Experiments With New Type Of Refrigerator Car—To Collect Salmon Material—Many Coast Liners Moving.

Otto C. Young, mechanical engineer of the staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, who sailed Saturday evening on the Prince George for Vancouver, will leave there on Wednesday of this week for Winnipeg accompanying a shipment of fish which is to be made across the prairies at this, the hottest time of the year, in a converted refrigerator car containing refrigeration equipment of a new type such as has been designed at the local station. The experiment is one for which plans have been made for some time and it will be followed with interest. Already successful shipments of the kind have been made in the Okanagan and on the east coast. The experimental shipment of fish is being made on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Dr. Neal Carter, Dr. H. N. Brocklesby, Dr. W. A. Riddell, B. E. Bailey, Kenneth Harding of the scientific staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station propose a trip to the canneries at Sunnyside, Inverness and North Pacific on the Skeena River this week to collect heads, fins, tails, roe and entrails of salmon from the iron chinks at these canneries which material will be brought back here aboard a halibut boat and run separately through the reduction plant of the Rupert Marine Products Limited. It is to be used for blending purposes in connection with the station's medicinal vitamin oil program.

There were 225 passengers on board the steamer Princess Louise which was in port Saturday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver. Two passengers disembarked from the vessel which had no room to take passengers from here. The vessel had rain almost throughout the voyage north.

Six halibut boats sold 129,500 pounds of fish at Seattle Saturday as follows: Western, 35,000 pounds, San Juan, 8¼c and 8c; Brisk, 33,000 pounds, Sebastian-Stuart, 8⅝c and 8c; Maddock, 8,500 pounds, New England, 9⅝c and 8c; La Paloma, 20,000 pounds, Booth, 9½c and 8c; Mermaid, 7,000 pounds, Whiz, 9⅜c and 8c; Thelma II, 8,000 pounds, Washington, 10⅛c and 8c.

Halibut landings at Seattle for last week totalled 893,300 pounds. The high price average for the week was 10c on Wednesday and the low 8¼c on Tuesday. The total purchases by the companies were as follows: San Juan, 204,500 pounds; Whiz, 154,000; Booth, 152,000; Sebastian - Stuart, 143,000; Washington, 138,000; New England, 73,300; McCallum, 28,000.

Capt. Paul Sather of the Lindy has landed at Seattle a record small halibut in the "small halibut derby," bringing a fish which measured but 13½ inches and weighed only 13 ounces. It was snagged by halibut gear near Trinity Islands on the Kodiak banks. The fish is estimated to have been 3¼ years old.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 8:15 last evening from the south with a fair-sized list of passengers and sailed an hour later for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning and sail at 1:30 p.m. for Vancouver and wayports.

After having been absent for almost a week at Stewart flying supplies into the mining areas thereabouts, Pacific Airways Junkers seaplane, piloted by Charles Elliott, returned here from the north at 5:15 yesterday afternoon. Poor flying conditions held Pilot Elliott down a good deal at Stewart last week. He left this morning for Smithers.

Word received in the city over the week-end was to the effect that the salmon fishermen's strike in the Rivers Inlet area was breaking up. Namu fishermen were expected to resume fishing last evening. On special duty in connection with the strike, fifteen provincial police officers arrived at Rivers Inlet from Vancouver aboard the steamer Catala on the present voyage north.

With a capacity list of tourist passengers, C. P. R. steamer Princess Alice, Capt. Clifford Fenton, arrived in port at 8:45 this morning from Vancouver and sailed a couple of hours later for Skagway and other northern points whence she is scheduled to call here Saturday afternoon southbound. Two hundred and one passengers included a Burlington Tour party of 24 from St. Louis making the round trip. One person disembarked from the vessel here.

Returning south after her second voyage of the season to Alaska, C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning from Skagway and other northern points and sails at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Vancouver via Ocean Falls and Powell River. The vessel brought in 211 passengers, one disembarking here.

Having on board a capacity list of 322 passengers, practically all of whom are making the round trip, C. N. R. steamer Prince Robert, Capt. Edward Mabbs, arrived in port at 7:45 this morning from Vancouver via Powell River and Ocean Falls and sailed at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Skagway and other Alaska points. Among the round trip passengers are Mrs. Frank Stanfield of Truro, N. S., widow of the well known woollen manufacturer and former lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, and her two children, Kathryn and Gordon Stanfield.

The Vancouver charter yacht Norsal, formerly owned by the Powell River Co., is on its way from Vancouver to Prince Rupert in the course of a leisurely Alaska cruise. The vessel has on board Earl C. Anthony, wealthy Los Angeles automobile dealer and radio station owner, and Mrs. Anthony and George McManus, creator of the famous "Bringing Up Father" comic strip.

With a cargo of freight including coal and lumber for local delivery, C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. James Watt, arrived in port at 10:15 this morning from Vancouver Island and, after discharging, will sail on her return south via the Queen Charlotte Islands

Imperial Oil Co.'s tanker Imperial, Capt. McGaw, arrived in port at 8:15 this morning with a cargo of bulk and package fuel for the company's local station and, after discharging, will sail on her return south.

Orme Stuart has installed a fine, roomy cabin on his recently acquired Columbia River sailing boat. This will make the craft more suitable for general use. A neat job has been done.

Princess Babs and British Cabinet Minister

Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, heiress to the five-and-ten-cent store millions, smiles charmingly at a bon mot of L. Hore-Belisha, minister of transport in the British cabinet. They were photographed at the Derby ball, the annual society affair held on the eve of the Epsom Derby. Countess Barbara seems to have regained the health she lost in the illness that followed the birth of her child recently.

IMMORTAL TALE HERE

"Three Musketeers" Presented On Screen of Capitol Theatre At First of Week

The dangerous romantic triangle of the Seventeenth Century which involved Loius XIII of France, his alluring queen, Anne, the audacious Duke of Bunckingham and the sinister Cardinal Richelieu is again presented on the screen in the latest picturization of the immortal classic of Alexandre Dumas "The Three Musketeers," coming to the Capitol Theatre at the first of this week. Although it is ninety years since the world first thrilled to this romantic and stirring story, time has been unable to tarnish its lure for both old and young. Gallantry and devotion vie with political intrigue in the story of plot and counter-plot to save the honor of a queen. Superb cast and lavish settings feature the production. Walter Abel, noted Broadway stage star, plays the central role of d'Artagnan with Paul Lukas, Moroni Olsen and Onslow Stevens as the musketeers Athos, Porthos and Aramis. The feminine trio inspiring the sword play and intrigue of the classic are portrayed by Heather Angel, Margot Grahame and Rosamond Pinchot as Constance, Milady de Winter and the unhappy Queen Anne respectively. Other important members of the cast include Ian Keith, Ralph Forbes and John Quelen with Nigel de Brulier as Cardinal Richelieu and Miles Mander as his royal pawn, King Louis.

The second feature on this double bill program is "Snowed Under," a rollicking comedy romance with a cast including George Brent, Genevieve Tobin, Glenda Farrel, Patricia Ellis, Frank McHugh, John Eldridge and Helen Lowell.

Miss Leona Parker sailed Saturday evening on the Prince George for a trip to Vancouver.

Miss N. McLeod of Seattle arrived in the city on the Catala last evening from the south to pay a visit here with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLeod.
