Seal of Approval of the Winnipeg Censor Board and Will be Lectured by a Dante Student

Imagine if you can a world peopled with spirits, flying hither and thither in apparent disorder when suddenly the millions of flying immortals form themselves into a letter, break again and then form a new letter, and soon, each letter perfect in design, and finally ending the mystic word of warning by forming into the shape of a gigantic eagle.

Imagine also, a motion picture concern trying to put this phenomenon into picture form, and you have one of the many problems that confronted the Italian company which after three years of hard labor, succeeded in producing on films Dante's Paradise and Purgatory.

There were many problems in the way, for Dante's poem consists, of a series of visions every one of which requires new scenery, and such were the heights to which his imagination rose, that nothing less than a magician could set such trappings as would befit this story of wonderful travel through Purgatory and the Celestial realms.

The Italian producers of the film realizing the immensity of the proposition and how utterly impossible it would be to film such an allegory without some assistance, procured the services of hundreds of artists from all over Italy who were Dante students and who donated their services to help make the production without a peer in motion pictures, and something really worthy of Dante and Dore, something that would perpetuate their names. Even with this great magnanimous assistance the production cost upward of $150,000.

The production was shown in Prince Rupert for the first time last night at the Majestic Theatre. Those who saw it declared that it was one of the most marvellous productions they had ever witnessed. It will be repeated at the Majestic to-night for the last time.

The following from the Free Press of Winnipeg, speaks volumes for the production: "For the benefit of the civic motion picture censor, Dante's Paradise and Purgatory was run at Sullivan & Considine's Bijou Theatre at 11 o'clock last night. At midnight when the film had run its full course, the censor remarked, "It is the most beautiful film I ever saw." There were several local ministers in attendance and they were delighted with the scenes portrayed.

AUSTRALIA'S CAPITAL IS NAMED CANBERRA

Foundation Stone of Government Buildings Laid by Lady Denman

Sydney, Australia, March 17—The foundation stone of the future capitol of Australia was laid by Baron Denman, governor general of the Commonwealth. Lady Denman christened the new city Canberra, in the presence of great crowds from Melbourne and Sydney.

The Australian ministers also attended the ceremony of inauguration of what is intended to be a model capital. The city is to be built on a site on which the only buildings now existing are scattered dwellings of farmers.
