"There are fifty-four towns with bowling alleys in the province of Alberta," said President Simonton, "and we should have at least 150 visiting bowlers. The Olympic League will enter five teams and the three newspapers and business houses here will put on at least double that number. Entries close March 14.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR REPLIES TO NEWS

tives and duties of the pulpit, especially those duties which "do not appeal to many of those present." There was a class of unfortunates for whom Christ had nothing but compassionate forgiveness; but no one is so direct and unsparing as Christ in the exposure of the hidden nurslings of sin. We have good reason for believing that many of Christ's utterances did "not appeal to many present."

But whatever slight pain I may have felt at your rigorous criticism, was more than counterbalanced at the pleasure of finding Saul among the prophets, and the newspaper in the role of moral censor. To criticize the moral and social policy advocated by the pulpit is always welcome; and even for a newspaper to become spiritual adviser to one in the pulpit whom it may count as less experienced, is welcome, provided that the newspaper has given ample proof of its moral reliability. But to enter into an arena like this, where a man was left alone with his God, implies either a very secure spiritual standing or a deficient sense of reverence.

Has the Daily News qualified itself to be reliable in moral censorship? Has it been strong and steadfast and consistent in its moral attitude? Even if it be not the duty of a newspaper to lead campaigns for moral and social betterment, when such issues have been forced upon the community has it made clear its position in no uncertain words?

People coming to our city say that our town fairly bristles with moral dangers. Excellent families have left here because they say they are unwilling to bring their children up in this atmosphere. Here are fields which may offer scope almost as great as the heinous offence of Sunday night which roused the moral ire of the News. But it is proverbial that it requires less courage to score the pulpit than to score social offenders; or to criticize on grounds of taste than on grounds of morals.

A few months ago I attended a show in the Westholme Theatre. The raw vulgarity of the show did not even appeal to a majority of the people present. I was informed afterwards that some of our citizens told the Director of the Company that such stuff was unpalatable to Prince Rupert audiences. Yet apparently it was not distasteful to the moral censor of the News. The report in your paper put a high estimate upon it.

So that on the whole, I feel that my judgment in this case is as reliable as your own. This is no new method of mine. It has all the best traditions of the church behind it; it has the example of our Master behind it; and I venture to believe that the large number of unknown, miscellaneous men in our congregation every Sunday, find their way there partly because in their hearts they have no desire of having their conscience lulled into sleep.

Yours sincerely,
F. W. KERR.

PRACTICAL JOKER WORKS IN WALES

Hoaxed Military Authorities and on St. David's Day, Too.

Cardiff, Wales, March 4.—The Welsh military authorities were the victims today of a hoax similar to that which recently caused the entire German garrison at Strassburg to assemble for inspection by Emperor William, whose approach was announced by a practical joker.
Military and police officials received apparently authoritative instructions to begin the mobilization of the territorial troops on a war footing. Walls and billboards were promptly placarded with the mobilization order, and telegrams were sent to all territorial soldiers residing in outlying districts. The arrangements for billeting the men on inhabitants of the town were well under way before the hoax was discovered.

QUEBEC CHAMPIONS WILL VISIT COAST

Montreal Despatch Declares That Stanley Cup Holders Will Play This Month.

Montreal, March 4.—Manager Mike Quinn of the Quebec Hockey Club is said to have made the statement in connection with Lester Patrick's proposition for a series of games at the Pacific Coast to decide the Canadian hockey championship, that they would likely accept. It is evident in fact that they will go so far as they have cancelled arrangements by which they were to have played the Ottawas and Wanderers in a series of games in New York.
It was intended to have a world's championship series between the three first teams in the N. H. A., but Quebec objected to Wanderers being given the bye, and have called everything off. This is regarded as a subterfuge to enable them to go to the Pacific Coast to play. Manager Quinn of the champions, said his arrangements were not complete, but added that they would undoubtedly go to the coast, as the Patrick inducements were sufficiently attractive.
As for putting the Stanley cup as the stake, he said that was absurd. Quebec will only defend the Stanley cup at the Ancient Capital. Victoria must meet the N. H. A. champions on their own ice, or not at all, as far as games for the Stanley cup are concerned.

Better than Ringing Door-bells

A PIANO manufacturer recently made a house-to-house canvass. He's one of those men with an absurd fear of the "waste-circulation" bugaboo—cannot get away from the haunting thought that only 10 out of every 100 readers of a newspaper may be possible buyers of his goods.

So he refused to advertise, and went a-canvassing—inviting people to come to his piano recitals. Then he wondered why they didn't come.

This is why:
He wasn't reaching the people.

His canvassers rang every door-bell in town. They talked to some one in every house.

But one in every household isn't enough—particularly if it doesn't happen to be the right person. And, as a rule, it wasn't the right person—it was a servant, or a child. The woman of the house was seldom seen; the man of the house, never.

Now, if the piano maker had placed an ad. in the newspaper, it would have reached thousands, where the canvassers could reach only hundreds.

And even though only 10 per cent. of the readers are actual piano buyers, this does not mean that the advertising read by the other 90 per cent. is wasted. Advertising talks, not only to the prospective buyer, but also to his wife, his grown-up sons and daughters, his mother—even his mother-in-law. Their coaxing will help to convince the head of the house—and pretty soon there'll be a piano in that home.

This and dozens of similar cases which might be cited to show that "waste circulation" is an empty bugaboo, and should deter no one.

Take the motor truck. It can be sold only to large firms. Yet a motor truck manufacturer is successfully advertising in daily papers. He realizes that he must reach, not alone the managers of the concerns that require trucks, but also their directors, their foremen, their head machinists, etc. It is found in actual practice that this Advertising radiates in a thousand directions, and again converges most astonishingly to influence the house that has made up its mind that horse-trucking is too costly and inefficient.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Bldg., Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.
