PRINCE RUPERT MAN MARRIES IN SOUTH

Miss Olive G. Sewell Becomes Bride of David A. Brown at Ceremony in Vancouver

A pretty wedding took place in St. Mark's Church, Vancouver, on Saturday evening last when Olive Grace, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Sewell of West Vancouver became the bride of David Auld Brown, son of Mr. David Brown of Vancouver, and newly appointed accountant at Prince Rupert for the Swift Canadian Co., Rev. A. H. Sovereign officiating. The bridal party entered the church to "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," sung by the choir, of which the bride was a member.

A pretty gown of white crepe de chine was chosen by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. She also wore a silk net embroidered veil, with orange blossom coronet, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, lily of the valley and freesias. Miss Olive Williams was bridesmaid, wearing a pink and white frock and hat to match, and carrying pink carnations. Norman Sewell was best man, and during the signing of the register Miss Helen Sewell sang "All Joy Be Thine."

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. W. G. Bullen, Stephens Street, where the bride's mother assisted in receiving the guests attired in a becoming black satin gown trimmed with silver metallic cloth, with hat to match.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Brown have arrived here and will reside in Prince Rupert.
