ROMANCE OF A PRINCESS

Lascelles Popped Momentous Question in Sandringham Woods Says Times.

English papers just to hand are full of the betrothal of Princess Mary to Viscount Lascelles. The London Times tells of it as follows:

The announcement of the betrothal of Princess Mary to Viscount Lascelles has been received throughout the kingdom and the Empire with universal satisfaction.

The Princess and the King and Queen have been overwhelmed with innumerable messages of congratulation from all over the world and from all classes of society. A large number of people have called at Buckingham Palace anxious to inscribe their names in the visitors' book.

Congratulations have come not only from all parts of the United Kingdom. The Empire beyond the seas has been no whit behind.

Wedding Soon.

The date of the wedding has not yet been fixed, but the engagement will not be prolonged. There is, indeed, reason to believe that the ceremony may take place between Christmas and Lent and in Westminster Abbey. Should this be the case the Prince of Wales will be unable to attend, for according to present arrangements he will not have returned from India until later in the new year.

The betrothal follows a comparatively short romance. Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles first became acquainted at a dinner party during the war, while Lord Lascelles was home on leave; but it was only in recent months that they have been brought frequently into contact with each other. They have ridden together in the Row and elsewhere, and they have met at various country house parties. Lord Lascelles was among the guests at the Bolton Abbey and Chatsworth house parties; he was invited to Balmoral when the Princess was in Scotland, and he has been the guest of the Royal Family at Sandringham. It is, indeed, related that it was in the woods of Sandringham that Lord Lascelles received Princess Mary's promise, which left nothing more needed than the consent of the King and its formal endorsement under the Great Seal by the Privy Council. In a message to some of his old comrades he wrote:—"I am very happy and very lucky."

In Politics.

Lord Lascelles has received a large number of congratulatory telegrams from his friends and old comrades, to the more intimate of whom he is affectionately known as "Don." He shares with Princess Mary a love of British sport, and he is the joint Master of the Bramham Moor Hunt with Colonel G. R. Lane-Fox, M.P., for the Barkston Ash division of Yorkshire. It was Colonel Lane-Fox's intention to retire to enable Lord Lascelles to contest the division in the Unionist interest at the next General Election, but he will now seek re-election.

Goldsborough Hall.

Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles propose to live during the earlier part of their married life at Goldsborough Hall, Yorkshire, a red-brick early Jacobean mansion standing in a park and gardens of over 100 acres. The village of Goldsborough is near the old town of Knaresborough.

Goldsborough Hall is the property of Lord Lascelles' father, Lord Harewood, who himself lived there for 14 years. For the past 26 years the mansion has been occupied by Mr. W. R. Lamb, a Yorkshire magistrate, and his family. Mr. Lamb has arranged to give up possession on April 30, and the hall is to be prepared for the reception of Lord Lascelles and his bride next summer.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR FARMERS TURNED DOWN BY LABOR CONFERENCE

WINNIPEG, Dec. 21.—The eight-hour day for agriculture was declared wholly impracticable, without hesitation, by the International Labor conference which met at Geneva, Hon. Thomas H. Johnson, attorney-general of Manitoba, said on his return from Europe. Mr. Johnson attended th eLabor conference as advisor to the Canadian delegates and represented Manitoba before the privy council of Great Britain in the Kelly case arising out of construction of the new parliament buildings.

"European nations are busily engaged finding markets for their products and competition is very keen among the different countries," Mr. Johnson said. "Depleted currency is a big factor in finding markets for goods and Germany and France are making huge strides in getting back their pre-war trade," he said. Conditions throughout Europe are still in a very unsettled state and the reconstruction period is by no means passed over yet.
