CHECK SPECULATION IN GRAIN TRADE IS EFFORT BEING MADE

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—At the instance of the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chicago Board of Trade, which is the seat of the principal speculative market in the grain trade, has put into effect certain amendments to its rules, which have been proposed with a view to limiting an undesirable class of speculation. A clearing system is being established which will compel prompt settlements between brokers, and it is thought compel them to reduce the credit extended to their customers. Whatever effect it has will be upon the class of traders who operate upon narrow margins, and it is agreed that restriction in this quarter will be wholesome, says the National City Bank Letter.

SUSPEND TRADING

Another effort to limit violent fluctuations is made by creating a committee which will have authority to suspend trading of fluctuations exceeding certain prescribed limits within a single day. A rule of this kind has been in force on the New York Cotton Exchange for some time. The efficacy of such a rule, however, must depend largely upon having the limitations conform rather closely to market conditions, for if such a rule hindered trading in wheat in Chicago the operators might be readily shifted to Winnipeg, and cotton trading forbidden in New York might be shifted to Liverpool, and in either case the action of the markets where business continued to be done probably would be more influential upon prices than the absence of trading in the markets that were closed. Efforts to control prices by the suppression of bona-fide trading do not give promise of important results.

RULE IMPOSSIBLE

Unfortunately it is impossible to draft a rule distinguishing between legitimate speculation, which is trading by persons who give intelligent consideration to all the conditions which necessarily affect prices, and the kind of blind trading which follows a sensational movement of prices and tends to carry it to extremes. Traders of the former class play a useful part in marketing operations, while the latter simply muss up the situation, but the markets are open to everyone, and must be. Last year a prolonged rise of wheat prices brought into the market a lot of "trailers," who had been reading newspaper accounts of profits being made, and their buying carried prices to what is now known to have been an unwarranted level. When the break came above $2.00 per bushel, there was a great outcry against the "short-selling," which was a factor in it, although the real offense against market stability was committed by the speculators who were responsible for carrying the price above $2.00. It it had not been for the short-selling, prices might have gone to $2.50, in which case the inevitable collapse would have been more disastrous.

BETTER TREATMENT OF HARVESTERS BY FARMERS

POLICY OF CO-OPERATION PROVES PROFITABLE TO ALL PARTIES CONCERNED

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.— Co-operation between harvesters from Eastern Canada and the farmers of the west this year has added another chapter to the more friendly relations sought between worker and employer.

Many distressing tales have been told of the hardship and harsh treatment meted out to the workers in former years, who when unfavorable weather prevailed, were forced to shift for themselves, in many cases, with only limited funds, until the rain clouds had lifted and permitted field operations to continue.

The men, in many instances, drifted back to the Prairie cities and when it was time for harvesting to be resumed, the farmers found themselves without help, and consequently suffered costly delays before securing new workers.

With the shortage of help this year, the farmers have realized the problems of other years and in many districts of western Canada, instead of discharging the workers until more favorable weather conditions prevailed, have aided the harvesters, fed them and in general, made life more pleasant for them. This is not true of all sections, but is becoming more general than ever before.

An example of genuine co-operation comes from the Claresholm district of Alberta. Through the inclement weather of recent date, while rain and snow pelted the grain fields, the harvesters in the Claresholm district were housed and fed, and the farmer, townspeople and rural municipal officials co-operated. The men did their own cooking and provided entertainment for the residents of the district. On Sundays the men attended church in a body, and made further friends throughout the locality. When threshing was resumed, Claresholm farmers had field workers available, willing to co-operate in the work of gathering, threshing and hauling the grain to market.

MINISTER OF LABOR IS CONGRATULATED

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—Hon. Peter Heenan, the new Minister of Labor, attended his first Cabinet Council yesterday following his return to the capital from Kenora, where he was feted by constituents irrespective of party affiliations.

Mr. Heenan, like his former colleague, Hon. Harry Mills of Fort William, who was a member of the Drury Ministry in Ontario, has jumped from cab to cabinet. Both were locomotive engineers in New Ontario. Trade unions are expecting great things of Mr. Heenan, who was an honored official of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in his own division.

There is not a more approachable man in the cabinet. It is predicted that he will deal frankly with any case put before him, and will act promptly and firmly when action is required.

NIGHT-GOWNED GENTRY ARE NOT APPRECIATED

(Victoria Times)

Some time ago a member of the Canadian Ku Klux Klan named Kelly attempted to blow up St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Barrie Ontario, and caused a good deal of damage to the edifice. He was convicted yesterday and made a statement to the court to the effect that he and other members of the night-gowned gentry had drawn lots to see who should do the job.

During his address to the jury Mr. Justice Logie took occasion to point out to them that the Ku Klux Klan was an importation which Canada could do well without. He is quite right and it is to be hoped that when the time comes to pronounce sentence he will make an example of the culprit as a warning to other individuals who are trying to raise racial and religious discord in this country.

KILLED BLACKBIRD WITH A GOLF BALL

EMERSON, Man., Oct. 22.—A. D. Batcher, customs officer at Emerson, Man., had an unusual experience while playing a game of golf on the local rinks recently.

As he placed his ball on the tee he remarked jocularly to his companion as a flock of blackbirds rose into the air: "Watch me get one."

To his surprise he drove the ball about forty yards and struck one of the birds under the wing, killing it instantly. The blood-stained ball and the bird are on exhibition in the clubhouse.

"The New Klondyke"

A roaring comedy-romance of the Florida real estate boom, specially written for the "good luck" star by Ring Lardner. Tommy, as a big league baseball pitcher, and he sure does put it over. Florida jammed before the season opens, glass of water fifteen cents, baggage five to seven days late, hotels overcrowded, hundreds living in tents, freight embargo, stenographers making seven hundred per cent in real estate deals, millionaires, clerks, Broadway stars, speculators, housewives, chorus girls. The New Klondike. The Eldorado of today. Against this seething background Tom and Lila Lee have made a second-to-none comedy-drama. Strong cast.

COMEDY — "MERRY MAKERS."
