PRIVATE BIDS WERE LOWEST

City Engineer Submits Highest of Three Tenders on Concrete Sidewalk Construction

Two local contractors submitted to the city council last night lower bids on concrete sidewalk construction than the tender of the city engineer. The pieces of proposed sidewalk tendered upon were; Third Avenue, south side, from near Dybhavn & Hanson's office to McBride Street; Third Avenue, north side, Seventh to Eighth Street; Seventh Street, east side, Second to Third Avenue; Second Avenue, north side, Sixth Street to Seventh Street.

The tenders were:

Tony Christian, $2,834.90.

V. Basso-Bert, $27,532.20.

City engineer, $30,962.

At the suggestion of the mayor who urged that, owing to the lateness of the season, there be no delay in getting the work under way, the tenders will be tabulated today by the city engineer and will come before the council at a special meeting this evening with a view to letting the contract. It is expected that the lowest tenderer will be given the job.

Telephone Offer Not Considered

City Declines To Enter Into Negotiations With New York Interests for Purchase of System

The city council last night declined to enter negotiations with R. Smith of Seattle, who, on behalf of his brother, C. H. Smith, New York broker, enquired if a bid for the purchase of the municipal telephone system here might be in order. Pending reaching an agreement on a sale price, Mr. Smith offered to put up at once a bond of good faith. Mr. Smith enquired, first, if an offer would be entertained by the city, and, second, what the approximate price might be.

Ald. Brown did not think it was necessary to refer the matter to the utilities committee. Personally, he was not in favor of discussing the matter of sale of the utility at all. He moved that Mr. Smith be informed that the city was not open to receive offers for the purchase of the telephone system. This motion was seconded by Ald. Macdonald and passed unanimously.

DISPUTE OVER REPAIRS

A letter was read at last night's council meeting from George Fritz who objected to efforts that were being made by the city to collect from him the cost of mending his sewer about two years ago. Mr. Fritz claimed that the break had been caused by the city's street roller and, therefore, he maintained that he should not be called upon to pay. The city solicitor stated that he had gone into the matter and had been assured by the public works department that the break had been due to faulty construction in Mr. Fritz' lateral. The matter will go to the board of works for investigation and report.

BORDEN STREET SIDEWALK

A local improvement bylaw providing for the construction of a six-foot cinder sidewalk on the south side of Borden Street between lots 1 and 38, block 14, section 5, was introduced at last night's council meeting and given its initial readings.

WINTER IN THE GARDEN

Out of Town Corraespondent Sends Some Notes on Fall Work

Winter is the time when the gardener is apt to lose interest in the surroundings of his home, says a Terrace rancher.

With the coming of autumn the flowers fade and the plants wither. Dead leaves need to be cut away and a general tidying up udnertaken.

Roses and other shrubs need mulching and otherwise protecting from the severity of winter weather.

When this work is completed, the garden presents a tidy but drab appearance, usually with no spot of color to relieve the dead, moontenous outlook.

The gardener then settles down to look forward to the hops inspiring seed catalogues and the first green shoot that tells of the passing of winter.

In spite of this, the gardener has an inner longing for color. It finds its expression at the Christmas season in the gaily decorated homes, where red in the form of artificial poinsettas and other decorations is often a predominating note.

Mother Nature has placed at the disposal of the gardener this same color to lend a splash of color to the otherwise dead garden.

Most trees and shrubs present a brown or grey look to the view, but a few trees and shrubs are robed in a lively red. The common wild rose can be found with a scarlet look. The native maple has its young growth colored a brilliant scarlet, while the Cornus Stolonifera or Red Osier Dogwood has a bark of the same color.

These shrubs, native of this section of the country, are hardy and easily transplanted.

Judicially placed in the garden they bring to the onlooker the feeling that life and color still exist in the garden even when winter has the world in his icy grip.

BABY CLINICS IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Sept. 3: — Twenty-three baby clinics are being opened in Montreal with a view to preventing infantile mortality as far as possible. The plan of campaign in behalf of the live of Montreal's infant population is the result of recommendations made by Dr. S. Boucher, director of the department of health here, and has the hearty approval of Archbishop Gauthier and the co-operation of the parish priests. Arrangements have been made to hold the clinics in 22 parishes of the city.

The parish priests have been requested to invite the mothers of families to visit the clinics, to supply a list of births to facilitate the finding of these families, and to contribute to the success of the project in any other way that is in their power. The city is furnishing the equipment for each clinic, making a grant for the rental and maintenance of the building's paying an indemnity to the physician in charge of the clinic, and supplying a trained nurse.
