THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE FOR POINT GREY

Proposal to Unite Three Organizations on Common Basis.

Perhaps one of the most interesting discussions of the meeting of the Presbyterian Synod to be held in Victoria this week will be in regard to the provision of a Theological College in connection with the University of British Columbia when this institution is moved to its permanent quarters in Point Grey.

At present the Presbyterian students complete their training for the ministry in Westminster Hall, the Anglicans in St. Mark's Hall and the Methodists in Columbian College, New Westminster. It is very probable that in the near future these three denominations will combine on some common basis for the erection of a common lecture hall, library and dormitory. Classes would be held together for many of the subjects, but each student would be sufficiently attached to one institution to be able to take his degree with whatever particular denomination he favored.

The college being situated near the large government university, the theological students would be able to take their arts course during the winter months and then continue their ministerial studies during the summer.

IN THE LETTER BOX

To the Editor.—The following has been sent to the school children of Canada:

"We have a society which is called the Safety League and which stands for a word which I wish to write just a few lines to you. That word is 'carefulness.'

"A great many lives are lost during the year, many buildings and lots of property are destroyed by carelessness, and we want you for one to be unselfish and to assist in the work of this League by doing all you can in being careful.

"Don't handle matches carelessly, make sure when you light one that it is properly put out when thrown away. Don't leave loose papers lying around where there will be any danger in their catching fire. Be careful in regard to accidents. Do not slide on the sidewalks and make them slippery, so that when older people come along, who are not so sure of their feet, will fall and injure themselves. Do not attempt to cross the street carelessly in front of horses or machines, but always keep your eyes wide open, not only for your own safety but also for the safety of others.

'Adopt as your motto this word 'Careful.' During the year 1920, keep it constantly before you and it will help to make each one of you unselfish and strong to help others.

"CHAS. G. BAKER,
"Mayor of Hamilton."

STORAGE FOR FISH PORT OF VANCOUVER

Some definite announcement as to the negotiations being carried on between the local branch of the Canadian Fisheries Association and the Dominion government through the harbor commissioners regarding the proposal to make extensions to the government wharf for the purpose of making provision for the storage of salmon is expected within a day or two, says the Vancouver World.

The first intimation outside of the article appearing in The World a few weeks ago announcing that plans for the expenditure of some $300,000 for the converting one of the sheds into a double-deck structure for the purpose of storing salmon, was made at last night's meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Fisheries Association.

F. E. Burke, president, explained that he had every reason to believe that the government would view the proposal of the fish men with favor. He thought that the case made out by the fish men was a very sound one and that a favorable impression was created in the minds of the harbor commissioners.

"It was not until we had gone fully into the matter," he said, "that we realized the possibilities in the enterprise. It will be of great benefit to the fish men to have a large structure like this in which to store salmon and will also be a good thing from the standpoint of the government."
