LA FOLLETTE FOR SENATOR

Son of Former Leader up for Nomination in Wisconsin Today May be Beaten

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. — (By Canadian Press).— Political issues of more than ordinary importance hang on the result of the primary to be held today in Wisconsin and the special election September 29, to fill the Senate vacancy left by the death of Senator La Follette. The contest is recognized as of nation wide importance and the outcome is being watched with keen interest by the political leaders of both parties and insurgents and independents.

Basically, the question is whether the conservatism which now dominates the republican party and the national administration shall wipe out, or at least greatly weaken, the progressivism and independence which for years have obtained in Wisconsin because of the efforts of that indomitable fighter, the late Senator La Follette. While Senator LaFollette was alive, he was always able, when he ran, to sweep the state and in a general way to keep it in large measure from being dominated by the so-called "old-guard" republicans. Now that he is dead, the republican organization of the state and the nation, with the backing of President Coolidge, is making a great effort to gain control and crush the La Follette organization and the "progressive" elements.

Promote Insurgency

Influence of Wisconsin for many years has been to promote progressive forces and insurgency through the northwest and west. Should Wisconsin insurgency be crushed, that would go far to discourage the movement in other states. Although Senator La Follette in 1924 ran for President on a third ticket, the present controversy does not involve the third party movement to any large extent.

Robert La Follette, Jr. is the candidate for the Senate agreed upon by the leaders of the old La Follette organization. Regular republican leaders as the result of a meeting recently at Oshkosh, agreed on Roy P. Wilcox, a lawyer of Eua Claire, to run against Young La Follette or "Young Bob," as the latter is called.

GOLDBLOOM LEAVES FOR EAST TO BUY FUR COATS

Wm. Goldbloom leaves on today's steamer en route for New York, Winnipeg, and other centres to buy the latest models in fur coats. His stock has been sold out more rapidly than he expected, owing to the splendid values. He asks his customers to await his return before purchasing. He will select his stock personally and he guarantees his prices to be 25 per cent cheaper owing to his own buying capabilities. It pays to buy from Goldbloom, the old reliable.

At the same time, he is going to find a market for raw furs same as he did last year, when he was able to pay the trappers more than any other fur buyer.

Wait for Goldbloom! Advt.

INDIANS UNITE IN PRESSING CLAIMS

During the past week, Rev. P. R. Kelly of Nanaimo, who takes an active part in the efforts of the Allied Indian Tribes of British Columbia with regard to their land claims, met natives from various parts of the district and the result has been the decision of the Port Essington, Port Simpson, Metlakatla, Kitsumkalum, Kitselas, Kitimaat, Kitkatla, Skidegate and Massett tribes to unite in pressing for a settlement of their claims based on their legal rights. Mr. Kelly recently made a trip to Ottawa on the land matter and at a meeting here he reported fully to the local tribes.

CROP BETTER THAN FORMERLY EXPECTED

WINNIPEG, Sept. 15.— Additional cars and engines for the movement of grain over Canadian National lines in Western Canada are arriving in the West daily, it was stated this morning by Canadian National officials and being distributed throughout the West wherever there is need for them. Yields of grain in Saskatchewan districts are heavier it was stated than was estimated a couple of weeks ago and in many areas is turning out equal to if not a little better than the 1923 crop. When this was found to be the case, although there were already more than 35,000 grain cars available in the West, orders were sent for more cars to be forwarded from eastern lines and several hundred are now in the course of arrival.

FRUIT CROP A FAILURE

DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—The fruit crop this year has proved almost a complete failure, the Free State department of agriculture reports. The yield is the smallest in many years.

T. W. Falconer, Alice Arm merchant, is a business visitor in the city, having arrived from the north on the Cardena this afternoon.
