Conrad PTA installs new executive

The new executive of the Conrad School Parent-Teachers Association was installed at the first meeting of the season held Wednesday. Mrs. J. F. Denning, immediate past president conducted the installation.

Those taking office were: Mrs. A. J. Bussanich, president; Mrs. J. F. Denning, vice-president; Mrs. Terry Ezaki, treasurer; Mrs. D. G. Martin, secretay; Mrs. T. F. Bennett, publicity; Mrs. Jens Knudsen, well-baby clinic; Mrs. W. B. Ewen, PT council; Mrs. Karl Lundstrom and Mrs. R. E. Hurst, social convenors; Mrs. L. N. Yaremchuk, membership; Mrs. Adolph Steigleder, programme; and T. G. Bateman, safety.

A report on the PT bursary was given by Mrs. Steigleder.

The principal, Mr. Bateman, introduced the teachers to the members. He mentioned that well-known teacher Miss Norma Irving was ill in a Vancouver hospital, and it was agreed to send "Get well wishes" to her there.

The attendance pennant was won by Miss Patricia Thomas' class.

A buzz session on the question "What would we like to hear discussed at PTA?" followed the business.

The meeting closed with a social coffee hour.

Farewell gifts given members

Members of the congregation of the First Baptist Church gathered in the lower hall after the service Sunday night to honor one of their group who is leaving shortly to make her home in Vancouver. She is Mrs. Rose Gay of 1144 Hays Cove Avenue.

Mrs. Gay came to Prince Rupert from her home in the Orkney Islands in 1914 to marry Joseph Gay. Mr. Gay was a well-known fisherman and employee of the fisheries department here until his death in 1953.

Mrs. Gay has three children, Mrs. Josephine Hansen who lives in Prince Rupert, Mrs. Isabel Holtom is in Vancouver, and son Mitchell is with the fisheries department stationed in Victoria. There are eight grandchildren.

Rev. J. A. Roskam, pastor of the church, presented a picture of a Prince Rupert sunset to Mrs. Gay.

Also presented with farewell gifts were nurses Miss Emma Autajay and Miss Marina Javier who each received a souvenir spoon.

Miss Autajay and Miss Javier have been at the Prince Rupert General Hospital for six months. With a friend, nurse Miss Eva Sotelo, they are leaving at the end of the month for Shaughnessy Hospital in Vancouver. The three nurses are working in various parts of Canada to see the country before returning to their home in the Phillipine Islands.

TWELVE - POUND HOME - GROWN TURNIPS are proudly displayed here by Knut Uggla of Dodge Cove to Daily News social reporter Phyllis Bowman. A Swedish fisherman, Mr Uggla attributes the success of his garden to his Irish wife, Wilvery, at their home on Digby Island. Mrs. Uggla also grows cauliflowers, cabbage, potatoes, onions, leeks and parsley successfully in her outdoor garden. Mr. Uggla brought the turnips to the Daily News yesterday to prove that Prince Rupert gardens can produce as big, or bigger, vegetables as are grown anywhere in the world, and he claims that the soil and climate here are just right.
