Carefully Sorted

THE family bundle is immediately sorted in our plant into its different fabrics and colorings. In this way we are able to use the proper wash room formula for each kind of material in your washing. Possibly this is one of the main reasons why laundry-washed clothes last longer.

CONFESSION OF FATHER TO SON

At Bedside a Parent Pours Out His Soul to Youthful Offspring

(Contributed)

"Listen, son: I am saying this to you as you lie asleep, one little paw crumpled under your cheek and the blond curls stickily wet on your damp forehead. I have stolen into your room alone. Just a few minutes ago, as I sat reading my paper in the library, a hot, stifling wave of remorse swept over me. I could not resist it. Guiltily I came to your bedside.

"These are the things I was thinking, son: I had been cross to you. I scolded you as you were dressing for school because you gave your face merely a dab with a towel. I took you to task for not cleaning your shoes. I called out angrily when I found you had thrown some of your things on the floor.

SPILLED THINGS

"At breakfast I found fault, too. You spilled things. You gulped down your food. You put your elbows on the table. You spread butter too thick on your bread. And as you started off to play and I made for my train, you turned and waved a little hand and called, 'Good-bye, Daddy!' and I frowned, and said in reply, 'Hold your shoulders back.'

"Then it began all over again in the late afternoon. As I came up the hill road I spied you, down on your knees playing marbles. There were holes in your stockings. I humiliated you before your boy friends by making you march ahead of me back to the house. Stockings were expensive—and if you had to buy them you would be more careful! Imagine, that, son, from a father! It was such stupid, silly logic.

"Do you remember, later, when I was reading in the library, how you came in, softly, timidly, with a sort of hurt, hunted look in your eyes? When I glanced up over my paper, impatient at the interruption, you hesitated at the door. 'What is it you want?' I snapped.

GOOD-NIGHT KISS

"You said nothing, but ran across, in one tempestuous plunge, and threw your arms around my neck and kissed me, again and again, and your small arms tightened with an affection that God had set blooming in your heart and which even neglect could not wither. And then you were gone, pattering up the stairs.

"Well, son, it was shortly afterwards that my paper slipped from my hands and a terrible sickening fear came over me. Suddenly I saw myself as I really was, in all my horrible selfishness, and I felt sick at heart.

"What has habit been doing to me?" That habit of complaining, of finding fault, of reprimanding—all of these were my rewards to you for being a boy. It was not that I did not love you; it was that I expected so much of youth. It was measuring you by the yardstick of my own years.

FINE AND TRUE

"There was so much that was good, and fine, and true in your character. You did not deserve my treatment of you, son. The little heart of you was as big as the dawn itself over the wide hills. All this was shown by your spontaneous impulse to rush in and kiss me good-night. Nothing else matters tonight, son. I have come to your bedside in the darkness, and I have knelt there, choking with emotion, and so ashamed!

"It is a feeble atonement. I know you would not understand these things if I told them to you during your waking hours, yet I must say what I am saying. I must burn sacrificial fires, alone, here in your bedroom, and make free confession. And I have prayed God to strengthen me in my new resolve. Tomorrow I will be a real daddy! I will chum with you, and suffer when you suffer and laugh when you laugh. I will bite my tongue when impatient words come. I will keep saying as if it were a ritual: 'He is nothing but a boy—a little boy!'

CRUMPLED AND WEARY

"I am afraid I have visualized you as a man. Yet as I see you now, son, crumpled and weary in your cot, I see that you are still a baby. Yesterday you were in your mother's arms, your head on her shoulder. I have asked too much, too much.

"Dear boy! Dear little son! A penitent kneels at your infant shrine, here in the moonlight. I kiss the little fingers, and the damp forehead, and the yellow curls and, if it were not for waking you, I would snatch you up and crush you to my heart.

"Tears came, and heartache and remorse, and I think a greater, deeper love, when you ran through the library door and wanted to kiss me"

THE DAMAGE WAS DONE

A well-known ingenue was invited to Sardis for lunch yesterday by a handsome young man. She ordered so much a worried look stole over his face. After the last bean had been devoured the girl sighed contentedly and said:

"Hum!. I fear I've eaten too much."

"Too late!" came from her escort.—New York Evening World.

PRAYER BOOK AGAIN

Man in the Moon

WHEN a widower takes a second mate he soon finds she is captain.

LIFE is much more pleasant for men than it used to be. Today a hair on the coat collar or shoulder does not provoke a contest.

NEXT year is leap year, girls, so why worry?

THE three years now are nearly ended
When she in single status wended
But next year is the one in four
And she will single be no more.

NOW that Theo Collart is making a new province, we shall all be happy and enjoy Christmas as of yore.

THE rhymester who says 'as of yore'
Can be set down "a beastly bore."
So bring yourself right up to date
And always give a bore "the gate."

THEO just took his carving knife
And sliced the province ruthlessly
He cut it off at fifty-four
And said he'd set the people free.

I WAS just forgetting to tell you that Sunday is Christmas Day, but possibly you had all heard about it.

OLD Santa Claus with whiskers long
Should greeted be with laugh and song;
So when he brings his pack, maybe
He'll have something for you and me.

SPORT CHAT

As a result of an encounter with Joe Gosse in the final basketball game of the first half of the season when he was almost catapulted out the door as he was about to shoot a basket, Dido Gurvich is nursing a lame arm these days, a fracture of the wrist having been suspected. While his friends and supporters are glad that it has turned out to be nothing more serious than a sprain, it looks like Dido will have to retire from the picture for a few weeks and there will be no more boxing bouts for him for the time being at least. Local fans are hoping that, by the time he is recovered, some talent for him to oppose may be available.

Prof. S. Takahashi of Vancouver, jiujitsu expert, one of the Japanese who has been arrested in Vancouver and charged with the murder of a countryman, Isaku Nishimura, who disappeared from his lodgings in the southern city last spring, it being suspected that his body was weighted and sunk in the Fraser River, will be remembered in athletic circles in this city. Takahashi, who visited here as late as a year ago, met Brick Skinner of this city some time ago in a mixed wrestling and boxing bout and also had a wrestling match with Nels Burns. Maybe he is even a more dangerous person than some of his local followers might have suspected.

SHEAF MOUNT SAILS.

The British freighter Sheaf Mount, laden with a full cargo of grain from the Alberta Wheat Pool's Prince Rupert elevator, sailed at eight o'clock last evening for the United Kingdom or Continent.
