PORTLAND CANAL PROSPECTS GOOD

So Says George Clothier in Interview Given in Victoria

A dispatch from Victoria to Vancouver papers says:

Big things are in store for the Portland Canal district in a mining way, claims Mr. George Clothier, provincial mining engineer for that section of Britsh Columbia.

During 1922, he points out, there was a development of over $10,000,000 in the Portland Canal country, a 50 per cent increase over the previous year. The engineer prophesies that 1923 will be the biggest year in the history of mining in his district.

Last year the Granby Company bonded three properties. One of these at Maple Bay, will ship copper this year. Another group, the George, is being developed and if satisfactory results are obtained the present railway will be extended about twenty miles up Bear Creek, providing transportation facilities for the Naas River district, as well as the Bear River country.

Salmon River Section

In the Salmon River section, stated Mr. Clothier, the famous Premier mine has paid $3,150,000 dividends, or sixty-three per cent of the capital stock. Of this amount no less than fifty-five per cent was paid last year—1922. The Premier had shipped 70,000 tons of ore in 1922, containing 120,000 ounces of gold and four million ounces of silver. The silver produced by this mine in 1922 is more than has been produced in the entire province in any previous year, said Mr. Clothier.

From 250 to 350 men have been employed. The tramway has been inaugurated to take care of from 200 to 250 tons per day capacity and may be increased to 300 tons per day. The output of the mine is being regulated by the tramway capacity. The greater part of the tonnage is being shipped to the Granby Company's smelter at Anyox.

Much Work Done

The Big Missouri, in the same neighborhood, formerly under option to Sir Donald Mann, has had a great deal of development work done last year and has been bonded by Messrs. Trite and Wilson, of Fernie, big stockholders in the Premier mine. Ore was proven to a considerable depth by sinking a shaft, and much surface cutting was done last year. As the work progresses, Mr. Clothier stated, the value of this property will be proved.

The engineer explained that the involved affairs of the Dolly Varden Company on Alice Arm had had a bad effect upon general development in that district, while the settlement of the legal difficulties over the famous Engineer mine in Atlin should bring that property to the front quickly.

Mr. Clothier is highly optimistic over prospects in Northern British Columbia. He will address the Vancouver Chamber of Mines Friday evening.

ELEVATOR AT OCEAN DOCK SOON FINISHED

Work is Proceeding Steadily Under Albert Aujer, Engineer —Six Men Engaged

The work of installing the loading elevator at the new ocean dock is proceeding steadily under the supervision of Albert Aujer, the engineer. Some five or six men are employed and the job will be finished soon.

It is rumored that the ocean dock may soon be used for sacked grain shipments from the prairies to ocean going steamers.

The Basketball Association is planning to wind up the local season tonight with a rousing program and it is expected that the Exhibition Hall will have a record crowd for the occasion. The headline basketball game will be the match between the Senior and Junior Colts and a good dal of interest should attach itself to this meeting of the champions of their respective divisions. Two High School teams will also put on a game and two boxing bouts round off the program. Not the lest interesting features will be the presentation to the champion teams of each League of their trophies by the respective donors.

Great preparions are being made for the champion basketball excursion to Anyox tomorrow night and the fifteen players and those who will accompany them ar confident of bringing back with them all the laurels going at the smelter town. The trip itself is being looked forward to with almost as much interest as the actual playing of the games and the travelers are going to take advantage of all there is to be seen. Some of the time will be spent at Stewart and Hyder on Thursday morning while the Prince Rupert stays there and the teams will reach Anyox on Thursday evening. There will be little time to spare over the playing of the games but it is understood some sort of a reception is being planned by the Anyox hosts. The teams will be home again on Friday morning.

Despite the fact that Chicago has been in the second division for several seasons, the Chicago club has one of the greatest records of any team in the National League. New York has cut down Chicago's lead in championships won but the Cubs still lead, eleven pennants to ten. The Chicago club has been continuously in the field since 1876, the opening year of the league and in forty-seven National League races the Cubs have made the record of never finishing last. Only Chicago and Boston, of the original League octet, have had teams in the race ever since 1876. The Cubs stand second in the life time standing of the National League with a per centage of .555 having won 2,752 games from their opponents and lost 2,203.

Chicago played its first National League game at Louisville, Ky., on April 25, 1876, and immediately established baseball history. Albert G. Spalding, later head of the great sporting goods house, pitched the contest and shut out Louisville by 4 to 0. It was the first shut-out of the Major Leagues and started the expression "Chicagoed" whenever a team was shut out. In addition to Spalding there were many famous players of the early era of baseball in that Chicago National League contest. The celebrated Cap Anson, later famous as the first baseman, played third base; Paul Hines, of unassisted triple play fame, centre field; Ross Barnes, second base; Carl McVey, first base, and Jim White, catcher.
