GRIM REAPER CLAIMED MANY NOTED ATHLETES IN 1912

A MULTITUDE OF CONSPICUOUS FIGURES IN BASEBALL, GOLF, ROWING, ETC., REMOVED BY DEATH—BRUSH AND RUHLIN.

In the year just closed many conspicuous figures in the world of sport and athletics have been removed by death. Baseball, pugilism, golf, swimming, rowing and the turf—all have lost noted leaders during the past twelve months.

On professional baseball was levied the heaviest toll by the Grim Reaper. Heading the list of the dead appears the name of John T. Brush, owner of the New York Giants, and generally recognized as the "master mind" of the National League.

The year's losses among the active players and old time stars of the diamond included the following: Arthur ("Bugs") Raymond, formerly pitcher for the New York Giants; Jimmy Doyle, third baseman of the Chicago Cubs; Clarence ("Cupid") Childs, who made his greatest reputation with the Cleveland Nationals; Sam Barclay, a star player with the St. Louis Browns in the early '80's; Charles ("Lefty") Marr, who played with the Cincinnati Reds in 1890-1; Frank Gray ("Piggy") Ward, another old National Leaguer; William J. Finley, who caught for the New York Giants in 1889; Al Barker, who umpired for the National League in the early '70's; Edward Ashenbach, a scout for the Cincinnati Club and the reputed discoverer of Pitcher Mathewson; "Ace" Stewart, once a player with the Chicago Nationals; "Tug" Arundel, who caught for Indianapolis and Washington in the old National League; H. H. Blakeley, at one time a pitcher for the Athletics; George Amole, for several years a star twirler in the old Atlantic League; Edward Sales, at one time a player with the Pittsburgh Nationals; Jimmy Knowles, who had played with many eastern clubs and later in his career managed teams.

Gus Ruhlin, the old time heavyweight fighter, and Johnny Reagan, the former lightweight champion, were the conspicuous losses in pugilism. Other fighters and ex-fighters who died during the year were Jack O'Keefe, an old time Chicago lightweight; Dave Holly, a colored lightweight, well known a decade or more ago; Paul Mohler, a Cleveland welterweight of promise; Jack Flanagan, the Cambridge lightweight, and Charles Ellis, a negro welterweight who met death in a bout in Cleveland on February 22nd.

Other noted leaders in various branches of sport who passed away in 1912 were Mrs. Bernard C. Horne (Bessie Anthony), former holder of the woman's National golf championship; "Billy" Delaney, the famous trainer of pugilists; Frank Moran, former partner and manager of John L. Sullivan; Hugh G. Keough (Hek), well known Chicago sporting writer; Louis Uedemann, three times western chess champion; Eddie Hasha, holder of several world's records for motorcycle racing.

SUTTON IS ANXIOUS TO REGAIN THE TITLE

Feels He is "Coming Back" in Two Big Matches—Changes His Style.

January and February of the New Year should be interesting months for the billiard fans throughout the United States. The first of the championship matches will be that at Pittsburgh on the night of January 18th for the 181 emblem between Ora Morningstar, the champion at this open game, and George Sutton of Chicago, challenger and former holder of the title. Win or lose in the Smoky City, Sutton, striving to retrieve his lost laurels, will return to Chicago and, making new chalk lines on his private table, will get down to preparatory work for his championship match at New York with William F. Hoppe at the Hotel Astor on the night of February 5th. This match, also of 500 points, will be for the 182 crown which adorns the head of the affable young New York wizard who successfully defended his title in the recent New York tournament and who will be a big favorite when he faces his old rival, Sutton.

Sutton, by the way, may prove a worthy foe of both Morningstar and Hoppe. George still is smarting under the defeat administered by Ora when the latter lifted from him the 181 emblem at Chicago last spring, and he is determined to turn the table on his conqueror. To accomplish this end Sutton has completely changed his method of practice, and instead of playing alone, the black ball against the white, as is his wont, he has arranged a real match of 4,000 points with Calvin Demarest. They will play 300 points each afternoon and evening. All the games will be played at Sutton's room.

Sutton is in good health and of late he has been in excellent stroke. Years ago he beat Hoppe in a New York tournament with an average of 100 flat for 500 points. That performance established a world's record that still stands, the nearest approach to it being Hoppe's recent century average at Philadelphia in a 600 point game with George F. Slosson of New York.

Sutton actually feels that he has "come back" to his old form, and if he beats Demarest in their 4,000 point match the portly expert will journey to Pittsburgh confident of taking Morningstar into camp.

THE AFTERMATH

Usually the day following Christmas brings with it unpleasant recollections of friends who have been inadvertently overlooked in the matter of Christmas gifts. Isn't it fortunate that New Year's Day follows so closely and gives us an opportunity to make amends for our oversights during the Christmas rush. While the past week's shopping made very heavy inroads into our stock, the assortments in each line are practically unbroken. We have a large range of beautiful things for New Year's gifts.
