COMMISSIONER AND MRS. RICH AT GATHERINGS

Head of Salvation Army Preached and Lectured Here Yesterday: Delayed by Washout

Commissioner Rich of the Salvation Army was a busy man yesterday. He preached in the morning at the United Church, his subject being "Sanctification."

In the afternoon he lectured in the Citadel on "Sixty Years S.A," the hall being well filled. He traced the work of the army from its birth in London, England, 62 years ago and gave some interesting facts regarding the growth of the army in Western Canada.

The commissioner said that on his present tour he had opened a new rescue hospital at Edmonton. A new building had been purchased at Calgary for rescue work and a campaign is now under way at Vancouver for the erection of a maternity hospital in that city. Special mention was made of the Grace Hospital at Winnipeg where over 1,400 babies were born last year.

The commissioner took his audience to various countries where the Salvation Army flag flies and told many stories of missionary work. The flag is flying in 81 countries and the gospel being preached in many languages.

Mayor Newton, who presided, expressed appreciation of the work the army was doing in Prince Rupert.

The Commissioner spoke again at night on the subject "Forgiveness." Mrs. Rich gave a Bible reading and a short address on "Broken Vows."

Commissioner and Mrs. Rich and their secretary, Adjutant Munday, have cancelled their trip to Hazelton owing to the washout on the railway. They will be here for the citadel meeting tonight.

BURIED WITH NAVAL HONORS

Victim of Tragic Shooting Accident was Laid to Rest Yesterday

St. Andrew's Anglican Church being filled to capacity with sympathizing friends of the deceased and his family, the funeral took place yesterday afternoon of the late Edward Howe who met his death suddenly last Wednesday afternoon as a result of a tragic shooting accident. Archdeacon G. A. Rix officiated and funeral arrangements were under the auspices of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve with the B.C. Undertakers in charge.

A party of fifteen members of the naval reserve under command of Lieut. R. P. Ponder, assisted by Lieut. Walter Hume and Engineer Lieutenant F. P. Quinn, attended. The party marched from headquarters to the chapel of the B.C. Undertakers and the coffin draped in the White Ensign, was borne to the hearse by six paullbearers and escorted to the church.

After the solemn and impressive service which was also attended by members of the Sons and Daughters of England, of which the parents are members, the cortege moved to Fairview Cemetery where interment took place. The coffin was preceded by naval boys carrying the many wreaths and, immediately behind the casket, one of the naval ratings carried a wreath in the form of an anchor executed in blue and white flowers surmounted with a naval cap badge.

After the service at the graveside and as the remains were lowered to their last resting place, "The Last Post" was sounded by Bugler Sergeant W. Rance of the First North B.C. Regiment.

EXAGGERATED SENSE OF NATIONALITY OBSTACLE AGAINST BANISHING WAR

France was losing population and had scarcely forty million While Germany, her neighbor had sixty-two million and was increasing. If the present ratio continued in 25 years Germany would have 80,000,000 and France from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000.

An iron ring had been drawn around Germany and several of the policies resulting from the Treaty of Versailles would have to be modified else they were likely to cause war in the future.

The League of Nations was formed to deal with future disputes but United States refused to come in because they feared the abdication of sovereignty and Canada also objected but went in, although she was now trying to have the objectionable clauses removed. Great Britain was well aware that any first class nation could not be injured without injuring every other and that was why she tried to have Germany treated in such a manner that she could work out her own salvation. France on the other hand was trying to prevent Germany again becoming a nation and she brought forward the sinister threat of arming and training her colored troops.

Locarno Peace Pact

The speaker referred to the improved outlook since the Locarno security pact had been signed under which the nations concerned agree to recognize and maintain the present boundary between France and Germany as the correct one.

The judge touched on matters of trade and its value and also on the international court of justice on which the U.S. Senate would vote on in January. He pictured the condition of Europe with its neglected and war-injured children, of Britain with its unemployment. In Canada throughout her length and breadth the voice of Rachel still mourning for her children could be heard. Some would never be able to forget. Sixty thousand homes could not forget the war. There were ruined lives and broken hearts. If the right thinking men and women did not band themselves together to prevent it, it would follow as sure as night followed day that war would come again. He urged in the strongest language at his command that they should not sit by and allow it to come again but drive the damnable thing to hell, so that it might never again be seen in this world, never.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT UNITED CHURCH

Ten More Men Than Women Were in Attendance Last Evening—Commissioner Rich Spoke in Morning

In spite of the inclement weather, there was a good attendance at the service in the United Church last evening and the announced idea of "More Men than Women" seemed to have caught well, an official census revealing that men were in the majority by ten. The program of the evening consisted of anthems by a special men's choir, vocal solos by A. Clapperton and Rev. Even Baker, a vocal duet by J. S. Wilson and Frank Derry and a trombone solo by W. H. Derry. The address of the evening was by Rev. G. G. Hacker, the topic being "Could Ye Like Men be Strong?"

At the morning service, Commissioner Rich of the Salvation Army addressed the congregation and there was a solo by Rev. Evan Baker.

Next Sunday evening there will be a special service by the women of the church.
