen of spades, but would then have to put dummy in with the jack.

Mr. Dale was determined to avoid this result. He was willing to give up his trump winner so that, eventually, Mrs. Fusty would have to lead hearts to Mr. Abel. So he played his top diamonds first and after four leads had the deuce left.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	5 ♦
Pass	Pass	Dbl.	All Pass

Opening lead: Ace of spades.

Mrs. Fusty picked up the deuce with a fifth diamond lead. Now, to Mr. Dale's consternation, she calmly laid the deuce of spades on the table and he was end-played after all. He could do no better than to win with the queen and return a spade to dummy's jack.

On the trump leads Mr. Abel had been forced to make four discards. In the belief that Mrs. Fusty had no way to reach dummy he had thrown away clubs and held onto his hearts. Mrs. Fusty had discarded four hearts and a small club from the board. So when dummy got in with the jack of spades, there were enough good cards there to provide discards for all of the hearts from the closed hand. Mr. Dale had been unwilling to accept a one-trick set earlier in the hand. Now he found himself in the position of not setting the contract at all.

ONE WORD BECOMES SPEECH AT HANDS OF INTERPRETER

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Sergei Yeger, a touring Russian aircraft designer, was inspecting an exhibit of house trailers at the San Diego County Fair.

"Do you have house trailers in Russia?" a reporter asked.

Yeger replied in a word: "Nyet." The reporter had a pretty good idea what the word meant, but he asked Yeger's interpreter for an explanation anyway.

"He says," the interpreter replied, "that they do not like houses on wheels in Russia. They prefer a more permanent, stable type of housing."

Distribution of herring under study

Special to The Daily News

VANCOUVER — An investigation of the offshore distribution of herring is at present underway off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

The Fisheries Research vessel "A. P. Knight" operating from the Biological Station at Nanaimo began the three-week search for herring earlier this month using herring drift nets of 5 mesh sizes from ¾" to 2¼" at depths from the surface to 50 fathoms.

The area to be searched is from shore westward 250 to 300 miles. In addition, the investigations will include mid-water trawling operations—and, to gather information on the high-seas distribution of salmon, 300 fathoms of high-seas salmon gill-net will also be set.

Color TV in Japan

TORONTO (JTC) — Japan is second only to the U.S. in color television, an American electronics expert reports. Japan has already about 10 working color TV stations.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mrs. Marina Sotomayor de Acevedo celebrated her 100th birthday here saying that other people would live that long only if they tidy up their morals. Her husband died when she was 27 and she never remarried. She admitted to one failing: a love for candy.
