Salvation Army Easter Services

Divisional Commander Assists Local Officers in Observance

Easter meetings in the Salvation Army Citadel commenced on Friday evening with a service of song entitled "A Morning in the Orient," which was well rendered. The setting was in keeping with Eastertide, an illuminated cross banked with palms, daffodils and Easter lillies centred the platform. The service depicted scenes from the Garden of Gethsemane to the Resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Those taking part were: Lieutenant Bridge, reader: Master David Jones and Adjutant Laycock, soloists; W. V. Davies, pianist, and Miss Mary Pierce, recitor. The final tableau emphasized the Easter message "He is Risen" in which scene Miss Clara Pierce and Miss Dolly Smith represented angels at the tomb.

On Saturday and Sunday Major W. L. Carruthers, divisional commander for Northern British Columbia and Alaska, was in charge of all services.

Sunday morning commenced with the usual prison service followed by the 11 o'clock service in the Citadel. At 2:30 p.m. Major Carruthers addressed the Sunday School children. A visit to the Prince Rupert Hospital was made where Easter War Cries were distributed to the patients followed by an open air service and an indoor meeting in the Citadel at 7:30.

The Major's visit has proven very helpful to the officers and comrades of the local corps.

Major Carruthers leaves on this evening's train for the interior to inspect Salvation Army Corps.

GOOD PAIR OF FILMS

"Vanessa" and "Car 99" on Screen Of Capitol Theatre

A romantic drama, "Vanessa, Her Love Story," starring Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery," and a tense auto-driving crime-fighting film, "Car 99," are the feature offerings on a double bill at the Capitol Theatre here at the first of this week. Both are said to be very entertaining pictures.

"Vanessa" is a brand new picture, having played during the past week or so in first-run theatres in the larger cities. There is a notable cast of favorites, besides Miss Hayes and Montgomery, including Otto Kruger, May Robson, Lewis Stone, Violet Kemble-Cooper, Henry Stephenson and Donald Crisp. The picture is an adaptation of Hugh Walpole's novel dealing with the spectacular Herries clan of the rugged Cumberland district of England. The story concerns Vanessa, the heroine, and her troubled love affair with Benjie Herries, the "wild one" of the clan.

"Car 99" is a story based on true incidents in the experiences of the famous Michigan State Police and its criminal hunting activites. Fred McMurray, handsome new star, has the leading role of an adventurous two-fisted fighter while Ann Sheridan is his pretty sweetheart. Sir Guy Standing and William Frawley, in a humorous role, are outstanding among the supporting cast.

Candy Sale Was Held in Schools

Over $40 Realized Last Thursday By the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association

The Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association held its annual candy sale in the various schools last Thursday afternoon prior to the closing for the Easter vacation. Well over $40 was realized as a result of the sale.

The following ladies were in charge:

Booth Memorial School—Mrs. Robert Wood, Mrs. John Lawrie and Mrs. Hanford Perkins.

King Edward High School—Mrs. H. B. Eastman and Mrs. Oscar Smith.

Seal Cove School—Mrs. Alex Wylie and Mrs. David Scott.

Borden Street School—Mrs. S. V. Cox, Mrs. Fred Barber and Mrs. Alex Mackenzie.

The case of G. H. Munro, charged with failing to comply with an order of the assistant fire marshal, was dismissed in city police court before Magistrate McClymont Saturday afternoon. E. F. Jones acted for the crown.

Anniversaries Of Weddings Were Duly Observed

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Watt, Ambrose Avenue, was the scene of much merriment on Saturday evening when a party of 38 well-wishing friends invaded it in a surprise visit to congratulate and celebrate the joint wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dalgarno and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons.

A jolly time was spent in dancing, games and story telling.

Delicious refreshments were served at midnight and the proverbial wedding cake was duly cut by the brides of "yestermorn." The opportunity also was taken at this time to present small tokens of goodwill to both parties from the company.

The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought a pleasant evening to a close.
