PROBE OF COLLISION

No Good Reason For Crash of Olympic Into Lightship, Official Declares

NEW YORK, May 22:—Three separate official investigations into the collision of the White Star liner Olympic with the Nantucket lightship last Tuesday are in progress here, one by the United States government and another by the White Star Line itself. Four members of the crew of the lightship lost their lives in the crash.

George Eaton, superintendent of lighthouses at Chelsea, Mass., is reported to have made the declaration that there was no good reason for the collision had the proper precautions been taken.

WHIFFLETS
From the Waterfront

After a week-end visit to town during which they favored the hand loggers' convention with their presence, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jollymore left yesterday afternoon on their return to Hevenor Inlet on the west coast of Pitt Island off Principe Channel. They arrived in town on Saturday, having made the trip on their trusty ship B. and J. Mr. Jollymore is one of the few hand-loggers to whom the oxophone, or bunk-extractor, doesn't mean a thing.

The Vancouver tugboat Cape Naden arrived in port at the end of the week from the south, having in tow a scowload of Vancouver Island coal for local delivery.

Alfred Humphrey of Carlisle cannery on the Skeena River, who was advised by a radio broadcast from Vancouver on Sunday night of the death of his brother, Fred Humphrey, in the southern city that afternoon, is lineman and winter watchman at Carlisle. He will have the sympathy of many friends in his bereavement.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. A. E. Dickson, returned to port at 1 o'clock this afternoon from a regular voyage to Anyox, Stewart and other northern points and sailed about an hour later for Vancouver and waypoints.

C. N. R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Edward Mabbs, is expected to reach port tomorrow on a regularly scheduled voyage from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands. The vessel was making her calls in Massett Inlet today, having been at Buckley Bay at noon.

Following a heavy day's business through the local fish exchange, no less than nine express refrigerator carloads of fresh halibut were shipped to the eastern markets attached to last evening's regular train for the east, the train having been held until 7 p.m. awaiting the packing of the fish. It was one of the longest strings of loaded freezers taken out by any single train from here so far this year.

Frank Flatt, James Anslow and Joe Cassidy, charged with trespassing by "riding the rods" on the Canadian National Railways, appeared before Magistrate McClymont in city police court yesterday afternoon and were each sentenced to five days imprisonment.

ANOTHER IS ACQUITTED

Fourth Verdict of Not Guilty Returned by Jury at Prince George Assizes

PRINCE GEORGE, May 22: (CP)—The fourth acquittal without a conviction was recorded at the spring session of the Supreme Court Assizes here when a verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury in the case case of Alfred H. Miller of Quesnel, charged with threatening the life of J. J. Donnelly. The jury found that Miller was insane at the time the alleged offence was committed. He was ordered confined to Okalla jail pending further decision in his case.

The third acquittal was that of English Decker, Alkali Lake Indian, charged with the murder of Shorty Charlie, another native, on the Alkali Lake Reserve on September 20 last.

The two other acquittals were Ragnor Lindal, found not guilty on a charge of assaulting a police officer, Provincial Constable William Smith, in the execution of his duties during disorders of unemployed at the government agent's office here last November, and Otto Olsen, a young man from Quesnel, who was freed of a charge of manslaughter arising out of an automobile accident between here and Quesnel last November when Miss Mary Ellen Smith lost her life.

COURT WAS DAZZLING

LONDON, May 22:—Eight American women were among those who were received last week at a dazzling court ceremony by King George and Queen Mary in Buckingham Palace. The King appeared in the uniform of a colonel of the Coldstream Guards while the Queen wore the usual robes over a peach gown with the insignia of the Order of the Garter.

Gardening In Prince Rupert

Gardens are found in the most unexpected places in Prince Rupert. The other day I called to see Bob Yates on Seventh Avenue West. His cottage is rather near the road on a 25-foot lot and there is only a small plot of cultivated land in front devoted to flowers. There is nothing to indicate unusual gardening possibilities. Behind the house, however, is a very well kept lawn which makes my own look like a hay field in comparison. Around the lawn are beds of flowers and at the back of the lot a very pretty rockery and a little greenhouse. In fact, this little place has almost everything that a flower lover could desire except space and it is wonderful what he does on the space available. This year he has some very fine hollyhocks that should bloom well. On the rockery a number of rock plants including aubretia thrive well but the feature of his collection of plants now flowering is a blue meconopsis and a new polyanthus (primula Littoniana). Seed of each of these flowers came from Scotland. Bob is also going strong on chrysanthemums, bogonias and sedums this year. How he manages to keep everything growing in so small a space is a problem but he does it and gets excellent results. Anyone interested in intensive flower gardening should see Mr. Yates' place. He loves the flowers and he knows them all which is a great thing.

Most of the reports from the new rose importations indicate that they are started off well. I took only ten but all are growing and several have shoots two or three inches long. The moist weather has given them a good start and they should be all well rooted by this time and ready to produce good flowers.—H. F. P.
