Former city residents mark 50th anniversary

A pioneer couple, Mr. and Mrs. Attilo Dominato, who lived in Prince Rupert for 31 years, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in Vancouver with all of their family present.

Mr. Dominato first came to the city in 1906, returning to Italy to be married. In the summer of 1912 he returned with his bride, Joanna. The couple lived here until they moved to Vancouver in 1943. Mr. Dominato worked for the city and then for the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company.

Attending the golden wedding celebrations in Vancouver February 11 were members of the family: son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russo, with Elaine and David, of Vancouver; son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dominato with sons Gerald and Robert, of Richmond; and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dominato and daughters, Doris Dominato, Leona Marshal and Peggy Brewerton, son-in-law, Robert Brewerton, and grandchildren, Debbie Brewerton and Danny Marshall of Prince Rupert.

After a dinner at the Peter Pan Cafe with 60 guests present, a birthday party followed to celebrate Mr. Dominato's 80th birthday.

The anniversary couple was presented with a television set from the guests. A three-tiered birthday cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Russo for the occasion.

Welsh celebrate St. David's Day

If, today, you should see a man wearing a leek on his lapel, don't ask him why he wears his salad on his heart. He will be a Welshman, for March 1 is St. David's Day when every good Welshman and friend of Wales should wear either a leek or a daffodil.

The leek and daffodil (distant relatives in the plant world) are the symbols of Wales and of St. David. In fact, the poetic yet stormy Welsh claim that the first daffodil to bloom naturally each year in Wales blooms on St. David's Day. The daffodil is the more popular choice for it smells better than the leek after a few hours in the lapel!

St. David's Day in Wales will be celebrated by Nosen Lawen (literally translated: Cheerful Nights) all over the tiny principality—evenings of national songs and dances which have been preserved by continual use for centuries.

SCOUT DISPLAY of this camping scene in Gordon and Anderson's window last week caused interest and curiosity as a sign on the tent read "Designed by the Second Troop — patent pending". However, it was just a "gag" thought up by the Second Prince Rupert Scout Troop which meets at Conrad Street School, and the tent was just made of plain ordinary masking tape and plastic. — Staff photo by Phylis Bowman.
