Roosevelt Park PTA to disband for year

There will be no parent-teacher's association meetings held this year at Roosevelt Park School, it was decided last night at a meeting in the school attended by 65 parents and teachers.

Chairman William Dibben said the PTA was now a money-raising organization and that as it exists today was of very little value to the teachers and parents. Schools were well-stocked with materials and supplies and there was no need to raise money. Mr. Dibben said that the PTA program should be drastically revised, or let rest for a year.

Principal of the school, C. F. Greenhough, gave a tentative program which he said he and his staff could carry out this year in lieu of a PTA. Mr. Greenhough said the school had held a meeting with the Grade I pupils' parents in September which had 100 per cent attendance and co-operation from the parents. He thought that such a meeting had far more value than an ordinary PTA meeting with a general program.

The principal said that teacher-parent conferences would be held in November, but only the parents of Grades 4, 5 and 6 pupils who were having problems or difficulties would be called for conferences. The other parents of students in these grades would receive report cards as usual.

There would be the usual open house day during Education Week in March, Mr. Greenhough reported, and there would be a meeting of future Grade 1 pupils and parents in May or early June. In this way parents could be told what the school expected of their child, and what he would be taught.

After a lively discussion, the meeting overwhelmingly voted to discontinue PTA meetings this year.

Before the meeting, more than 100 parents visited the classrooms and the teachers, and to observe the pupils' handwork and books which were out on display.

At the beginning of the meeting, Mr. Greenhough presented a past-president's pin to Mrs. Lloyd Bowman, who had been president of the PTA for two years.

Two new courses offered at night school

"Philosophy is a New Key" is a course being offered at night school Thursday nights at the Booth Memorial Junior High School, conducted by Rev. Dr. R. W. K. Elliott. This course includes a study of religions of the world, past and present.

Another new course being offered is "Living Room Learning" which will be given in some home every Wednesday night.

The program of unique educational experience for adults is sponsored and prepared by the University Extension Department. It entails round - table discussions guided by leaders with specially prepared stimulating books. New interests may be found in this course and subjects may be thoroughly discussed.

Subjects offered are: An Introduction to the Humanities, The Challenge of Modern Living, Shakespeare and His Theatre, Music That Tells a Story, Discovering Modern Poetry, Canada and World Affairs, and The Ways of Mankind.

Persons wishing to have such a discussion in their living room, may phone 5112, 5088 or 3114.

Iain White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald White of 1811 Sixth Avenue East, returned on Tuesday from a three - day Anglican Young People's convention at Chilliwack. Iain is the president of the AYPA at St. Peter's and represented northern B.C. at the convention.

New activities start at Civic Centre

Several new activities are off to a good start at the Civic Centre this season.

On Tuesdays at 8 p.m., instructors Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert are teaching the waltz, the quick step, the slow foxtrot, the rhumba, the tango and the valetta.

On Thursdays at 8 p.m. there is a table tennis club for adults, and they hope to form a Table Tennis League later on.

There were 70 children at the Junior Square Dancing Jamboree held Friday evening. The boy's prize for bringing out three new members went to Stephen Smith, and the girl's prize was tied by Anita Ferguson, Nellie DeWitt, Rosalee Mahaira and Rose Perkins. Dancing and contest winners were Hannas Alid and Rosalee Mahaira.

Thirty-two members attended the beginner's class Saturday morning.

Other new classes beginning this week are the weaving class at 8 p.m. Thursday and the junior coppercraft class on Monday at 7 p.m.

Baby baptized at Annunciation

Gerald David were the names given to the three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Morison, 744 Sixth Avenue West, at a baptismal service held Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Annunciation.

Rev. C. Murphy officiated at the service and godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Young.

The tiny principal wore a nylon and lace dress made by his grandmother, Mrs. Robert Morison. The dress was trimmed with val lace and had tiers of angel lace on the skirt.

A tea at the home of the parents followed the ceremony.

Square dancing starts Monday

Young people from the ages of 13 to 16 years have been invited to attend the square dancing classes at St. Peter's Church hall which start Monday night at 7:30.

The classes will be open for registration the next two Mondays, and the dances will be held every other Monday after that.

Arthur Sweet is the caller, and there is a charge of 10 cents per person for the hour-long lesson.

Brownies plan revel

Brownies are reminded to attend the "Brownie Revel" which is being held at the Armouries on Sixth Avenue West on Saturday starting at 1:30 p.m.

Every Brownie, whether enrolled or not, is invited to have "afternoon tea" and see an interesting film and join in a singsong.

There will be a charge of 25 cents for each girl attending.
