Film Council Projectionist Course Set

Good news for would-be projectionists and groups looking for new and interesting films was announced today by the Prince Rupert Film Council.

Wednesday, March 5 will be the starting date for the council's projectionists course to continue every following Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Civic Centre.

Anyone interested in this course is asked to register at the Civic Centre desk. There will be a nominal charge, it was announced.

The new block of 41 films which has just arrived for the Film Council Library, contains a large variety of interesting subjects, it was reported.

Included among them are "Mountain Movers," one of the first films about Kitimat; "Yo Ho Wonder Valley," a panorama of rocky mountain scenery in color; "Hunting With a Camera," a film depicting the fun of the chase, also in color; "Tea," which tells the story of tea, its growing and processing; "Who Will Teach Your Child?" a study of the teacher's vital role; "Why Won't Tommy Eat?" dealing with the problem of children who won't eat; "Western Wheat," the drama of the wheat harvest and many others.

These films are available for rental to members of the Film council, it was announced.

1958 VALENTINES—A new twist has been added to the old funny Valentines but hearts and flowers still are big sellers in the Valentines being sent this year. Above is a selection of the more popular ones. Cards in the left-hand row, particularly the slim jims, find their best sale among women. Men still go for the flossy, ornate cards such as the two top ones in the centre row. Typical of the modern Valentines is the card at top right which opens into three sections each with a sentimental message. Lower two cards at right are known in the trade as "slam" Valentines. They have a casual, sophisticated humor and are popular among teenagers. Card at lower right has eyes that roll and carries the message: "Be my tranquilizer!" (CP Photo)

St. Valentine's Day Means Parties, Treats For Youngsters

By MARY BURKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—St. Valentine's Day may mean romantic missives to teen-agers, but for junior it's the signal for parties.

If you're faced with entertaining a crew of youngsters, here's a few party treats to keep them happy.

Ice cream and cake spells eating magic to youngsters and it's easy to prepare. Home-made ice cream is a delight to make in the freezing trays of your refrigerator. And you can produce cake in a jiffy by using ordinary bread.

Just cut slices of day-old bread with a heart-shaped cutter, dip in sweetened condensed milk, roll in coconut and brown delicately in the broiler.

The recipe for homemade vanilla ice cream calls for 2-3 cup sweetened condensed milk, ½ cup water, 1½ tsp. Vanilla extract and 1 cup whipping cream.

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Combine condensed milk, water and vanilla. Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency. Fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing tray. Cover tray with waxed paper. Freeze to a firm mush, about 1 hour. Turn into chilled bowl. Break up with a fork, then beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy, not melted.
