SUCCEEDS J. A. MARTIN

A. H. Ogilvie installed Rotary Club president

Rotary's work internationally and also at home keynoted most of the major speeches at the Prince Rupert Rotary Club's annual installation night in the Royal Canadian Legion auditorium Saturday night.

More than 113 Rotarians and guests witnessed the installation of Arthur Ogilvie who will take over the president's duties of the club for the coming year from J. A. Martin.

A. P. Crawley, before installing Mr. Ogilvie, spoke of the impact Rotary had on him while he served as president.

He said that the Rotary club represented an international force directed towards peace, and pointed out that Rotary was becoming extremely influential on the international scene.

He said there were approximately 11,500 Rotary clubs throughout the world with a total membership of 520,000 in some 130 countries.

In his invocation Rev. Dr. R. W. K. Elliott compared the hub of the Rotary wheel with God. He said the spokes which represent members of Rotary are bound by this hub which is the Almighty source of power.

Dr. Elliott emphasized the importance of Rotary in a community, particularly in its work with youth.

Other executive members were installed by Alderman A. Donald Ritchie, and T. B. Black.

On behalf of the club retiring President Martin gave a cheque of $5,000 to Dr. Elliott board of directors of the Friendship house. The donation was pledged to Friendship House several years ago.

Dr. Elliott said the house was being used extensively and is "meeting the need where the need is."

New members inducted into the club were: Scott McLaren, H. F. Ross, Douglas Clark, J. K. Shaw and Vincent Dodd.

Visiting presidents from other clubs in the city included James Georgeson from the Gyros, R. L. Eby from the Kinsmen club, and E. D. Manson from the Kiwanis club.

Two departing members from the club were given a special vote of thanks for their service. They were Mr. and Mrs. William Scuby who are leaving for Victoria, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Finlayson who left Prince Rupert Saturday for Vancouver.

Head table guests were Mr. and Mrs. Manson, Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Ald. and Mrs. Ritchie, Dr. and Mrs. Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Georgeson.

Mayor P. J. Lester, due to another engagement, was unable to attend. Greetings from the city were extended by Ald. Ritchie.

Stage, screen stars to appear in Yukon

The Palace Grand Theatre in Dawson City will again echo with music, song, laughter and applause this summer, when the 23-member troupe of "Foxy" will go through their paces.

Led by long-time and well-known movie star, Bert Lahr, the principals of the troupe were en route to Dawson City aboard the Canadian Pacific Steamship's Princess Louise Wednesday morning. Mr. Lahr is best remembered for his portrayal of the cowardly lion in the production of "The Wizard of Oz" with Judy Garland several years ago.

The producers and the 12 members of the singing and dancing chorus flew direct to Dawson City from New York. The group on the boat was joined in Vancouver by Canadian actor Ed Greenhalgh, who filled in on short notice, when one of their number became ill. Mr. Greenhalgh was in the city to act in the Holiday Theatre play "Shakespeare by Five" on May 24, and still had his beard.

The production of "Foxy" is a new musical version of the Ben Johnson classical comedy "Volpone," with lyrics written by Johnny Mercer and music by Robert Emmett oDlan.

The Palace Grand Theatre had been rebuilt especially for this summer festival. It was on the stage of this theatre that "Klondike Kate" appeared and attained fame during the gold rush of '98.

The troupe embarked at Skagway and went by rail to Whitehorse, and then reached Dawson City by car Saturday.

MUSEUM BRIEFS . . .

By JOCELYN BOLTON

We thought perhaps you would be interested in a few of our visitors who have called during the past week or two: Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Neilson of Vancouver came to bring us some old photos and papers for our archives. Mrs. Neilson was Doreen Woods and had not been in Prince Rupert for over 30 years, her father was Ernest Woods, one - time City Clerk in Prince Rupert. We appreciate Mrs. Neilson thinking of us and are very pleased with her donation as many of the pictures we do not have and she was enjoying showing her husband the places she remembered

A few days later Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Noel from Cordova Bay, Victoria, were guests and thoroughly enjoyed the museum and also Prince Rupert. In 1900 Mr. Noel spent his holidays at Metlakatla and knew Wiggs O'Neill in those early days. Mrs. Noel had done most of the driving and they enjoyed stopping along the way and visiting the different places along Highway 16.

Mrs. Neil G. Carey of Oxnard Beach, Calif., spent quite a few days in our little office perusing old papers. Mrs. Carey is a free lance writer, plus a swimming instructor and life saving expert. She and her son plan a trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands, and their mode of travel will be by dugout canoe. Mrs. Carey spent many happy days in her youth around these waters and seems to thoroughly enjoy the outdoor life. She is also very enthusiastic about our pool in Prince Rupert and is hoping to write an article about that also

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fountain from Belton, Texas, were charming guests with a son Mark and daughter Melba. They had driven all the way with a small trailer, and were thrilled with everything, even the rain did not seem to upset them at all They flew to Ketchikan, came back full of excitement, thanked us profusely for the information and help we were able to give them. We feel sure that they will come again, as Mr. Fountain told us he did not have enough time this trip to do it properly, too rushed for time as he had to return to his job on a dam in Belton.

We had hundreds of guests in our museum on June 20 when the "Louise" was in port, people from many places, Iceland South Africa, every state in the U.S. and many Eastern Canadians. Our guests have all been very pleasant and nice people thanked us for our free literature which they thoughly enjoy.

The lovely booklet "Canada" which we got from the Canadian Government Travel Bureau is of particular interest, and one man the other day said he intended to travel the whole of Canada after seeing that book. It is doing a good job of selling Canada, and many of our tour boat guests say they intend to drive next time, take the Alaska ferry, etc., so I feel sure that the little we are able to do now for our guests is going to pay dividends in future years. Another very nice booklet is being distributed by the Bureau in Ottawa this year — Trans-Canada Highway Adventure — the guests enjoy this also.

The bride completed her high school education here and her three years registered nurses' training in Victoria. She has nursed for the past two years in Regina, Sask., and Winnipeg, Man.

The groom completed his MD in Istanbul, Turkey, and has taken six years of post-graduate studies and research in Canada and the United States.

Kennedy guests in social swim

WASHINGTON (AP) — "In the social swim" usually describes someone who's making a splash on the champagne - and - caviar circuit.

It means something more at Robert F. Kennedy's now.

It means making a splash in the Kennedy swimming pool — sort of a formal splash in evening clothes, dancing shoes and the rest.

It happened the other night at an outside dinner-dance for about 300 given by the attorney-general and his wife.

Betty Beale, columnist for the Washington Evening Star, said it happened this way:

At the party for actor Peter Lawford and his wife, a Kennedy sister — the dance floor extended from a back fence to the edge of the swimming pool.

One small table with three chairs around it was perched on a plank that stretched across the pool only inches from the edge.

Mrs. Kennedy occupied one chair, astronaut John Glenn was in the second and the third was for Supreme Court Justice Byron (Whizzer) White.

It was bound to happen and it did. Mrs. Kennedy tumbled in and was drenched.

Before the evening's end two other guests somehow also ended up taking a dip fully clothed — Mrs. Spencer Davis, a friend of Mrs. Kennedy, and presidential assistant Arthur Schlesinger.

Bassano in Alberta, 90 miles southeast of Calagry, was named ofter the Italian Marquis of Bassano.
