MARRIAGE OUTSTANDS

Beautiful Nuptials of Miss Margaret Kergin and Dr. Ralph Outerbridge in United Church Last Night

An outstanding social event in Prince Rupert was the marriage at 7 o'clock Friday night in First United Church of Miss Margaret Elizabeth Kergin, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Kergin of Prince Rupert, to Dr. Ralph Edward Outerbridge, elder son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Outerbridge of Kobe, Japan. The ceremony was performed before a crowded congregation by Rev. J. Clifford Jackson. The church was profusely decorated for the occasion with summer flowers.

To the strains of Mendolssohn's Wedding March played by Miss Swanna Olafson, the beautiful bride, with her party, entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. The bride's path up the aisle to the altar was strewn with rose petals by the flower girl.

The bride's lovely wedding dress was a Vionnet model of ivory satin fashioned on Princess lines with small collar of pleated Brussells lace. Her finger tip veil was of ivory net, covering her face and falling softly over her train to the hem. She carried a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and lillies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. F. E. Robertson, appeared charming in dove grey Alencon lace over dusty pink with matching hat, carrying a shower bouquet of blue delphinium and pink carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Jean McAfee, was pretty in pink marquissette over Faile taffeta with matching picture hat. Her bouquet was of blue delphiniums and pink carnations.

Little Lydia Watt was a dainty flower girl. She wore a French model of pink smocked silk with pink organdie hat and carried a basket of carnations and delphiniums and sweet peas.

Stanford Smith of San Francisco was the groomsman.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. S. D. Johnston sang "O Day of Golden Promise."

The Wedding March from Lohengrin was played as the bridal party left the church.

Ushers were W. R. McAfee, Dr. W. A. Riddell, Col. S. D. Johnston and Alex Mitchell.

Reception At Home

Later a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Fourth Avenue West where numerous friends assembled to extend their congratulations and best wishes to the couple. Receiving at the entrance of the drawing room were Mrs. W. T. Kergin, mother of the bride, and Mrs. W. S. Kergin of Premier. The bridal party received before the flower-banked fireplace.

The bride's mother wore navy blue and rose flowered silk with matching navy hat.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Kergin, wore navy blue flowered chiffon with lace insets and navy blue hat to match.

The bride's table was centred with pink carnations and fern flanked with tall ivory tapers and covered with a beautiful point de Viennese cutwork cloth in oyster shade.

The bride's handsome five-tier wedding cake was duly cut on a side table banked with tulle and flanked with two silver bud vases containing lillies of the valley.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. J. C. Jackson and responded to by the groom. Dr. L. W. Kergin proposed a toast to the bridesmaid to which the groomsman responded.

Later in the evening Dr. and Mrs. Outerbridge sailed on the Princess Adelaide for Vancouver where they will embark June 25 on the Empress of Japan for Japan. After visiting in that country for three months they will proceed by airplane to Hong Kong enroute to Chengtu, China, where the groom is associated with the University of Chengtu.

The bride's going away costume consisted of a three-piece Madelaine du Rauche cape ensemble of soft brown wool with London tan accessories and corsage of lillies of the valley.

The bride was born at Port Simpson and has lived all her life in Northern British Columbia, her father being the dean of the medical fraternity in this district. She graduated as a nurse from Toronto General Hospital.

The groom, who has spent most of his life in the Orient, is a graduate of the medical school of the University of Toronto.

Returning south after her first voyage of the season to Alaska on the summer tourist service, C.P.R. steamer Princess Charlotte, Capt. William Palmer, is due in port at 3:30 this afternoon and will sail a couple of hours later for Vancouver.
