European War At Turning Point

CANADA AND U.S. ARE ONE GREAT AREA FOR PRODUCTION IN CRISIS

Boundary Lines Almost Gone in Co-Operation Developed Through Year by Various Boards—Co-Operate in Production of War Supplies.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18: (CP)—Nineteen-forty-one saw the 49th parallel of latitude, which for more than a century has been a shining example to the world of the practical benefits of a good neighbor policy, disappear in many respects as a boundary line between Canada and the United States. By a series of inter-related actions, co-operation and collaboration between the two nations in production of war supplies was advanced to the point where boundary lines almost disappeared and the North American continent north of Mexico was regarded almost as one vast production area. This trend toward a continental viewpoint is expected to be accelerated as a result of the United States becoming an open belligerent in the war and all the machinery necessary for it has been in operation for months.

The mutual confidence which has developed between Canada and the United States over a period of years has facilitated the creation and successful operation of a series of permanent, as well as temporary, joint commissions for handling problems of common concern.

There are four main bi-national boards, each concerned with joint wartime production plans, the common defence of the two nations, conservation and distribution of raw materials and, finally, economic collaboration, both in wartime and peace. In addition to these boards, there are various direct administrative liaison agencies in Washington and Ottawa.

Hyde Park Pact

As far as the United States is concerned, this meshing of war effort by the two countries has been of tremendous value. Under the terms of the Hyde Park agreement, signed by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and President Roosevelt April 20, 1941, the United States placed millions of dollars worth of war orders in Canada, taking advantage of production facilities already in operation in the United States and which could not have been duplicated in the United States except at great loss of time and energy.

In addition to that, the United States has gained access to Canada's vast natural resources on a priority basis that assures a continuity of supply and inexhaustible reserves which do not have to be transported across an ocean.

One of the most practical achievements of the Permanent Joint Board on Defence, was the construction, by the Canadian government, of a string of air fields from Edmonton north to Alaska. The immediate object of these fields carved out of rock and forest of the northern wilderness was to provide the United States with the means of rushing aircraft, particularly short-range fighters, to Alaska and the Aleutian Island bases.

This defence board was set up by the Prime Minister and the President when they conferred at Ogdensburg, N. Y., in August, 1940, to "consider in the broad sense the defence of the north half of the Western Hemisphere," not only the land portions of the two nations but the approaches by land and sea.

By April, 1941, the board had completed "strategic plans for the military and naval defence of Canada and the United States" which were submitted to the two governments and probably formed the basis of the strengthening of the east coast and west coast defences that has been accomplished since then.

Collections Of Taxes In City Are Up

General taxation collections at Prince Rupert — at 89 percent — are the highest for any year since 1930, it was announced at the city hall this morning. The percentage in 1930 was 89.5 and in 1931 it was 87.7 percent.

MENACE OF JAPANESE

Member of Victoria Executive Speaker at Local Canadian Legion Meeting.

An interesting speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion last night was Jack Neary of Victoria. Mr. Neary who has been on the executive of the Britannia Branch of the Legion in Victoria for years discussed various phases of Canadian Legion activities. He reminded his listeners how for years the British Columbia Legion had emphasized the danger of Japanese control of certain industries on the Pacific Coast. Events have shown that they were right in their demands for close scrutiny of such enterprises. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Neary.

The meeting of the Legion took place in the clubrooms with vice-president W. J. Rance in the chair.

Among the many letters of appreciation for courtesies extended by the branch was one from Colonel Cy Peck, V.C., who wrote at length in acknowledgement of the kindness of the branch in having him as its guest on the occasion of Remembrance Day. Colonel Peck spoke specially of the honor he felt in having been asked to command the Memorial parade on that day.

The need for more veterans for the Veterans' Guard was stressed in a letter from local recruiting office but there are very few of the members eligible.

The entertainment committee has completed arrangements for supplying some extra comforts for all units in this area as well as those men who went overseas from Prince Rupert. It was also agreed to hold a modified form of Christmas tree this next Sunday afternoon for children of members of the branch and Women's Auxiliary. The children did without the usual picnic this year and the cost of same was remitted to the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid victims but it was felt that they were entitled to a Christmas tree even if on a limited scale.

THREAT TO MALAYA

Great Britain acknowledged that a withdrawal south of the Krian River on the southern border of Kedah in Malaya had increased the threat to Penang, strategic Malayan city on the land route which the Japanese must take to reach Singapore.

RUSSIANS FORGING AHEAD

The Red Army has advanced forty miles in twenty-four hours while pursuing the Ninth German Army west of recaptured Kalinin and today the Nazis are withdrawing from Mohaisk, another important city which they had occupied. Mohaisk is fifty miles west of Moscow. The enemy are also in full retreat west of Leningrad now and communications have been re-established between Moscow and Leningrad. To the south Kharkov is back in the battle zone. The Russians have recaptured hundreds of villages and the Germans are back where they were months ago. The enemy, in their flight, are abandoning huge stocks of fighting equipment including tanks and motors. Only a feeble rearguard action is now being fought by the Germans. Berlin radio speaks of "unimaginable power" of Russian resistance.

FULL RETREAT IN LIBYA

Axis forces are in full retreat everywhere in the Libyan campaign. All their lines have been broken. The British are now 150 miles inside the Libyan border. Between Tobruk and Gazala forty guns were found yesterday. The enemy tank forces have been deceed. British bombing planes are effectively attacking coastal points.

Axis Front In North Africa Completely Shattered While Nazis Are On Run In Russia

HONG KONG IS HOLDING

Blow for Blow Being Exchanged There Between British Defenders and Enemy Japs

Battle of Malaya

Japanese Continue Fierce Drive Towards Penang and Singapore—Philippines Raided

LONDON, Dec. 18:—British defenders of Hong Kong are still exchanging blow for blow with the enemy Japanese across the one-mile distance between Kowloon and the port and island proper. The garrison is believed to still have a chance of holding out although it has been suggested that the position is untenable.

Sir Mark Young, governor of Hong Kong, today refused a second demand from the Japanese to surrender. Nevertheless, London military experts appear to be agreed that Hong Kong cannot hold out indefinitely if the Japanese are willing to spend the men and materials that will be necessary to take it. The Japanese have already suffered heavy casualties at Kowloon.

The Japanese are still fighting furiously in their drive down the Malay Peninsula to threaten first Penang and then Singapore.

British troops defending parts of northern Malaya withdrew to new positions during the night and are now reorganizing. Along the Muda River Japanese attacks were held back, the British holding positions there. At some points the enemy has suffered heavy casualties.

In Philippines

The Philippines continue quiet with no further serious land attacks by the Japanese.

The Japanese raided two American air fields on Luzon Island today but did little damage. No casualties are reported.

The entire Philippine army is being taken over by the United States army of the Far East in the course of an amalgamation of all defence forces with a view to bringing about the greatest possible co-ordination.

The war in the Far East appears to be settling down momentarily at least.

CUBA FOILS AXIS PLOT

Aim Was to Set Up Naval Signalling Equipment for Benefit of Enemy.

HAVANA, Dec. 18:—A fifth columnist plot to set up naval signalling equipment in Cuba for the benefit of the Axis has been uncovered and three arrests have already been made, it is announced by the government. The arrested include one alleged member of the German Gestapo. Italians and Japanese are also believed to be involved.

BEN FRANKLIN'S SHEET

The Saturday Evening Post was originally the Pennsylvania Gazette bought by Benjamin Franklin in 1729.

STALIN DESCRIBES GERMANS AS RESEMBLING FORCES OF NAPOLEON IN BLOODY RETREAT FROM MOSCOW — BRITISH IN RELENTLESS PURSUIT IN NORTH AFRICA.

A great and, perhaps, decisive turning point "marked Europe's war on two fronts today as Great Britain announced the Axis front in North Africa was completely shattered and Russia declared that Chancellor Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were fleeing in chaos.

President Joseph Stalin of Russia was quoted as describing the Germans as resembling the forces of Napoleon in their bloody retreat from Moscow in 1812.

Havas News Agency said a German withdrawal in the Ukraine had brought the industrial city of Kharkov back into the battle zone and on the central front Russian cavalrymen were reported to have chased German troops to within nineteen miles of Orel, 200 miles south of Moscow.

In the north around Leningrad the Finns reported the Red Army had shifted the weight of the offensive against them with Soviet troops attacking along the whole eastern sector of Lake Onega. This clearly indicated that Leningrad defence armies were now free from German pressure on the south and west.

AND IN LIBYA

Meanwhile the British Middle East Command in Cairo reports that the Axis front has been completely shattered in eastern Libya after five days of fierce combat and once proud armored forces of the Germans, with surviving Italians associated, are in full retreat before relentless British pursuit.

A communique said that the enemy's front has everywhere been broken.

HAWAIIAN SHAKE-UP

High Commanders of Navy, Army and Air Force Are All Relieved as Result of "Sneak."

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 18: (CP)—The United States entrusted the supreme command of the Pacific fleet today to Admiral Chester W. Nimitz. He succeeds Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, who, with two other top-ranking officers of the Hawaiian area, was relieved of command pending outcome of an investigation President Franklin D. Roosevelt has ordered of the Pearl Harbor sneak attack by the Japanese.

The army relieved Lieutenant General Walter C. Short of command of the Hawaiian military department and Major General Frederick L. Martin of command of the Hawaiian air forces. Lieut. General Delos C. Emmons replaces Short and General C. L. Tinker takes over air command.

Withdrawal Is Unusual

LONDON, Dec. 18: (CP)—The Admiralty announced today that Vichy authorities had taken the unusual step of withdrawing charges that a British submarine had sunk the French freighter St. Denis.

PORTUGAL CONCERNED

Government in Special Session to Consider Occupation of Island of Timor.

LISBON, Dec. 18: — The Portuguese government is meeting in special session to consider "serious events" concerning the Island of Timor, north of Australia. No details were given but it was suggested that relations between Great Britain and Portugal would have to be gone into in view of the new war in the Far East.

The Netherlands government in London announced that Timor had been occupied by Allied troops as a measure or protection against the possibility of it being used as a possible base for Japanese submarines. Netherlands and Australian forces carried out the occupation.

Part of Timor has been held by the Netherlands and part by Portugal.

Timor lies between Java and Australia.

The announcement of its occupation by the Netherlands government stressed the activities of Japanese submarines off Timor and said the occupation was to safeguard it against Japanese aggression.

Keep Cheerful . . .

No matter what the future has in store for us on this coast, we should keep cheerful all the time. There is nothing to be gained by seeing trouble ahead. Suppose we should lose both Singapore and Hong Kong, we must admit that we shall have received a bad slap to our prestige in the Orient. But it so happens that we know nothing about what will happen there a week from now and it is well to be cheerful and celebrate Christmas in the best way we know how, always keeping our war duties in mind.

Queen's Fund Gifts . . .

The first donation from the Queen's Canadian Fund to provide Christmas comforts for the people living in shelters in the United Kingdom was £750, but other similar sums will have been forwarded before next week. Children and old people will be those who will benefit most but all, so far as possible, will be remembered.

War in the Pacific . . .

With shocking suddenness, war has come to the Pacific Ocean and it must be endured—and won, says the Financial Post.

At the outset Japan has the temporary advantage of surprise and she may be expected to exploit it to the full. What damage she may do before she is subdued it is impossible to guess.

The Pacific is a huge ocean and Japan's fleet is on the loose in it. She has ten or eleven small but fast aircraft carriers and their job is to carry attack to distant objectives. That makes every section of the Pacific theoretically vulnerable and in danger until reconnaissance and report discloses just where this Japanese naval strength is disposed.

Military secrecy surrounds the Pacific Coast defence of Canada but it has been stated that the present emergency has been foreseen for a long while by the Department of National Defence and that such steps as were feasible have been taken to protect Canada against attack on the west. This includes operational aircraft squadrons manned by men to whom active service against the enemy is no new affair.

Japanese naval forces have been reported off the Aleutian Islands. This is the direct route to Prince Rupert, Vancouver, Seattle and San Francisco—not a northerly excursion but a direct approach carries a Japanese fleet past the Aleutians.

The Aleutian Islands are within the aerial and naval patrol area covered by the United States and it is to be presumed that that part of the United States fleet assigned to the protecton of home waters or, in other words, the eastern portion of the Pacific Ocean, will be on duty to meet this threat.

By obvious agreement with the British Navy, the United States naval strength has been concentrated in the Pacific and British strength in the Atlantic and Mediterranean.

For a few raiders, including submarines, to slip through the Pacific guard is always a possibility. For a large fleet to enter eastern Pacific defense zones unnoticed and unhindered should be much more difficult.

Nevertheless, the situation is such that the military and naval authorities are fully entitled to warn the civilian population of British Columbia that an attack by Japanese forces on the Pacific Northwest is imminent. That puts the whole coast of British Columbia within the zone of possible attack.

Under the circumstances, the utmost in precautions is not only justified but is demanded.

Patriotic Christmas Gifts . . .

Not a few people are finding War Savings Certificates a convenient way of solving the Christmas gift problem. Not only is it convenient but it is patriotic and most appropriately in keeping with the spirit of these times of war effort and war thought. Incidentally, it all helps in improving Prince Rupert's showing in the matter of war savings.

It might be mentioned, too, that the objective in the local war savings campaign has not yet been completely reached. A little more now will put it over so once again we commend the value, from every way one looks at it, of systematic investment in War Savings Certificates.

Business Of Selling Dominion To U. S. Tourists Gives Mrs. Basil Campbell Lively Experience

By MARGARET KERNODLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27: (AP) — Canada's first dollar-a-year woman worker for defence probably picked the pleasantest job of any defence worker in the Dominion: Selling Canada to American tourists.

Her calling card introduces her as "Mrs. Basil B. Campbell" with "Department of National War Services" in the lower left corner, and "Ottawa, Canada," the capital and her home, in the lower right.

She likes calling cards, has 700 from famous Americans she's met in her two 1941 assignments to this country. Also she collects sugare cubes for the British and menu cards for herself.

She first pilgrimaged to California because she wanted to learn from Hollywood how to glamorize Canada. She did. She proved that in her second assignment—New York.

Domestic Life

Mrs. Campbell and her husband (Lt.-Col. Basil Campbell) hope to have a scrambled egg breakfast in their own little flat in Ottawa soon on their first wedding anniversary. They don't meet very often now. In August when she left for California, he left for Iceland, in search of places for troops to stay. Because of his army job she takes no pay for her work.

Mrs. Campbell used to work with the Ontario Travel Bureau. Since she's been an international saleswoman, she's been offered radio commercials at fabulous salaries, better-paying government jobs and a Hollywood contract. Hollywood says she looks more like Amelia Earhart.

She spent 15 years in New York City where she earned a graduate nurse diploma. A degree from the Columbia University and excellent defence preparation experience as a social worker. She loves New York and she loves to get away from it. She has lived in Washington, D. C., too.

BOOSTING CANADA

When Mrs. Campbell comes to town, she goes to town. You'll find her chatting about beauty and Canada's business at the Battery, and at the football games.

I caught her leaving a boost-Canada-booth at a convention, talked to her in a taxi to her hotel, snatched more conversation while she primped for a dance. She's made 54 speeches since she started her travel talking.

Made Impression

Mrs. Campbell looks like a Broadway star without too much makeup, acts a little like a Junior Leaguer and a lot like a New York career woman used to getting what she goes after. Her father was English, her mother Tennessee born but likes to be considered a Canadian.

Her sparkling eyes are very blue, her teeth are perfect, she wears her lightbrown hair in a new-cropped pompadourish coiffure. Her figure is modellish-slim and her legs are lovely.

The only cash she spent here was sent her by a cousin in Detroit. Her prize spending was the five-and-ten where she bought nail polish and remover. After all, what can you do with a dollar a year but frame it.

MELBOURNE, Dec. 18: (AP)—Australia has produced her 1,000,000 pair of military boots for Imperial forces overseas, less than five months after she began to supply them.

RAILWAYS ARE BUSY

Will Be Hard-Pressed to Handle All Christmas and New Year Holiday Traffic.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 18:—As many thousands of the armed forces will move over the Canadian Railways during the period between December 22 and January 5, J. A. Brass, secretary of the Canadian Passenger Association, today issued an appeal to the public to assist the railways by endeavoring to arrange their holiday travel plans so as to avoid the days on which movement of traffic will be heaviest owing to military travel.

"The Canadian Railways will be faced with the task of transporting an unprecedented number of passengers during the coming Christmas and New Year holiday," Mr. Brass said. "In addition to an abnormally heavy civilian traffic they will have to transport a large number of the members of our armed forces between December 22 and January 5. The railways will also of course have to take care of heavy shipments of war material throughout the period."

"The traffic and operating officials of the Canadian railways are making the best possible preparation to handle this abnormal traffic but the public is requested to realize the enormous task which confronts the railways and cooperate with them in every possible way.

Special Christmas and New Year holiday fares will be available to the public for travel between December 19 and January 7 and it is urged that those who can do so arrange to schedule their Christmas travel early and assist in avoiding congestion."

There was a small run a few days ago around Pacofi when about two hundred tons was caught in scattered lots but this has since petered out. There were a few signs of herring around Laredo Sound, down the coast, the latter part of last week but the fish disappeared before the seiners arrived.

Veteran football coach, seventy-seven-year-old Jesse (Pop) Warner, whose life has been an action-filled tale of the seas, is back on the job with the U. S. navy, wearing the uniform of a chief boatswain's mate. There are many other once-retired men doing their part in the defence effort, but what makes Warner stand out is that he already has spent 57 years of his life with the navy.

SALMON AS SUBSTITUTE

Might Be Used Instead of Bacon in Britain, Says Local Station

Under the heading "Smoked Salmon—a Possible Partial Substitute for Bacon"—the Pacific Fisheries Experimental Station has prepared an industrial memorandum as follows:

The large quota of bacon required by the British Ministry of Food has made voluntarily curtailed consumption of pork products creates the possibility of an opening for a cheaper, more available article which might, temporarily at least, partially take the place of bacon and ham for domestic use.

Smoked salmon when cured as described has been found to fulfill these requirements to a considerable extent. On the Pacific coast there are large stocks of round frozen chum salmon, a comparatively cheap fish for which there is no great demand in the frozen condition.

Method of Curing

Fresh coho and chum salmon were split and trimmed in the ordinary way, all of the bones being removed. The coho salmon were not skinned before brining. However, after 14 hours smoking the flesh next to the skin was found to be quite soft and too moist, so the sides were then skinned and smoking resumed. As skinning these partially smoked sides was attended with much difficulty owing to the drying out of the skin, the chum salmon were skinned before brining. This was found to be the more satisfactory procedure.

The skinned sides were then brined in saturated salt brine for 30 minutes, the brine being agitated gently from time to time.

On removal from the brine the sides were drained merely for a period sufficient to allow the excess of brine to run off and then spread on wire screen trays (½" mesh) skinned side down. The draining can be carried out on the wire trays themselves.

The trays of fish were then placed in a type "B" controlled smokehouse as developed by the Atlantic Fisheries Experimental Station and described in Progress Reports (Atlantic) No. 19, May, 1937. Smoking proceeded for 16 hours at a smokehouse temperature of 90 degrees F. No preliminary drying period was necessary.

After 16 hours the fish had taken on a rich dark red color with a heavy gloss. The chum salmon compared very favorably with the coho when smoked in this way, the latter having a better color when sliced and somewhat drier texture.

For comparison dry salted sides of chum salmon were prepared by rolling them in fisheries salt and storing them in a waterproof box for about 60 hours. They were then leached in fresh water, which was renewed periodically for a period of 4½ hours, and smoked in the same way as the brined sides.

Observations

It was impossible to distinguish between the brined and the dry salted salmon by appearance after they were smoked. Records of weight differences between the fresh fish before brining and the finished sides showed that the smoking loss for dry salted sides was 28 percent of the original wet side while that of the brined fish was 22 percent.

Timely Recipes

GLAZED SQUASH

Cut crosswise and remove fibre and seeds, scraping the cavity thoroughly. Cut in pieces for serving.

Place squash in a baking pan, skin side down; add a small amount of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 40 minutes, or until soft. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and brown sugar or honey. Dot with butter and glaze under broiler.

MORE LAND IS TAXABLE

Healthy Sign in Civic Affairs—Due in Measure to Return of Property to Tax Roll.

Total valuation of land and improvements on the 1941 assessment roll for the city of Prince Rupert is $9,649,690 as compared with $9,357,135 in 1940, it was announced at the city hall this morning.

Taxable land this year is assessed at $1,613,830 as against $1,537,225 last year and taxable improvements are $3,510,020 in 1941 compared with $3,308,885.

The increase in assessment is a healthy civic sign. It is due in part to increases in some valuations on Third Avenue and also to return of considerable property to the tax role for building purposes as a result of sales during the past year.

TRAINING OF SCOUTS

Former Queen Charlotte Island Man Doing Special War Work in England.

Sniping, observation and scouting tactics are being drilled into First Division men somewhere in England by a Canadian expert in field craft, Major N. A. D. Armstrong of Victoria, explorer, big game hunter, soldier and author, who spent most of his life in the Yukon and who was on the Queen Charlotte Islands for some years after 1907, having been a shipper of ore in the early days from here.

To increase the Canadian's general efficiency and with an eye to the day Canadians may engage in commando-like raids, Major-General G. R. Pearkes, First Division commander, obtained the services of his old friend, who had been instructing in sniping and scouting at a leading British small arms school.

The major now is training a troup of scouts for demonstrations during the winter throughout the division. In every battalion he will show troops how to stalk the enemy on patrols and raids, to use the stalking telescope, to crawl unseen over rough ground, to carry weapons on silent sorties and to take up differing sniping positions.

To Reveal Tactics

Reconnaissance work will be illustrated, along with camouflage and all the sniping tricks of this war and the last.

Apart from his life in the Canadian north, Maj. Armstrong's background for this new job goes back to the last war, when he was head of an "S.O.S." (sniping, observation and scouting) school of the British army.

When the Canadian Corps was formed in 1917, he became commandant of a similar Canadian school and for the last 100 days of the war was chief reconnaissance officer of the corps. He helped with the reconnaissance for the decisive Canadian-Australia-French advance through Amiens.

Before the last war Major Armstrong knew Gen. Pearkes in the Yukon. They met next in France when the general was commanding a Canadian battalion, and they have been firm friends ever since.

Major Armstrong shared in the Klondyke gold rush in his youth, and except during the war, the northland has been his real home for more than 30 years.

Big game hunter, mining man and personal friend of Norman A. Watt, government agent here, whom he knew in the Yukon, Major Armstrong served overseas in the First Great War, enlisting immediately it broke out. At one time he was associated with E. C. Stevens in mining ventures on the Queen Charlotte Islands. Major Armstrong's brother married the great Australian singer, Dame Nellie Melba.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet—you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

MELBOURNE, Dec. 18: (AP)—Confronted with a 7 ft. 6 inchs tall man wishing to enlist in the Australian army the officers realized he would have to have specially made clothes, bed, rations, trenches made deeper and a specially long stretcher if he was wounded. They wired to headquarters for instructions.

PLAYS ARE EXCELLENT

Senior and Junior Dramatic Societies of High School Present Good Entertainment.

The Senior and Junior Dramatic Societies of Booth Memoria. High School staged two excellent Christmas plays in the school auditorium last night. There was a large and appreciative audience and the efforts of the pupils were well received.

The outstanding event of the evening was "The Christmas Carol" (Charles Dickens) by the Junior Dramatic Society which was presented in three scenes in which the three spirits, the ghosts of Christmas Past, Christmas Present and Christmas to Be are trying to get Ebenezer Scrooge to mend his miserly ways. Gwynn Holtby, who played the role of the "hard and sharp as flint" Ebenezer Scrooge, was well suited to his part, and showed much talent in his portrayal. He had a good supporting cast, other principals being Jerry Woodside as Bob Cratchit, his clerk; Hemsby King as Fred, his nephew, and as Ebenezer (Scrooge as a young man); May Skinner as Mrs. Cratchit; Dorothy McLeod and George Anderson as the Cratchit Twins; Betty and Bob; Lydia Watt as Tiny Tim; Archie McLeod as the Ghost of Jacob Marley, and as the First Spirit (the Ghost of Christmas Past) Lenora Raabe as the second spirit (the Ghost of Christmas present) and Inez Berg as the third spirit (the Ghost of Christmas yet to be), Peter Good as Mr. Fezziwig (Scrooge's employer in the past) Leonard Youngman as Dick, his fellow clerk and as Peter, Glenna Moore as Mrs. Fezziwig, Walter Morgan as the Old Fiddler, Ann Stevens as Bella, Joy Berg as Belinda, Eleanor Barber as Martha, and Clifford Knutson as the "Wait," and Betty Pullen as the mission lass.

The costumes in the play were typical of the times portrayed and were very appropriate to the settings.

Cousin From Sweden

The senior play, "My Cousin From Sweden," was a comedy sketch by the girls of the Senior Dramatic Society. The scene opened in the living room of the Mills' home where Nora Thomas, as Anne Mills, and Dorothy Peachey, as Charlotte Mills, her sister, were telling Marion Shepherd, as Karena Shields, all about their Swedish cousin who was coming to visit them and wondering how she would fit in with their plans for the party at the home of May and Gladys Preston, played by Joy Foster and Norah Dougherty, who were their "social life." However, when their cousin, Jeannette Johansen, played by May Skinner, finally arrived, accompanied by Margaret Smith as her maid Hilda, they are eventually surprised to find that she is no different from themselves and has already become closely acquainted with their social friends.

Miss May Jones and Miss A. McKechney directed the junior play and Miss Florence Wilson the senior play.

Miss Young was in charge of the costumes, while John Hougan and Bud Pierce were responsible for the important work of staging.

Principal W. W. C. O'Neill opened the evening's proceedings speaking briefly. Accompanist for the evening was Miss Molly Winslow. Ushers were Solveig Sorenson and Fay Engelke with Mona McRae presiding at the door.

DRAMA IS HISTORIC

"Howards of Virginia" Being Featured at Capitol Theatre This Week-End.

Telling the moving romance between a lusty frontiersman and a gracious Virginia belle, a blood-tingling epic of the American Revolution, "The Howards of Virginia," is being featured this Friday and Saturday at the Capitol Theatre with Cary Grant and Martha Scott in the leading roles.

Grant is the hardy untamed frontiersman who falls in love with the Virginia girl and, with her, builds a home in the wilderness. It is not only a conquest of the soil which makes Grant's part moving but the earnestness and grim determination with which he is willing to give his life and to risk his home and happiness in the fight for American freedom and the struggle for a government in which the majority shall rule and the minority shall have the right to speak freely.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Alan Marshal and Richard Carlson are included in the cast presenting the stirring drama of the struggle between tory aristocracy and the simple man of the soil for the right to build a nation.
