UNION BANK MOVES TODAY

Clients of that Institution Will do Their Business at Royal Bank Starting To-morrow

The recent amalgamation of the Royal and Union Banks will go into effect as far as Prince Rupert is concerned between to-night and to-morrow morning. The Union Bank here will close its present office for good at 3 o'clock this afternoon and its business will open up tomorrow morning across the street in the Royal Bank. The move will have no effect on the business of the Union Bank clients other than that their accounts will be in future in the premises and under the name of the Royal Bank. The entire staff of the Union Bank is being moved in the meantime to the Royal and the fittings of the Union Bank will be shipped to Vancouver.

Union Banks at Hazelton and Smithers will continue business as Royal Banks. There will be no change as far as the Royal Bank at Burns Lake is concerned but it is understood that, as a result of the amalgamation, the Royal Bank at Telkwa will in future be opened only twice a week for business.

The halibut schooner P. Dorreen was taken on dry dock this morning for cleaning and painting.
