Christmas seals to go on sale in city soon

The Honorable Eric Martin, minister of Health Services and Hospital Insurance recently turned truck driver. While the minister's status with the Teamster's Union was unknown his temporary driving status was approved by all. The occasion was the dedication of a new $10,500 mobile TB clinic.

Over $100,000 worth of mobile clinics have been provided by the B.C. TB Society. They are a familiar sight from Victoria to Fort St. John and from Prince Rupert to Fernie. Their aim is simple but huge — to bring a free TB skin test and chest X-ray to every man, woman and child in British Columbia. "Operation Doorstep," the type of survey conducted in B.C. was praised by the minister as being a "model of how these things can be done by co-operation between the Department of Health and the Christmas Seal organization."

During 1960-61 complete TB surveys have been conducted in Penticton, Kamloops, Prince George, Vancouver, New Westminster, Alberni, Port Alberni, Vernon, Salmon Arm, Revelstoke, Enderby, Armstrong, Richmond and North Burnaby. Over 160,000 people have passed through the doors of the Christmas Seal clinics during this time. Plans for 1961-62 call for surveys in Coquitlam, Vanderhoof, Burns Lake, Smithers, Terrace, Kitimat, Prince Rupert and Vancouver.

This service is an extremely important one. It provides not only a survey for TB but for any chest disease that can be diagnosed from a chest X-ray—lung cancer, enlarged hearts and several others.

So, take advantage of the service and buy and use Christmas Seals. It seems a very small price to pay.

In Prince Rupert, Christmas Seals are being mailed out this week by the Ladies of the Royal Purple.

Prevention of tuberculosis is not only highly desirable but also a good deal cheaper. It is estimated that it costs over 30 million dollars for the treatment of tuberculosis patients in Canada. Prevention costs the time for you to have your free TB skin test and chest X-ray, and the $1.28 cents it costs to provide it.

Former local girl married in Vancouver

A former Prince Rupert girl, Norma Christina Johnsen, and Bernard Paul Loehndorf, were married at St. Joseph's Church in Vancouver on October 21.

The bride wore a sheer nylon-over-satin ballerina-length dress featuring a scooped neckline trimmed with pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride's sisters, Miss Edna Johnsen and Miss Linda Johnsen, were bridesmaids. They wore pastel cocktail - length dresses with floppy hats to match.

The best man was Joseph Loehndorf, brother of the groom. Ushers were Gerald Loehndorf, cousin of the groom, Clifford Johnsen, brother of the bride, and Frank Schnitzler.

At a reception held at the Arlington Hall, the bride's mother wore an off-white brocade sheath dress to receive the 135 guests.

For a honeymoon plane trip to Saskatchewan, the bride donned a royal blue suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Loehndorf is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jullus Johnsen of 600 Fourth Avenue East, and was born here.

She received all her schooling in the city and graduated from Booth Memorial High School in 1956. After working at the Oceanside Cannery for a few months, she went to Vancouver to work as a stenographer for Massey-Ferguson Limited.

Mr. Loehndorf is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Loehndorf of Allan, Sask., and is parts manager with an equipment firm.

They will live at Suite 105, 639 Eighth Avenue East, in Vancouver.

Woman enjoys skeet shooting

MONTREAL (CP)—The idea that if you can't beat them, join them, prompted Mrs. Donald Ruddick to take up her husband's hobby, skeet shooting.

"I've seen more of my husband in the last four years than in the previous 15," said Mrs. Ruddick, who started when she accompanied Dr. Ruddick to a medical convention that included a skeet shoot.

"I just loved it. I was lucky, I guess, because my first score was 11 out of a round of 25. Then my score began to climb. Mind you, for the last year I haven't been able to hit a barn door with a shovel."

Seal Cove PTA hears report

A report of the recent regional conference held in Smithers and a discussion and vote of topics for programs for future meetings were the highlights of the meeting of the Seal Cove Parent-Teacher's Association held last Monday.

In her report of the conference, Mrs. A. L. Bell, regional representative, said that two of the subjects discussed were the defining of PTA objectives and the planning of programs.

Following the report, a discussion period followed and the members picked out and voted on subjects which they would like to hear discussed.

During the business session, the new executive, headed by president Ernest Tubb, was installed by Mrs. Bell.

It was decided to have a bake sale in the near future, convened by Mrs. Ernest Tubb, Mrs. Charles Nicholson, Mrs. R. R. Whiteley, Mrs. John Cochrane and Mrs. R. E. Wagner.

Proceeds from this sale will be used to buy library books for the school and to make scholastic awards to the top students.

THREE PANEL members stand with Mrs. William Murdock, president of the Prince Rupert Cancer Society at the forum held at King Edward School last night. Nearly 600 women attended the meeting to see a film and to ask the doctors questions afterwards. Left to right are: Dr. G. P. Evans, Dr. Nellie Aversperg, Mrs. Murdock and Dr. R. B. Smith.

When a pair of coffee mugs have matching designs, they're Mugmates. Mugmates belong to best friends, people who like to share friendly talk over steaming cups of coffee.

These smiling Mugmates belong to a girl and her best beau. In the mugs? Hot coffee. Surrounding them? Stacks of delicious Peanut Brownies — enough for a whole crowd of Mugmates!

PEANUT BROWNIES

¼ cup buttter or margarine
¼ cup creamy peanut butter
2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup sifted cake flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup coarsely chopped peanuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine butter, peanut butter and chocolate in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water until chocolate melts, stirring to blend. Beat eggs. Add sugar gradually, while beating. Add chocolate mixture; beat hard 1 minute. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt; stir in. Add peanuts and vanilla. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F, 40 minutes or until done. Cut into squares while warm.

Alaskan Lodge will attend SON banquet

Final plans for the banquet and dance to celebrate the 31st anniversary of the Sons of Norway Lodge were made at a meeting last night.

President Kenneth Laird told the members that tickets for the social evening of a supper, program and dance to be held Saturday were still available and could be obtained by phoning 4269 or 4232.

Members from the Midnatsol Lodge No. 32 in Ketchikan will be attending the festivities, it was reported.

Two new members, Miss Eva Stromme and Miss Betty Johannessen, were initiated into the lodge.

Women should choose clothes says expert

MONTREAL (CP) — Marie Paule, a couturier in Montreal for 25 years, believes Canadian women buy clothes too quickly and too often.

"A woman should condense her wardrobe and wear what she buys, she said in an interview.

"The place for clothes isn't tissue paper. When she has worn a dress as long as she wants to, she should give it away so that someone else may enjoy it."

Miss Paule feels that if a woman can afford only one good thing for her wardrobe, it should be a suit. "In this modern age, a suit goes almost everywhere."

Carefully chosen accessories are important, and "one good jewel and a good handbag are part and parcel of chic."

Miss Paule, in private life Mrs. Jean Nolin, said being "chic" is "a matter of personality."

"Like cuisine, it can be varied but still delectable."

She said a woman at any level of society can have chic, but it begins with personal happiness. "Even the most beautiful creation becomes sad if the wearer looks sad."

Board member asked to speak at PTA meeting

Prince Rupert Secondary Schools Parent - Teacher's Association has invited a member of the Prince Rupert School Board to its monthly meeting on November 16 at 8 p.m. in the activity room of the Booth Memorial Junior High School.

The member will speak on the additional schools to be built in this area and the cost of these to the citizens of Prince Rupert.

It is anticipated that much lively discussion will ensue since so many people were aroused by the announcement of these schools in the Prince Rupert Daily News last Wednesday, said a member of the executive today.

Any interested persons, besides parents and teachers are welcome to attend this meeting to hear what is discussed and to contribute questions or ideas of their own.

PRINTED PATTERN
A 559 SIZES 10-18
An Ardanti Original

It's the CONE-SHAPED FLARE—newest skirt silhouette that importantly underscores Ardanti's graceful day or dinner dos' tunic. A smooth bodice, smooth line in front, back and over the hips, the swing is a gradual one to the sides. See how the jacket lightly skims the midriff above the natural waistline marked by a bow. Soft, figure flattering, elegant — Printed Pattern A559 is all this and more, too. It's a veritable wardrobe by itself. For all day, choose sheer wool, gauzy tweed or jersey and tweed combination in a monotone color scheme. For late-day gains, consider the allure of dazzling brocade, bengaline, satin or surah.

Printed Pattern A559 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 dress requires 2⅛ yards 54-inch fabric; requires 1⅝ yards.

Send ONE DOLLAR for Printed Pattern A559, to the Prince Rupert Daily News, Pattern Department, 60 Front Street, Toronto, Ont. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.
