Mussolini Warns Franco to be More Careful—Viscount Cecil Quits as Whip in Protest at Chamberlain Policy—Non-Intervention Hits Snag

LONDON, June 25: (CP)— General Francisco Franco has promised to stop bombing British ships in Spanish ports and to set up neutral security zones in ports, Spanish insurgent sources have told Havas News Agency.

PARIS, June 25: (CP)—The Spanish government is reported to have threatened to bomb Italian cities if insurgent war planes continue their raids on government towns behind the front lines. Informed circles disclosed that the Spanish ambassador to France had informed Foreign Minister Bonnet that Barcelona patience with raids by Italian planes in the insurgent service had reached the limit. It was also reported that Premier Benito Musolini had warned General Francisco Franco to be more careful of his plane raids, especially along the Mediterranean.

Milwaukee Barrister to Hike From Prince George to Coast

JASPER, Alta, June 25.—On foot from the Fraser to the Pacific over Alexander Mackenzie's trail of 1793 is the prelude for Ray T. Zillmer, Milwaukee barrister, to this year's Alpine Club of Canada camp in the Columbia ice field, Jasper National Park.

Starting at Prince George next week he will follow the Fraser to the mouth of the Blackwater, a few miles above Quesnel, and strike nearly 200 miles west for Bella Coola through a substantial portion of newly created Tweedsmuir Park which was visited by the Governor-General last year.

This years' alpine camp, on account of its accessibility from Jasper via the new Columbia ice field highway, gives promise of being one of the best attended in recent years. Two English climbing clubs will be represented as well as a number of American clubs.

NEW RADIO PHONE NOW

Prince Rupert People Can Now Talk With Boats At Sea

A new radio telephone network which will give Prince Rupert direct telephone connection with a number of nearby points and with tugboats and other coastal craft is being established by the Northwest Telephone Company, associate of the British Columbia Telephone Co. Bert Tupper, radio engineer of the company, has been in Prince Rupert for some days installing additional radio equipment to make this possible.

The Allison Logging camp at Cumshewa Inlet on the Queen Charlotte Islands now has direct connection with the Prince Rupert Telephone system by means of a radio link and the Canadian Fishing Company's plant at Butedale and Carlisle and the B.C. Packers' cannery at Pacofi on the Queen Charlotte Islands will be added to the network shortly.

Service is also available now from any Prince Rupert telephone to all tugboats and other coastal craft suitably equipped and within a radius of approximately 150 miles. About a dozen British Columbia tugs, two private yachts and a salvage vessel are already equipped to connect with the shore telephone system while at sea.

During the last few years the Northwest Telephone Company has developed quite an extensive radio telephone network with Vancouver as its centre. Prince Rupert, Ocean Falls, Quesnel, Zeballos and various canneries and logging camps are able to reach the Canadian and American telephone networks by means of radio telephone links connecting with the telephone lines through the Northwest Telephone Company's radio stations on Lulu Island near Vancouver.

The places which will be included in the Prince Rupert network will also be able to connect with Vancouver and thus gain access to the international telephone network.

Prince Rupert has had radio telephone connection with Vancouver since early in 1932.
