Doings of the Mosquito Fleet Which Is the Chief Source of Prince Rupert's Prosperity

Fish arrivals during the week have been light due to the inclement weather which has existed. Several of the big schooners are out on the deep sea fisheries, and are expected to make port any day. Their arrival will doubtless boost the halibut catch for the week.

Naturally the topic of conversation in nautical circles is the result of the election to date. It is generally conceded that the Liberal candidate will make the grade, although at the time of writing there are several points to be heard from. The opinion of the majority of the crews of the Mosquito Fleet is that with a Liberal Government at Ottawa and a local Liberal member for the Skeena Riding things should come their way, and that the Liberal Government will now have the opportunity of resurrecting the principles of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier's administration and do something worth while for the Port of Prince Rupert. As one old salt puts it, "It's the dawn of a new Canada."

In view of the fact that political opinion has changed throughout the Dominion it is understood that the Admiral of the Mosquito Fleet, who has been absent from port, is contemplating some drastic changes in his staff. Flossie Flirt, the stenog. in chief, was the first to get the axe. In the absence of face powder, which had been ruled out of use, it is understood the gunpowder was being missed in large quantities, and the Admiral was exceeding wrath. It is understood Miss Flirt has applied for a position as cashier to the Mug-Up, but unfortunately the cash register of that popular hostel was blown into the bay during the recent gale and it will be some time before funds will run sufficiently high to enable the management to install a new one, so that Flossie is out of luck for a cashier position. However, Jack Toner, the general manager, has promised the young lady a job dishing out the sweets, so all's well that ends well. Doubtless other changes will be forthcoming when the Admiral returns.

A local fish buyer of much repute recently fancied his skill at crib playing, and sat up many nights and days, to perfect himself at the game, with the result that, to use his own words "he was a wizard at flipping the fifteens." He considered himself so proficient that one day during the week he came out armed with a cribbage board, a swell deck of pasteboards, and lots of pegs, and threw out a challenge to his neighbors in the fish game, offering to buy cigars round if he lost a game, a pretty nervy thing to do. His challenge was accepted and a real honest to goodness crib game was soon progressing merrily. The fifteen twos started to pile up against the challenger with the result that he found the atmosphere getting too stuffy for his cardy brain and he hastened to open wide the draught porticos to let in the fresh fishy breeze. This done he pulled up his socks and blood was in his eye. In all due praise of the worthy would-be champion it must be admitted he put up a tremendous scrap against colossal odds, although the result of the game proved the challenger would have stood a better chance of winning if he had stayed up nights and played crib with the office boy's sister. The net result of some twenty games was that something peculiar happened in every game, either the eights were sevens or the Jack failed to put in the expected appearance on the turn up. Suffice to say the challenger went down to a mighty defeat, not one darned game being credited to his wizard like powers.

Now the cigars, and the joke, are on the local fish buyer of much repute mentioned in the first part. Whatever you do if you chance to visit the fish houses, and value your existence on this earth, forget the word crib.

The launch Narbethong, Captain Freeman, left port early on Wednesday morning on a secret mission. Cap found an old smoke bomb among his personal effects recently so he was enabled to get out of port under the familiar smoke screen. The secret service of the Admiralty are trying to get a line on the destination of the Narbethong's visits.

The Dixie, Captain Newcombe, is expected to arrive in port in the near future with the ballot boxes from Kitimaat.

The Starston, Captain Harry Watson, was over to Surf Inlet for the purpose of bringing in the ballot boxes.

Captain Bud Corley of the Beaver Cove has blossomed out into a lumber magnate. Bud has a real wood yard running full blast at Cow Bay, and in his spare moments hikes around the bay and collects all the stray pieces of logs, etc., which sometimes abound in the vicinity.

With a Wee Macgregor saw, the logs are sawn into any required length for the domestic cook stove or heater. Bud says there is more heat ratio in his wood than in any other wood in the Dominion.

The barge Louise from Vancouver with a cargo of coal and lumber for Albert & McCaffery is overdue, doubtless owing to the stormy weather, but is expected to put in an appearance at any moment.

The Joe Baker, Captain F. Blodin, will be held in Cow Bay till the first of the New Year, as it will be sometime before the extensive repairs are completed. The engine and hull are being overhauled and two new tanks are being installed. The tanks have been manufactured by the Rowe Metal Works.

* * *

The Wigwam, Captain Claud Ketchum, came into port on Monday night with a scow load of lumber for shipment to Eastern points and a scow load of boxes for the Cold Storage. The Wigwam will proceed, in the near future, to the Georgetown Mill after a couple of booms of logs, on which work she will be employed right up to Christmas.

* * *

The Wake, Captain George Place, returned to port on Tuesday last. The Wake has been engaged on electioneering at Rivers Inlet, Margaret Bay and southern points.

The Shrubsall interests are going ahead in fine shape with the fish curing business. Regular shipments are being made to Eastern points and points up and down the coast. The plant has been working to full capacity and will continue to do so as long as the fresh fish arrives in sufficient quantities.

There is great jubilation on board the Pair of Jacks these days. The two deer which were supposedly stolen had evidently been lifted for a joke. The crew on returning to the boat after an unsuccessful hunt for the robbers were surprised, and at the same time happy to find the trophies of the chase once more aboard. Capt. Ivarson and his merry crew are quite reconciled and everybody is happy.

M. Huntley, who has been engaged in hand logging for the Georgetown mill, is in the city on business. He states that business is brisk with the mill, and that there are between thirty and forty men employed. If there is a decided cold snap during the winter it is the intention of the Georgetown mill to close down for a couple of weeks to enable repair work to be done.

Captain C. Street, who was formerly owner of the fishing boat Minerva, is contemplating leaving port before Christmas on a trapping expedition. If his present plans mature he will skipper the Lancelet on his trip. It is Captain Street's intention to go as far oNrth as Portland Canal.

* * *

W. E. Williscroft, Captain Morrison and Jack Morrison left port on Thursday aboard the Gaygeon on a hunting trip which will extend over the week end. They are all considered crack shots, and as the supply of ammunition is plentiful, it is expected the bag of game will be a bumper one. It is rumored that it will be necessary to acquire the service of another boat to help bring in the results of the shoot.

Skipper W. J. Thomas, first officer on the Wigwam, is an old timer on the waterfront, having been in Prince Rupert for nearly thirteen years. Thomas was the original owner of the Alice B, and has been engaged in the towing business practically the whole of this period. It is expected he will be in line for a big job at the Mosquito Fleet Admiralty offices if the Admiral of the Fleet decides to re-organize the staff.

A very serious happening took place around the Mug-Up during the past week. The new cook, Tom Peppercorn, complained about the lack of utensils in the culinary department so Jack Toner hiked up town and spent one buck and four bits on a brand new bucket and eight bits on a new dipper. These were duly handed over to Peppercorn with instructions as to use and for safe keeping.

The bucket and dipper had been in use about one hour when the cook wanted some clams, which were basking outside on the float. Some well meaning person had previously been cleaning the float with soft soap and had inadvertently left a large helping of soap on the edge of the walk. As Peppercorn leaned over to catch the clams in his bucket his foot slipped on the soapy edge and into the bay went bucket, dipper and the cook. The boss, who had heard the splash, was standing on terra lrma and when Peppercorn put in an appearance plus water but minus bucket and dipper, he yelled at the would be swimmer, "where the Ls the bucket?" Diving tenders are now being called for in order that the bucket and dipper may be recovered. This is the third Mug-Up bucket that has been donated to Davey Jones' locker in the past month, and Jack has decided, after due deliberation, to have the bucket, when it is raised, chained around the cook's waist, so that in the event of a like occurrence, as cited above, the cook won't come up without the bucket.

The following boats are at present in port at Cow Bay: Cushag, Mar, Wake, Wigwam, Westerner, Towena, Beula, Edna H., Fly, Annie May, George D., Florrie, Lovera, Iris, Kobe, Violet, Mary M., Lancelet, Siljan, Helen D., Lillian M., W. & F., Daisy, Verna, Eagle, Joe Baker, Fisher, Alliance No. 1, Normen, Rosespit, Sadie and Hanaco.

The Alliance No. 1 and the Fisher will be held in port until early in the New Year, as both boats are undergoing extensive repairs.

SORES SPREAD All Over FACES AND BODIES.

Mrs. Howard Houlette, Waskatenau, Sask., writes:—"I wish to tell you of the benefit we have received by using your valuable medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters.

My children started to break out on their faces with small white pimples which kept getting larger each day. Pus would form under the scabs and they would come off, and each time the sores would be larger; some were as large as a twenty-five cent piece, and would spread all over their bodies. I was nearly in despair and sent to the village for a bottle of good blood medicine. The druggist sent me a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, which I commenced giving them at once.

In about ten days I saw an improvement and they grew steadily better each day, and in one month the sores had all disappeared."

All blood and skin diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get it pure and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood cleansing medicine such as a remedy that has been on the market for the past forty-five years, and one without an equal for all diseases and disorders of the blood.
