Small cars take awards in icy rally

Driving under appalling conditions, W. Doumont and T. McNeice, in an Austin, won the individual trophy and credit voucher in Sunday's road safety rally sponsored by the Road Safety Club.

They lost only 135 points. Next were C. Harvey and B. Smith in a Volkswagen, and D. Winslow and B. Winslow in another Volkswagen, with losses of 404 and 418 points respectively.

Rotary Club retained the team award with J. W. and Mrs. Todd (Chevrolet) and J. Martin and Mrs. Martin (International) losing 1,469 points between them.

They were placed fourth and ninth in the individual competition, losing 625 and 844 points respectively.

It was hard luck for High School students Harvey and C. Lemon (Chevrolet.) Their total points loss was 1,353—sufficient to give them the team trophy.

But as they were not officially sanctioned by Booth Memorial High School, the stewards disallowed their entry.

Treacherous roads, a dazzling winter sun and scores of immobile cars added to the hazards, and most competitors were late returning.

As if conditions were not bad enough, the drivers ran into a humorist along a track outside Port Edward. He altered a directional arrow, and six cars founds themselves at the radio station unable to move any further.

The six reversed gingerly down a quarter of a mile of narrow, twisting, icy track. Several vehicles left the road.

On the way home, the hill at Eleventh Avenue East was almost impassable, and navigators were doing more pushing than navigating.

More trouble came from the CNR. At the first level crossing several cars found themselves held up while a long line of wagons were shunted to and fro.

Other finishers were W. Kincaid and J. Rodie (Austin) 724 (5th); M. Lemon and B. MacLeod (Chev) 749 (6th); D. Yule (Triumph), 750, (7th); L. Cawthorne and B. Gould (Ford), 803, (8th); J. Arseneau and B. Blyth (Plymouth) 954, (10th); H. Scholten and C. Verhaar (Plymouth) 1,029, (11th); S. Comadina (Meteor) 1,113, (12th) M. Hebden and B. McDonald (Nash), 1,711 (13th); C. and L. Courtenay (Plymouth) 1,796, (14th).

Remember When

By The Canadian Press

Boston Bruins' National Hockey League record for the most consecutive victories was ended at 14 games when New York Americans defeated them 3-2 at New York 29 years ago tonight. Bruins had started with a 3-1 victory over Montreal Canadiens at Boston the previous Dec. 3. Boston won the league title that season but they were beaten by Canadiens in the Stanley Cup final.

Fighting cop loses; back pounding beat

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Dixon, the fighting cop, went back on the beat Saturday in Newark, N.J. If he takes the advice of Gene (Ace) Armstrong, he'll stay there.

Armstrong, who defeated Dixon Friday night by a unanimous 10-round decision, wasn't talking about his opponent's ability as a fighter. His advice was strictly financial.

"If this guy doesn't get any more fights than I do, please, please tell him to stay a cop, Armstrong said. "At least you get a regular payday."

PERFECT RECORD

Armstrong has won all his 16 bouts. He had only two fights last year. He gets by because he has a side job stacking bottles for a liquor company.

Jack Barrett, New York matchmaker, said he will try to pair Armstrong, from Elizabeth, N.J., with Gene Fullmer, Joey Giardello or Spider Webb. Armstrong and his manager, Willie Robinson, will be most happy if he does.

Dixon, who fought his first main event on his day off, was back on the job from 7 p.m. Saturday until 3 a.m. Sunday. He worked the same trick Thursday, reporting for the noon weighin after a short sleep.

The police director of Newark, Joseph F. Weldon, advised Dixon last week that department regulations forbid a man holding two jobs. Dixon first told Weldon he wanted to be a cop, then said he felt he had an obligation to live up to his contract for the fight.

NO COMMENT

Weldon watched the fight on television at home. He told a reporter: "I don't want to comment on that fight." He has declined to say what disciplinary action, if any, might be taken.

Dixon weighed 160¾ pounds, Armstrong 155½. He got about $5,000 for the fight—$4,000 from TV and $1,000 from the gate—compared to his annual salary of $4,600 as a policeman.

Armstrong used a stinging left jab to pile up points in the early rounds and smothered Dixon inside. Dixon managed to land some telling body blows in the seventh and ninth, but Armstrong penned him in a neutral corner in a closing spurt in the 10th. There were no knockdowns.

Dixon, a $4,600-a-year patrolman who works the night trick on a Newark beat, had advanced to the main event class by winning two Garden semi-finals. He was a 3-to-1 underdog against Armstrong, who had beaten him twice in the amateurs.

After the fight, Dixon said he would take a couple of days to think over his future.

Dixon, 25-year-old Korean War veteran, has been on the Newark force for about nine months.

Fight moguls watch London, Henry Cooper

By JOHN FARROW

LONDON (AP)— The fight men with money and influence have moved in on London—scene of tonight's title fight between British heavyweight champion Brian London and challenger Henry Cooper.

Truman Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club, is here.

So is Eddie Alqvist, manager of European champion Ingemar Johansson.

American promoter Bill Rosenson is expected.

Lew Burston, foreign representative of the IBC, also has a date at Earle's Court arena, scene of the battle.

All want to see just how good London, second-ranked challenger for Floyd Patterson's world title and Cooper, seventh-ranked challenger, really are. London is a slight favorite.

GOLD-FILLED FISTS

Lurking in the background will be British promoters Jack Solomons and Harry Levens—businessmen who know the winner has gold in his fists.

It's the first time in years that two British heavyweights have gone into the ring in a British title fight as ranked challengers for the world championship.

The talk in London is that the winner will get a crack at Patterson.

Cooper, 24-year-old with the classic left lead and eyebrows that look likely to cut under heavy blows, has said he would prefer to tackle European champion Johansson of Sweden.

London has his eyes on Patterson—for London is a man after the money. He's formed himself into "London Enterprises" with father Jack and brother Jack as directors.

Lots of other people, like Levene and Solomons, have plans for the winner—with money all around.

Meanwhile, British fans and writers are arguing among themselves as to just how good world champion Patterson really is.

He's defended his title only three times in just over two years.

"I admire the extraordinary D'Amato (Cut D'Amato, Patterson's manager) for his stand against the monopoly of the IBC.

He kept his word by breaking this stranglehold in American boxing," Frank Butler said in the News of the World.

"But I criticize him for doing so at the possible expense of Patterson, whom I regard as a first class champion. The opposition for Floyd has not really allowed him to prove his greatness."

BELFAST (Reuters)—Freddie Gilroy, 23, of Belfast won the British and Empire bantamweight boxing titles by stopping champion Peter Keenan of Glasgow in 11 rounds Saturday night.

Keenan, who had taken severe punishment, was virtually out on his feet at the end of the 11th round and the referee, after walking to his corner, stopped the fight.

Keenan, 30, one of Britain's most consistent champions—he has held the British title since 1951 except for one brief spell—afterward announced his retirement from boxing.
