Francois Lake News

By AGNES H. NEAVE

Hugh's old collie "Dusty" "Blue Sky's Stardust" is her registered name) was ill for several days and we realized that only a major operation would save her. There is no veterinary surgeon near enough to take her to for an operation so my husband Hal and son Hugh did it themselves. They just hated the job, but squared their shoulders and faced up to it with a pair of rubber gloves, some store string and thread, scissors and a knife. Dusty did not attempt to bite them, and even licked their hands when she could reach that far. She drank water and refused to eat for a day and rested in the shade, and is now picking up quickly and has even been chasing up the hill at the back with the children.

The hay is of excellent quality this year and is yielding three tons to the acre. It is so thick on the ground that when cut it will not dry until it is turned over.

Loss by fire of the modern Immaculate School and auditorium in Burns Lake has been a blow to the district, and has made a problem for schooling for more than 150 students. This building had not been completed although it has been used since last November. The fire started in the auditorium. There was not sufficient pressure of water to help fight the blaze efficiently, as the building is on a hill. We hear that plans have already been made to rebuild as soon as the fire insurance adjuster has inspected the site.
