For instance the silk mills at Lyon are producing arachutes for the German air force. In view of this United tates may be reluctant to ask Great Britain to lift the blockade gainst France. It is considered likely that Britain will permit he passage of food and medical supplies from the American Red Cross for the use of French children but not for adults.

INVASION POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, D.C.,—It is felt here that Germany has indefinitely postponed plans for an invasion attempt on Great Britain. The principal menace to Britain now is submarine and bombing attack on shipping.

HAMBURG HARD HIT

Royal Air Force Continues All Out Offensive With Biggest Attack Yet

LONDON, March 14: — The Royal Air Force continued its all-out air offensive against Germany last night. The important German port of Hamburg was singled out for the heaviest single bombing attack which British planes have delivered since the war began. The Air Ministry announced that the attack was an "outstanding success." From other quarters it was learned that devastating damage had been done. Shipbuilding establishments, dockyards, warehouses, and other important objectives were hit. A full moon favored the British attack.

Off the Frisian Islands British planes bombed and sank a German supply ship.

The Royal Air Force attack kept up today on Channel invasion ports.

Six British planes were lost during the night.

In Berlin German authorities, while admitting a heavy raid on Hamburg, minimized, as usual, the damage to military objectives but asserted that fifty patients and nurses had been killed in the bombing of two hospitals in Hamburg.

THE STRATEGISTS CONFER

Prime Minister Mr. Churchill and Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton are completely absorbed in their study of a military map at Canadian Corps Headquarters.

GLASGOW ASSAILED BY NAZIS

Liverpool Also Subjected to Another Heavy Bombing Attack Last Night

LONDON, March 14:—Liverpool, for the second successive night, and Glasgow were heavily attacked by Nazi bombers last night.

The raid on Liverpool was of ferocity equal to that of Wednesday night. Tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped and damage was quite extensive. (Germany claimed a devastating four-mile corridor had been blasted in the dock and shipbuilding area.)

Waves of German planes came over Glasgow for hours in the longest and heaviest raid the Scottish port has had in months. Many buildings were hit and there were heavy casualties. Fire fighters did valiant and effective work in extinguishing fires set by the incendiaries.

Other areas of Scotland were pounded and an unnamed northeast English town was also heavily attacked for hours.

There was much greater resistance than formerly to the raiders and at least five bombers were brought down. A new secret defensive weapon is said to be functioning admirably.

Skies were clear and favorable for bombing activities.

TURKEY AND YUGOSLAVIA

Ottoman Empire Ready to Aid if Belgrade and Athens Stand Firm against Axis

BREAKDOWN REPORTED

BERNE, Switzerland, March 14: —It was reported today that negotiations between YugoSlavia and Germany had broken down owing to YugoSlavia's refusal to permit the passage of Nazi troops over her territory. Turkey will intervene if YugoSlavia is attacked.

ISTANBUL, March 14.— An official broadcast over the Turkish radio last night said that, if Yugo Slavia resists German aggression, Turkey will fulfil her obligation and render effective aid to both YugoSlavia and Greece. However, if YugoSlavia does not resist, Turkey may feel herself released from the agreement. She will, nevertheless, resist any aggression on her own territory. The people of Turkey were assured that defences were adequate to cope with any emergency. It was not expected Germany would make any deliberate attack on Turkey.

Meanwhile in Belgrade the YugoSlav government continued efforts to appease Germany without bowing outright to the Rome-Berlin axis. Germany is demanding a forthright answer from YugoSlavia in regard to her position and a Nazi plane is reported standing by to take YugoSlav officials to Vienna to confer with Chancellor Hitler and Nazi authorities. The YugoSlav Premier and foreign minister were to have left tomorrow but it is doubtful if they will get away before next week. Instead of joining the Axis outright, YugoSlavia, it is said, might be disposed to a compromise agreement of non-aggression, eternal friendship and economic relationship with the Reich.

Italian Offensive Fails Miserably Under Eyes Of Il Duce; 14 Planes Down

ATHENS, March 14: (CP)—Royal Air Force headquarters announced today that fourteen Italian fighter planes were shot down and a number of others badly damaged yesterday in a fierce battle over the Klisura-Tepelini sector f the Albanian front without a single British loss. The Royal Air Force also carried out a successful bombing attack on the airdrome at the port of Valona.

Greek dispatches declared that five Italian divisions had been shattered in Italian offensives launched in the last seven days in response to Premier Benito Mussolini's reported adjuration to his officers to "do something."

Instead, however, the Italian offensive crumbled and bogged down under the very eyes of Il Duce who was forced to witness his troops be either shot down or surrender to the Greeks.

Large forces of Fascist infantry, air force and artillery thrown into the fight have proven unavailing.

Where Will Japan Strike? - - -

Japan is now concentrating troops on Hainan Island in the China Sea and in French Indo-China. Units of her navy are in the Gulf of Siam and anchored at Saigon in the south of Indo-China. Japan is almost certainly putting pressure on Thailand to allow her to establish bases in that country. From these new vantage points in the south, where is she most likely to strike?

The Dutch East Indies and British Malaya are the richest colonial territories in the world and Japan would certainly like them. The most adjacent prize is Borneo, largely owned by the Dutch with British territory in the north. It is sparsely populated and rich in oil. It is defended by the Dutch air patrols and small land forces and the Dutch have laid careful plans to wreck all the oil-wells before they can fall into the hands of the Japanese. But before stretching out towards Borneo Japan would have to be sure that her long line of cmmunication and supply would not be cut off from Hong Kong or from Singapore and she would have to be sure that the Americans would not strike at her from the Philippines.

Hong Kong would have to be seized first. It is an island at the mouth of the Canton River with territory on the mainland chosen for strategical reasons. As the Japanese are in virtual control of the mainland here, some sources believe Hong Kong would have to be abandoned. The British authorities have insisted that they will hold out. Even if Hong Kong held out only six weeks it would have served the very useful purpose of allowing preparations to be carried out farther south and possibly to allow the American fleet to steam to Singapore, a voyage which would take about six weeks.

Singapore Important - - -

If Japan gains a stronger foothold in Thailand, Burma will be exposed to attack, although her long border with Thailand is almost impenetrable. Rangoon is only an hour and twenty minutes bombing time from Bangkok in Thailand and Rangoon is the port of entry for supplies which move along the Burma Road to the Chinese capital of Chungking. Because of its geographical contacts with Free China, Burma would be an important country in the event of Britain's declaring war on China's enemy and one which Japan could not afford to neglect. But Japan could not proceed very for with air defence forces and anti-aircraft, surrounded by submerged reefs and waters recently mined, ringed by 18-inch guns that fire shells 25 miles—a longer range than that of battleships—Singapore would be very difficult to seize by sea and air attack. It might conceivably be taken by land attack from the rear but not without great difficulty. It is an island joined by a causeway to the narrow Malayan peninsula. Its hinterland is jungle. As there is completely inadequate rail or road connection from present Japanese bases to Malaya, forces would have to be landed on the peninsula from naval vessels and transports. This might be done by creeping along the Thai coast to the narrow isthmus in the centre of the peninsula which is Thai territory. But such forces would be under fire from British Burma and from the fortified island of Penang just off the west coast of Malaya. Singapore could be bombed from Saigon in Indo-China where the Japanese are already establishing themselves. The distance is about 400 miles, roughly the distance from London to Berlin. In this way they could possibly damage the great base but capturing it is another matter. Certainly they would be facing a type of aerial opposition unlike anything they have yet experienced.

HARD BOUTS ARE FOUGHT

Much Action In Military Elimination Matches Last Night

Over two hundred excited fans watched the boys fight it out in the armories last night to place in the finals. Four elimination bouts packed full of stiff punches amused the eager fans and sometimes broght smiles to even the fighters themselves.

In the first bout featherweight Hunter of the 102nd Battery won a technical knockout over Phillips of the Second Searchlight Battery. Hunter's continual right jabs to the jaw weakened Phillips to the extent that the fight was called in one minute and twenty seconds of the second round. Phillips was game to the last.

In the second bout of the lightweight class, Parkinson of the Rocky Mountain Rangers cleverly outboxed Hannah of the 102nd Battery. This fight was very interesting to watch with both fighters exchanging good stiff rights to the head and body in the second round. Parkinson showed more experience in the ring in both footwork and ability to dodge. The fight ended with Parkinson taking the final honors.

In the third elimination bout which was of the welterweight class Keith of the Royal Canadian Air Force took a good decision over Sgt. MacNeill of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals. This fight was amusing to watch as both men were seemingly new recruits to the manly art. Keith continually worried MacNeill with short quick jabs to the chin. The fight ended with the two game boys using each other as leaning posts. All in all this fight was interesting to watch.

The fourth bout in the middleweight division was the most interesting to watch with Brown of the Air Force getting a very close decision over Junker of the 102nd. Both fighters showed previous experience in the manly art. Brown, having the advantage of height and reach, was able to worry with jabs to the chin his opponent, Junker. Junker, when getting in close, delivered some very effective punches. The gong at the end of the third and final round found both fighters delivering good stiff blows.

The evening's bouts were capably supervised by Lieut. Gray, sports officer of the Rocky Mountain Rangers. He was assisted by Lieut. J. F. Graves who announced the bouts. Flying Officer Christie acted as timekeeper. The judges for the bouts were Lieut. H. G. Kennedy of the Second Searchlight Battery, Bombardier Collins, Second Searchlight Battery, Corporal F. Davidson, Rocky Mountain Rangers, and Lance-Corporal W. Cook of the R. M. R.

The finals tonight at the Armories should prove very interesting as the winners will fight it out for a chance at the Pacific championship later on in the month in Vancouver.

CURLING IS CONCLUDED

Keen Interest Taken In Two More Important Trophy Competitions At Smithers

SMITHERS, March 14:— Carrying over the winter activities into the lap of spring, the Smithers Curling Club completed its season and the final competition of the winter on Sunday evening when the Ward Carey rink defeated the rink skipped by Art Simpson in the final of the Red Cross bonspiel and carried away the pen and pencil sets presented through Eby's Hardware at Smithers for this competition.

There were twelve rinks still left in this competition when play started on Sunday morning. After a fairly cold night the ice was in fair condition for the first few games but, as the day wore on, the ice got wet. During the afternoon only the heaviest hurlers could get the rocks to the hog line. For the final game at 9 p.m. the ice had hardened up again so that it was possible to use a little technique in the game instead of depending entirely on main strength.

The Simpson rink was curling its fourth game of the day in this series when it came to the finals while the Cary rink was much fresher and this no doubt contributed somewhat to the final outcome.

The members of the winning rink were Mrs. William Thompson, Della Carpenter, Dr. R. B. Brummitt and skip Carey Ward.

There were ninety six curlers taking part in the Red Cross bonspiel, each rink being made up of two men and two ladies.

On Saturday evening the finals in the suspended Lucky Lager bonspiel were played off between the rinks skipped by Sam Nutter and Art Simpson. This resulted in a win for the Nutter rink, the other members of this rink being Wiggs O'Neill, M. Nott and Mr. Dale.

Hope of finishing those two contests had about been given up when a change in the temperature hardened up the ice over the week-end and quick advantage was taken of this favorable weather.

The season has been one of the best ever experienced by the Curling Club in every way. The ice was kept in fine condition throughout the winter by Percy Davidson and William Duff and much enthusiasm was shown by the many new players as well as by the old stand-bys.

Y.M.C.A. DOES GOOD WORK

Is Spending Over $10,000 Per Year Among Forces Stationed At Prince Rupert

Amusement for the soldiers, sailors and airmen of the Canadian forces is splendidly organized by the Young Men's Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association, Canadian Legion, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and Daughters of the Empire and in Prince Rupert each of these organizations is functioning and doing splendid work among the forces.

It is not generally appreciated that the Y. M. C. A. alone is spending in the Prince Rupert area over $10,000 per year. Among its activities are moving picture shows, which are shown twice weekly in the various camps, and the "Y" spends monthly over $300 for picture rentals alone. Two latest model movie machines have been purchased for this district at a cost of $1,000 each.

Thousands of dollars worth of sporting equipment has been assembled and mostly distributed among the various units.

The Y. M. C. A. has here a permanent staff of two who are kept very busy organizing sports, entertainment parties, etc, and this staff is supplemented from time to time. This excellent work is supported by voluntary contributions which gives greater efficiency. It is free from the red tape of officialdom.

REPORT ON CAMPAIGN

Meeting Of Local War Savings Organization Hears How Drive is Going

A meeting of the War Savings committee was held in the Council Chamber last evening. In attendance were representatives of the organizations which have taken part in the War Savings campaign. W. M. Watts was in the chair.

Mr. Watts stated that the canvass of the residential and business districts had now been completed except for Westview and the downtown residences. Two hundred and five pledges had been received by this canvass to date, aggregating $944 a month. These included 44 pledges taken in from the Chinese residents of the city aggregating $232 a month and 23 pledges from the members of the Sons of Norway for $172 a month. In this organization nine members, in addition, have made immediate cash purchases amounting to $1628.

Preliminary reports by representatives of the Japanese organizations indicated that they had obtained a very high coverage among their members. A complete report will be provided by them within the next day or so.

The opinion was expressed that the house to house canvass had not given the results that might have been expected of it but the chairman pointed out that many householders were being contacted through the Employer-Employee co-operation plan and that, in other homes, quite high purchases were being made weekly through the school children who were all highly war savings conscious.

For the Employer-Employee co-operation committee, Frank Derry reported that it was still too early to give any definite digures but that practically all large firms were now organizing this plan on their payrolls. Considerable preliminary work has been done in particular on the Canadian National Railways, at the Dry Dock, Cold Storage and in the provincial government and municipal payrolls. The responsible officials for these organizations had shown every desire to co-operate with the committee and there was no question that a high volume of War Savings would be sold continuously when these concerns had completed their organizations of the plan.

On behalf of the executive of the War Savings committee, Mr. Watts extended his thanks to the organizations and their canvassers who had assisted in the campaign.
