ROWING A HEALTHUL SPORT SAYS COACH

Will Increase Length of Life According to Dr. Meylar of Columbia University

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 23.—An old belief that college rowing causes heart-strain and damages the future health has been attacked by Russell R. Callow, coach of the University of Washington crews that have won the intercollegiate championship at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., the last two years.

"Rowing," Mr. Callow said, "with proper conditioning and training of men, is a great upbuilder of the human system and will increase a man's life because the sport embraces all those elements that build up the body and keep it fit.

Studied Records

"Dr. Meylar of Columbia University said, after studying the records of 50 years' rowing at Harvard, that oarsmen lived five years longer than any class of men engaged in sport.

"It is my thought that oarsmen live longer than devotees of any other of the so-called violent sports for several reasons. Rowing doesn't call for the abuse of the body or make it subject to such blows, knocks, bruises and fractures as do boxing, football wrestling, baseball and other major sports.

"Rowing, in the final analysis, does nothing but enlarge the capacity of the lungs, fill them with pure air, build up the abdominal muscles and all the other muscles in the human frame. It gives to its devotees billions of rays of exhilarating, life-preserving sunshine."

Improves with Age

An oarsman improves as he grows older, said Mr. Callow. "A university oarsman is good at 20, better at 25, and if I could have a crew made up of men around 30, new world's records would be set.

Peter Morrison, Hazelton Indian, was fined $15 and costs in the city police court yesterday afternoon for drunkennes. Tom Campbell and James May were each fined $10 for similar offences. William Glynn, white, found guilty of supplying them was fined $300 with the option of six months at Okalla.

WRESTLING — Jiu Jitsu style, Monday, Aug. 25 at 8.30 p.m. Empress Theatre. Nels Jepson vs. Prof. Takagaki, of Vancouver. 200

With the Big League baseball season rounding out to conclusion and the World Series not so very far off, New York Giants and Yankees at the present time are leading in the National and American Leagues but not with very long margins. Washington and Detroit are giving the Yanks a merry chase in the American League and St. Louis is not so very far behind. In the National League, the Pittsburg Pirates are about the only fear the Giants have but they have been going strong and the New Yorkers will have to extend themselves if they are to maintain a lead which at present is not very safe. All the teams in the American League are pretty closely bunched together while the Nationals are spread further apart. Philadelphia and Boston are the respective cellar teams.

Twelve horses have been entered for the quartermile open at the Telkwa barbeque on Labor Day and, consequently, it will be run in two heats with the first three horses redrawing for position to run in the final. The race promises to excel in general excitement any event that has ever been staged in Telkwa and that is saying a good deal. The corrals and chutes for the broncho busting and steer riding are all in readiness. Entries for the steer riding have been pouring in and there will be a large number of young farmers taking part.

The Gilhuly Cup semi-final between the Sons of England and Great War Veterans, scheduled for last night, had to be postponed on account of rain. Weather permitting, it will be played Monday night. The Football Association has now been given the use of the Acropolis Hill grounds three nights a week—Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. This Gilhuly Cup game will be played the first good night and the second half of the Stuart Shield competition will start immediately thereafter.

On account of inclement weather, the last two scheduled weekly shoots of the Prince Rupert Gun Club have had to be called off. It is possible that the club may have something special on around Fair Time for it is being proposed to bring an outside club here to compete. If arrangements are brought to a successful conclusion, trophies will be put up for competition.

CORINTHIANS PLAY VANCOUVER TO DRAW

Visiting Amateur Football Team Will Play All-Star Canadians Today

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23. — The Corinthians football team from England played a draw with a selected Vancouver eleven yesterday, each securing one goal.

Today the Corinthians play the All-Star Canadians, who have just returned from a tour of Australia.

WHEN THE BABIES ARE CUTTING TEETH THE MOTHER SHOULD USE

During baby's teething time, especially in the hot summer months, the bowels become loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps, etc. manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, and cankers form in the mouth.

This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life.
