ARMY HEAD IS SPEAKER

Major Albert Dalziel of Vancouver Delivers Address at Gyro Club Luncheon

Members of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at their regular weekly luncheon in the Boston Cafe yesterday, President T. W. Brown in the chair, heard an interesting address by Major Albert B. Dalziel of Vancouver, chief officer of the Salvation Army for British Columbia, who discussed some of the work of Army in an informal and general way.

"What the world requires more than anything else today," declared Major Dalziel, "is service in the true sense of the word with a sympathetic understanding of the other fellow's problems." The speaker referred to the valuable function which service organizations such as the Gyro Club were performing in the way of promoting personal, community, national and international goodwill.

In the course of his talk, Major Dalziel described a number of interesting incidents in Army work.

Staff Captain Joseph Acton of Wrangell, divisional commander for Northern British Columbia and the Yukon, was also a guest at the luncheon.

PRIZES FOR MOVIE FANS

Novel Contest to be Held at Capitol Theatre Here

Movie fans!

How quick are your eyes . . . how keen are your ears? Could you identify eighteen famous Paramount motion picture stars, if you only heard their voices and saw their backs or the rear of their heads?

If you can, you can win lavish prizes and get autographed photos, by simply competing in the Capitol Theatre "Know Your Star's Voice" contest which begins September 4.

Here are the simple details:

This contest was devised to help celebrate Paramount Week.

The Paramount Hollywood Studios has produced three special reels, each of which contains views of six different stars, but with their backs or shoulders facing the camera! You won't see their faces, but you can hear them talk or sing. In the three reels there are eighteen stars in all. Can you identify them correctly and write an interesting 25-word description of each? That's all there is to it! The first reel, in the series of three, will be shown on the screen of the Capitol Theatre the week beginning September 4. The second and third reels will follow on successive weeks. Each week you will be provided with an official entry blank. It contains blank lines on which you are to write the names of the mystery stars. When you have filled out the three weekly blanks, mail or bring them to the manager of the theatre.

Prizes? They're dandies! But we won't give you the list today.

Watch Saturday's paper for the complete announcement of the superb gifts to be awarded the winners.

Joe Brown and His Good Wife Picnic Hosts

Business activities were suspended on Sunday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown were hosts to members of their store and taxi staff as well as their families and friends at a delightful picnic on the beach along the Skeena River Highway about a mile beyond the Galloway Rapids bridge. The outing was a delightful one which was highly enjoyed by all, there being about fifty persons present.

A program of sports and races was enjoyed with a softball game proving of much interest. There was tap dancing by Misses Eleanor Tite and Betty Brown with banjo music by Johnny Saunders. Sam Joy and Bill Stone also played a prominent part in enlivening the proceedings.

The picnickers left town at 10 a.m. and returned home at 9 p.m. tired but happy after a memorable day of it.

W. A. Hogg, secretary of the local Unemployed Association, returned on last night's train from the interior where he has been spending a brief vacation.

The case of Ernest Lewis, charged with supplying liquor to Indians, has been further adjourned for eight days in city police court.
