WELL KNOWN WRITER VISITING THE CITY

Douglas Durkin, Author of Number of Books, Will Write About Prince Rupert

Douglas Durkin, Canadian novelist, is a visitor in the city gathering material for a new book he is planning in which Prince Rupert and the Skeena River country will figure prominently. He is the author of "The Fighting Men of Canada," a book of war verse; "The Heart of Cherry McBain," a romance of railway construction on the C. P. R."; "The Lobstick Trail," a romance of Canadian mining; "The Magpie," an after the war novel with a Winnipeg background.

Mr. Durkin contributes short stories and serials to a number of American magazines. He was for seven years professor of English in Manitoba University and for the past three years has been on the teaching staff of Columbia University, New York City. He is a Canadian by birth and upbringing and a lover of the north country, about which most of his stories have been written. He says he realizes the possibilities in the Skeena River country for romance and new fiction efforts and because of that he has chosen this city as the central location of his next new novel. He expects to return here next June and will spend the summer in and around Prince Rupert.

Mr. Durkin this afternoon addressed the Rotary Club.

HAD A WEAK HEART WAS VERY NERVOUS FOR THREE YEARS

Miss Jessie Peterson, Zealandia, Sask., writes:—"I wish to let you know how much good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me.

For nearly three years I was very badly run down, had a weak heart, and was so nervous that sometimes I would almost faint away.

I heard of many people who had recommended your Heart and Nerve Pills, so I decided to give them a trial. After I had used two boxes I found they had done me good, and after having taken five boxes I was completely relieved.

I cannot recommend your Pills enough, and I would advise anyone having a weak heart or troubled with nervousness to use them."

Milburn's H. & N. Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TO PROTECT GAME BIRDS

American Sportsmen Seek Legislation to Carry Out Treaty With Britain.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.— National Legislation which would provide finances to carry out the provisions of a treaty entered into with Great Britain several years ago to insure the protection of migratory birds, both insectivorous and game which travel between Canada and the United States, is sought by American sportsmen.

A bill sponsored last February by Senator Harry S. New now postmaster general, providing for the issuance of government licenses at $1 each for the privilege of hunting migratory game birds, which was defeated in the House by a small margin after passing the Senate by a large majority, is to be presented in this Congress by Representative Daniel Anthony of Kansas.

Approximately half of the proceeds of the licenses, under the provisions of the bill, will be used for the purchases of areas suitable for bird refuges, and the remainder expended for affording them proper care and protection.

R. P. Holland, vice-president of the American Game Protective Association, declares that conservation experts are united in the belief that unless refuges where no shooting is permitted are established along the lines of flight, the doom of the migratory bird is sealed and the American system of free shooting will become impossible.

English thoroughbred racing blood is to be added to American stock through the acquisition of Craiganflower by J. N. Camden, Kentucky turfman. Craiganflower is a son of Polymelus out of Fortuna, dam of many winners. He is four years old. As a two-year old he won several prominent stakes in England and finished third in the 1922 Derby to Captain Cuttle, after having a rough time at the gate and rounding Tattenham Corner.

No longer do the kids of Greenwich Village, New York, resort to street fights to settle their disputes for a new kind of settlement work has been instituted in the section which developed Gene Tunney, light heavyweight champion and it seems promised of a successful future. Boxing shows are now being held in a sixteen foot ring for youngsters fanging from seven to fifteen years of age. All ring equipment of regular bouts, including padded gloves, towels, trainers, judges, tights, timekeepers and the gong are used. Girls of the village are prominent among the rooters.

Shades of the great pugilistic past in New York have been revived by the return to the game of "Harlem Tommy" Murphy, lightweight star of 10 to 20 years ago. He has not donned the gloves again but is serving occasionally as a judge at Madison Square Garden, scene of many of his triumps. Murphy, who battled Packey McFarland, Ad. Wolgast, Knockout Brown, Abe Attell and Young Ernie in his heyday, has thrived on his ring earnings since retirement and has made money in real estate. "Thank God, I have something," says Tommy. "Just think of the boys who boxed in my time and who today have nothing at all."

The Brattleboro ski hill in Vermont, claimed as the finest natural ski jumping course east of Denver, has been selected as the scene of the annual National Ski Jumping Championship of the United States which takes place February 14 and 15. The greatest array of American and Canadian ski jumpers ever to assemble is expected to participate. Among the jumpers who have signified their intention of competing are: Anders Haugen, present national champion; Henry Hall, holder of the world's record jump of 229 feet; Victor Berger, of Montreal, who established the Brattleboro ski jump record; Nels Nelson of Revelstoke, British Columbia, and Gunnar Michelson, of Durham, N.H., the Intercollegiate titleholder. Invitations have been sent to McGill, Dartmouth, University of Wisconsin, and the University of Minnesota, to take part in a special collegiate program of ski-racing and ski-jumping. More than 100 jumpers will participate in the two day program.
