U.S. slowed in Pan-Am games

B.C. Athletes win medals

CHICAGO (CP)—The Americans have been boasting that they've assembled the greatest track and field squad in history here. But there are a few countries in these Pan-American Games, including Canada, ready to argue.

Merrily rolling along, busting records and crowding the victory rostrum, their headlong rush came to a startling temporary standstill Tuesday night.

Responsible were three Trinidad runners, a Cuban beauty, a Brazilian miss and three Canadian girls.

NO AMERICANS

For the first time since the track and field program started last Friday, the Americans failed to place a representative on the three-platform dias to receive a medal. It happened twice—in the men's 400-metre final and the women's 80-metre hurdles.

The Canadians didn't win any gold medals but the tracksters won one silver and two bronze to make it a total of two silver and six bronze for the 175-athlete team at the halfway mark in the 12-day games. Track-field accounted for the two silvers and four bronze.

Bob Bedard, who has become known as the upset expert of the courts during the current tournament, assured Canada of another medal—gold or silver—by qualifying for the tennis singles final, being played today.

The 27-year-old teacher from Sherbrooke, Que., battled to the big one by defeating fifth-seeded Francisco Contreras of Mexico in the semi-finals Tuesday, 1-5, 6-2, 7-5.

Silver medalist Alice Whitty, Vancouver veteran of Olympic and British Empire Games competition, threatened to "go out and get disgusted" after her high jump of a meagre four feet, 11 inches earned her a second-place tie. The mark was possibly the lowest jump to win a medal in international competition.

"I don't know what happened," said Miss Whitty. "The whole field was terrible. I jumped five feet one inch when I was 14 years old and now—4-11.

The other Canadian medal winners were jubilant. Marian Munroe of Richmond Hill, Ont., shed tears of joy when she realized she was third in the hurdles, just a whisker behind Brazil's Vanda Dos Santos. Winner Berta Diaz of Cuba, set a record 11.2 seconds.

IDENTICAL TIMES

The hurdles was the most thrilling race of the night as Misses Munroe, Barbara Mueller of the U.S. and Pat Power of Vancouver, fifth, were all clocked in 11.5.

"As soon as I realized I'd won a medal, the tears started flowing," said the 17-year-old Miss Munroe.

Sally McCallum of Vernon, B.C., who was eighth and last in the hurdles, "choked up with a big lump in the throat" as the band played O Canada when she mounted the rostrum to accept the bronze medal for her third in the women's 200-metre final. Her 24.8 mark broke the old Pan-American record.

FIVE BREAK RECORD

Helen Stewart Hunt of Vancouver qualified for the final women's 100-metre freestyle but it was a tight squeeze. The defending champion in the event, she saw her 1955 championship time of 1:07.7 bettered by five swimmers, including Margaret Iwasaki of Vancouver.

Mrs. Hunt, returning to competitive swimming this season after a year's layoff, was in second place by a touch after 50 metres but faded 30 yards from home and finished fourth in 1:08.5. Margaret Iwasaki finished third in another heat.

San Jose, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Chavez, 140, San Jose, outpointed Teddy Red Top Davis, 139, San Jose, (10).

Boxing probe results to be released today

By MILT MacPHAIL

TORONTO (CP) — The story of California's investigation of the criminal element in boxing in that state is to be unfolded today at the 40th annual convention of the National Boxing Association.

Underworld figure Frankie Carbo, suspected of being an undercover kingpin in American boxing, expected to be prominently mentioned in a report by Harry Falk of the California state athletic commission.

"This Carbo business is a lot bigger than many people in boxing realize," Falk said in an interview Tuesday night.

The California commission, in co-operation with District Attorney Frank Hogan's office in New York, spent more than a year investigating criminal infiltration of California boxing. NBA commissioner Abe Greene planned to outline his views on a pension plan for boxers.

A starter for a pension plan was detailed Tuesday by Harry Markson, director of boxing at Madison Square Garden, New York.

He said the garden was prepared to set up a pension plan for boxers fighting main events on the Friday night TV shows.

The Garden would contribute $100, which would be matched by the fighters and the TV sponsor.

"Some sort of pension system has to come," Markson said.

"Boxers must be regarded as professional athletes, not ruffians without a future."

The need for a pension plan, concrete steps to eliminate underworld activity in boxing, and greater unity between NBA members were stressed Tuesday by Greene.

Canadian tour for Russian hockey team

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A Russian hockey team will definitely play a series of exhibition games in Canada this winter, Leo Atwell, B.C. Amateur Hockey Association president, said here Tuesday.

He said word of the tour has been received from Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officials.

The Russian team has not been chosen, but the CAHA is urging Russian officials to send their Olympic team.

In previous years, the Russians have played only in Eastern Canada, Mr. Atwell said, but this year most of the games are to be played in Western Canada.

Since the only senior hockey leagues in Western Canada are in British Columbia, this province hopes to arrange as many as four games, he said.

Dates and sites of the games are expected to be announced before the BCAHA annual meeting in Vernon, Sept. 18, 19 and 20.

Sacramento, Calif. (AP) — Mike DeJohn, 205, Syracuse, N.Y., knocked out Duke Sabedong, 217¾, Hawaii, (5).

Dick Hall collects 18th PCL victory as Bees down Giants, Mounties lose

By The Associated Press

Dick Hall was looking mighty tall to the Pacific Coast League's Salt Lake City Bees Wednesday, in more ways than one.

Hall, a six foot, six inch right-hander who was on the inactive list in 1958, has come back to win 18 games for the Bees this year, including Tuesday night's 4-2 victory over the Phoenix Giants. He's lost only four games.

The decision, on Hall's eight-hitter, gave the first-place Bees a one-game cushion over Vancouver Mounties, who were edged 1-0 by Portland Beavers.

EIGHT HITS

The Spokane Indians used the home run to batter Seattle into submission 3-1 and the Sacramento Solons shaded San Diego's Padres 3-2.

Hall, a righthander who weighs in at 200 pounds, gave the Giants eight hits, including Jay Van Noy's solo homer in the sixth and Owen Friend's one-run double in the ninth. Hall struck out 11 batters and walked only one.

The Bees gave him all the runs he needed with a three-run outburst in the third inning.

Howie Reed was the Portland winner, beating Chuck Estrada of the Mounties in a battle of six - hitters. Reed struck out five and walked two. Estrada fanned 10 and issued three walks. The hit that beat Estrada was Milt Graff's two-out single in the fifth inning, that scored Lennie Neal with the only run of the contest.

26th HOMER

The Indians got home runs out of Steve Bilko, his 26th, in the sixth frame and Tony Roig in the seventh, both bases-empty shots. Bob Thurman got a four-play for the Rainiers in the fourth. Art Fowler was the winner. He gave Seattle five hits and three walks while striking out four.

Mike Krsnich was the big man in Sacramento's victory. The hard hitting leftfielder slammed out three hits in three trips including a pair of doubles, and scored two runs. Jake Striker, seeking his sixth straight victory for the Padres, was the loser. Roger Osenbaugh won it for the Solons.
