GRACING the New Year's Eve refreshment table are cups of fragrant coffee and Eggnog Tarts. As the midnight hour approaches, they mark time, ready to join in the celebration.

Eggnog tarts, coffee usher in New Year

Before the hooting and horn-blowing of midnight begin, give your New Year's Eve refreshments one last check. The table is set, the coffee is brewing and the luscious Eggnog Tarts are ready and waiting. As the New Year is ushered in, your festive snacks are there to accompany the merriment.

EGGNOG TARTS

3 eggs, separated
¾ cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
¼teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup hot milk
1 cup hot coffee
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon rum flavoring
6 baked tart shells
Semi-sweet chocolate pieces
Long gum drops

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Beat in ½ cup sugar, salt and nutmeg. Combine hot milk and coffeee and add slowly to egg yolk mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring until mixture coats spoon. Remove from heat. Soften gelatin in cold water, dissolve in hot milk mixture and add flavoring. Cool until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar slowly. Fold in egg yolk mixture. Spoon into tart shells, keeping top surface as smooth as possible. Chill until set. Make clock faces with chocolate pieces and slivers of gum drops.

A WATCH CAT?

VICTORIA (CP) — A Siamese cat named Tywacket, the pet of L. A. Fraser, arrived home from his regular nightly rounds with a man's wrist watch around his neck. Mr. Fraser speculates the watch was placed around the cat's neck by a playful host. Before he could take it off the cat headed home.

Museum Briefs

By JOCELYN BOLTON

A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to everyone from the Museum and Tourist Bureau. We hope to have a new floor in the Museum in 1963—and we expect to be very busy with tourists at the Bureau. We are receiving enquiries every day about the Alaska Ferry and no doubt we will be more than busy when all the people arrive for information.

The recarving of our totem poles is going ahead and should prove an attraction in 1963 for visitors—also no doubt our local people will enjoy watching Mr. Jeffrey carve.

Have a gay and happy holiday from:
