Says Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced At Home

Prove It At Small Cost

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, as good advice for home treatment as any friend can give, before resorting to operations or injections, is to get a prescription known as Moone's Emerald Oil.

Simply ask Ormes Ltd. or your druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you should notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are no longer burdensome. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it also helps simple swellings due to strain to disappear.

WEDDED IN VICTORIA

Miss Myrna Fuller, Formerly Of This City, is Bride at Pretty Ceremony in Capital

VICTORIA, April 15:— Palms, daffodils and trailing greenery were arranged in St. Barnabas' Church recently for the wedding of Myrna Ruth, eldest daughter of Mrs. Fuller, 123 Moss Street, and of the late L. M. Fuller, and Wilfrid Ffye Wilson, second son of Mr. James Fyfe Wilson, 1224 Johnson Street, and of the late Mrs. Wilson, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock, Rev. F. V. Venables officiating.

The service was fully choral, and John Watson presided at the organ, and among other numbers played "Benediction Nuptial" and "Wedding Days," and as the bridal party left the church, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." As the bride and her attendants walked up the aisle, the choir sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and later, "O Perfect Love."

The bride, who was given away by her mother, looked radiant in a princess frock of ivory satin with a long train, the bodice being fashioned with leg o'mutton sleeves and a stand-up collar, and finished at the waist with a braided girdle. Her veil, which had been worn by her mother at her wedding, and an aunt before her and other relatives, was confined to her head beneath a wreath of orange blossoms, and she also wore silver shoes and carried a shower boquet of roses, carnations and sweet peas.

The Attendants

The two bridesmaids were dressed alike in princess frocks of silk net over satin, with capes and hemline trimmed with green and yellow pleated ribbon. Miss Helen Fuller, sister of the bride was dressed in green, and Miss Ora Morrow in yellow. Their quaint old-fashioned bonnets matched their frocks, and had stiff brims of gold sequins with a narrow ruching of net, and were fastened at the side with knots of sequins. Miss Fuller wore green net gloves and carried a sheaf of daffodils, and Miss Morrow wore yellow gloves and carried o bouquet of pink tulips.

Bert Wilson attended his brother, and the ushers were another brother, Harold Wilson, and Earl Eby, Prince Rupert.

A reception was held after the service at the home of the bride's mother, where the decorations were charmingly carried out in yellow and green. Mrs. Fuller welcomed the guests in a gown of navy blue georgette and taffeta and matching accessories, adorned with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations, and assisting her was the bridegroom's stepmother in royal blue and white with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of violets. During the reception the bride and groom stood in a window embrasure beneath green and yellow streamers and a large white bell. The wedding cake centred the supper table standing between tall yellow candles on a handsome lace cloth.

Leave for Seattle

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for Seattle and will return to Victoria to live after their honeymoon, and in about a month's time will take up residence in their newly-completed home on Dean Heights. For travelling the bride chose a Tyrolean frock with a corded hemline of Caribbean blue, and a fitted overcoat of the same shade and navy blue, and matching accessories and a grey fox fur, the gift of the bridegroom.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. J. F. McLean, Vancouver; Miss Winifred Eby, Mrs. L. McRae, Prince Rupert; Mrs. D. E. Murphy, Winnipeg; Mrs. R. J. Steen, Vanderhoof, and Miss Margaret Williscroft, Vancouver.
