D. H. Hartness, High School principal reported at last night's board meeting that agents and peddlers were becoming somewhat of a nuisance around the school, taking up the time of the teachers and, in some cases, disturbing the classes. He inquired if it would not be possible for the board to pass a resolution, like he understood had been done previously, prohibiting peddlers from visiting schools. The board felt that all it could do was to suggest that peddlers not visit the schools, particularly when the classes are in session.
