GREAT FIELD GOLF PLAYERS

BRITISH, CANADIAN AND UNITED STATES CHAMPIONS WILL PROBABLY COMPETE AT TORONTO

TORONTO, July 19.—Golf in Canada reaches its greatest height on July 26-28 at the Rosedale Golf Club here, when the Canadian open title, will be contested by one of the finest fields that ever struggled for coveted honor. Preparations are being made to handle the largest galleries in the history of the sport in Canada and the course itself has been put in fine shape. Par is 72, 36 each way, and the length of the course is 6,764 yards.

Tommy Armour, former United States open champion, will be here to defend the Canadian open title. Walter Hagen, British Open champion, Johnny Farrell, new United States Open king, Gene Sarazen, second to Hagen in the British championship and Macdonald Smith, former United States Open titleholder, will probably be among the invaders to oppose the best of the Canadian golfers.

Hagen—"The Haig"—has won every open title in the world except the Canadian and he is determined to annex the Canadian title before long. He has made repeated attempts since as far back as 1912, when he first started on his great golfing career. Farrell and Sarazen have likewise failed so far in repeated efforts to win the Canadian title.

CITY TENNIS

Carl Brand Beat E. W. Marentette and in Men's Singles Semi-finals

Carl Brand defeated E. W. Marentette 6-2, 6-1 in the semi-final of the men's singles in the city tennis championship tournament last evening and earned the right to meet Poll Howard in the final today. If weather permits, it is planned to play all finals tonight at the C.N.R. courts.

Around The World With Sport Fans

(By The Tramp)

The Olympic games open on Thursday next. Canada is well represented there and good reports of the activities are expected.

An independent organization to government sports is is being mooted in Alberta. Some of the sportsmen are dissatisfied with the amateur union, it seems.

The New Westminster Salmon Belies lacrosse team is not making as good a record as could be wisher. At Edmonton they made none too good a showing and at Toronto they were beaten. Possibly they were out of condition as a result of travel. Yesterday they made a cleanup at Montreal.

Over 10,000 people attended a lacrosse match between colleges in the United States recently, says the Kingston Whig-Standard. What does it all mean? Many people will remember the days when women went to see lacrosse played, and loyally supported the national game, and most of us know that their deserting the game, owing to the rough play which became so notorious in it, caused its almost total disappearance in this country. It is a beautiful game when properly played; one which can be easily followed, easily understood, and enjoyable to see. The women showed this to be true. Are they now going to put it back into the leading position which belongs to it among the games played in Canada? There are precious few things that women cannot do, if they make up their minds to do them; the revival of lacrosse is not beyond them; and the sight of crowds going to see them play might well for the shame make men do their share in restoring lacrosse to its lost place.

In the days when Ned Hanlan was causing the name of Toronto ring 'round the world by means of his sculling exploits his homecomings were memorable occasions, says the Toronto Globe. Lou Scholes got a most hearty welcome upon his return from winning the Diamond Sculls. Tom Longboat, a picturesque athlete, brought the Boston Marathon Trophy to this city, and was accorded a hilarious welcome. The Grads and Granites hockey team beat the world at the Olympic games, and were acclaimed by the enthusiastic populace. King's Prize riflemen and other individuals and teams have heard the ring of Toronto's cheers, but it would seem as though the finest, most hearty receptions of all will be to "Young Joe Wright, winner of the Diamond Sculls the other day; Jack Guest, his Argo clubmate and semi-finalist; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright, parents of the champion, who are in Europe with him, and the Argonaut Olympic eight, who will return with the party. Argonauts were principal points winners at the Canadian Henley, and the valiant Dons, struggling under tremendous handicaps, were second. It is a significant fact that the Argos furnish all of Canada's Olympic aspirants in rowing—Joe Wright or Jack Guest in the singles, Wright and Guest in the doubles and the eight in the crew race.

SPORT CHAT

Things have been booming for both Chicago aggregations in the big baseball league and both the Cubs and White Sox have been cutting quite a swathe. The Cubs now find themselves in second place five games behind the leading St. Louis Cardinals and ahead of the slipping New York Giants who are even being menaced for third place by the Cincinnati Reds. In the American League, the White Sox, forging ahead under new management, are in fourth place, and while still quite a distance from the .500 mark, if they keep up their pace of late, may soon be crawling toward the top. Meantime, New York Yankees still maintain a long lead in the junior organization and it is only the ultra-hopeful who can still envision the pennant dropping out of their control.

One of the refreshing features of the impending quarrel between Gene Tunney and Thomas Heeney is the utter absence of the usual scandalous story and rumor, writes Andy Lytle in the Vancouver Sun. It would appear that this bout is t obe fought on its mertis, such as they are. In the Heeney camp are no yeggmen, bootleggers, racketees or guerilla snipers of the order of the double cross. If you call at this camp Mr. John Mortimer of England will talk pleasantly to you for a few moments, then lead you determinedly in the direction of the tea table. What fighting is to be, it is now established, will be done in the ring. That is as it should be. For once we seem to have a heavyweight title bout but in the immediate offing with no last minute rumors stirring the customers into near frenzy. You will recall, no doubt, that when the great John L. met Charlie Mitchell he is reported, to have observed as they were squaring away: "Be a gentleman if ou can, Charlie, you blankety, blank, blank." Mr. Tunney does not use that sort of language. Neither does Mr. Heeney. The preliminaries have been, comparatively speaking, excessively polite.

LUNCHEON FOR SIR HENRY THORNTON
