Canadian, U.S. Newsmen To Swap Jobs

VICTORIA (CP) — A three-month exchange of Canadian and United States journalists will be made this year under the auspices of the international press institute.

Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Times and chairman of the Canadian National Committee of the Institute, said the exchange should strengthen the bond between English-speaking countries.

Under the program the Canadian newspaperman will work for two months on the U.S. newspaper which has sent a staff member to Canada. The other month will be spent travelling in the U.S.

The same program is planned for the U.S. journalist visiting the newspaper in Canada.

Mr. Keate said the fellowships, to be awarded every year for the next three years, are open to editors, editorial writers and foreign deskmen between the ages of 25 and 50.
