A WIDE APPEAL

AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM

As an advertising medium the Prince Rupert Daily News has a wide appeal. Not only is it read by the people of Prince Rupert, many of whom look to it for mercantile guidance, but it reaches out to the country districts where its arrival is awaited with eagerness. The mining camps and the towns of the interior look to it for the first news of the outside world.

Prince Rupert people who wish to reach the surrounding districts find there is only one medium, that of the Daily News. It is better and cheaper than any other advertising medium and can be depended upon to bring results if anything can.

Past and Present

In the past when only about 1500 papers were being sold, advertisers in the Daily News claimed they got good results from outside points as well as in the city. During the present year the circulation has increased over a thousand, and the appeal to advertisers is consequently that much the wider.

Wisdom of Advertising to Keep Goods Moving

Very few merchants seem to realize the cumulative effect of advertising. Every new customer secured is worth a great deal and this new customer becomes an advertiser for others, if he is well treated. The newspaper not only brings customers direct but prepares the way for the spread of business by personal contact.

The advertising manager will be pleased to talk this matter over with prospective advertisers and show them the newspaper's mailing list.

TELLS ABOUT WORLD CONGRESS

Rev. W. F. Price Carries Vividly to His Congregation Picture of Great Event

COLOR LINE ELIMINATED

Influence of Baptist Body in Securing Liberty of Worship in Rumania

"One of the greatest events in the history of the Christian church," was the judgment of many concerning the World's Baptist Congress held last June in Toronto, of which a vivid descriptive account was given last evening in the Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Price.

Mr. Price was a delegate to the congress and the audience was deeply interested as the speaker related his personal impressions of the great meetings. The congress was very notable on account of the large numbers attending, there being a delegation of about eight thousand, and from the fact that these were representative of about sixty-six different nationalities in all parts of the world and it was very remarkable that with all this diversity of race and color there was not a single trace of racial antipathy, not a single jarring note to disturb the harmony of the occasion, no color line was perceptible. The meetings were also remarkable for their enthusiasm, and the deep spiritual purpose that characterized them, while the singing was absolutely indescribable.

Mr. Price stated that this was the fourth Baptist World's congress, which are the meetings held every five years, of the Baptist World Alliance. This organization is a world wide union of Baptist people, without any legislative or controlling power its purpose and object is purely fraternal and inspirational, to promote a wider knowledge of each other's problems, difficulties sufferings and successes, the civilization of brotherhood and to enlist sympathy and help. So that if in any part of the world Baptists are suffering, or being persecuted all the rest shall know it and endeavor to right the wrong. The speaker gave a recent instance of this in the case of Roumania.

The Baptists, who form the only other denomination in Roumania apart from the State church were being bitterly persecuted by the government. It was declared illegal to be a Baptist and to hold Baptist meetings—their churches were closed, their preachers and pastors fined, imprisoned and cruelly flogged, some even put to death—all of which was going on so lately as the beginning of 1927. But through the efforts of the Baptist World Alliance the Roumanian parliament last year passed a measure giving liberty of consecience and worship in Roumania, so that people are free to believe and worship as they choose in that country.

The speaker then described the place where the congress was held, the beautiful and spacious grounds and buildings of the Toronto National Exhibition which were loaned by the Toronto City Council for the occasion. The congress assembly hall was a building 320 feet long and 180 feet wide, seated for about 8,000 people. The platform being fitted with sound amplifiers so that everyone could hear the speakers. The arrival of the delgates was described, particularly the British contingent, and the great host from the southern States, most of them negroes, a very fine type of people, who obviously had reached a high level of intelligence and culture. In fact, the speaker declared, the honors of the congress went very largely to the Negroes. The extraordinary eloquence of their speeches and their overflowing enthusiasm combined to put them in the front rank.

The roll-call of the nations was then described, when about 60 different nations responded to the call with a brief message—most of these were given in English, but about twelve were spoken in the language of the nation represented, in every case being interpreted so that it could be understood by the audience.

The topics brought before the congress by the various speakers were given, they included subjects such as Industrialism, Militarism and Racialism, as well as the problems and difficulties of Christian work in every part of the world. At one meeting an address of welcome to Canada was given by the Hon. N. W. Rowell on behalf of Premier Mackenzie King who was unable to be present.

A telegram was received from Lloyd George, himself a Baptist, giving hearty greetings to his fellow Baptists from the whole world.

There was also a great meeting in celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the birthday of John Bunyan, author of the "Pilgrim's Progress," who was a Baptist.

In conclusion the speaker emphasized the great influence the congress must necessarily exert upon world friendship — As an instance of this he stated the fact that it was decided with unanimity to hold the next congress, in 1933, at Berlin, Germany.

The Baptists are doing their part to strengthen the bonds of human brotherhood. But the congress made it still more clear that the only meeting place for humanity, the only spot where human brotherhood can be cemented is the cross of Christ. Politics will not do it. Teatries and agreemens good as they are in their place will fall apart from Christ — Nothing but the power of Christ can unite the nations in true brotherhood. And therefore the finest kind of service that can be rendered to humanity is to make known the gospel of Jesus Christ.
