SKI COURSE IS FINEST

New Run At Jasper Park Only One Meeting International Federation Requirements

JASPER, November 14:— Only downhill course in Canada which meets requirements of the International Federation of Skiers, a new three-mile run from the summit of the famous Whistler Range to within a mile of the Alpine village is ready for inaugural competitions in January. Surveyed by the Swiss professional, Peter Vajda, the course boasts a vertical drop of 4600 feet, half of which is over the smooth alplands above timber line and the lower portion through a series of meadows and a trail averaging more than 100 feet in width.

At Columbia Ice Field, south of Jasper, more than two feet of fresh powder snow already covers the rolling lower slopes and skiing parties from Edmonton and Calgary have visited the region each week-end since September. The new highway from Jasper makes it possible for skiiers to motor to a 6500 foot altitude, thus eliminating any packing in of equipment to the chalet base.

It was at Mt. Athabaska of the ice field group that Gertrude Wepsala, Dominion ladies' champion, trained during July and August as skiing is available there twelve months of the year.

Heavy snowfalls have also greeted skiers in the Tonquin Valley, site of the 1939 ski camp of the Alpine Club of Canada and in the Maligne and Shovey Pass regions.

Early reservations indicate that numerous Americans and skiers from Eastern Canada will journey to Jasper during the winter, it was stated today by R. Creelman, passenger traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways, western region.

Situation In Europe Subject Of His Address

OCEAN FALLS, Nov. 14.—At the Everywoman's Club November meeting last Saturday the guest speaker was E. A. Goddard who gave an interesting and enlightening address on the present situation in Europe.

The musical end of the program consisted of two selections from MacDowell ably rendered by Mrs. Drumb.

Mrs. E. M. Robertson gave a delightful review of the book "Winged Pharoahs," by Joan Grant.

DRAMA IN WAR FILM

Dramatic Conflicts of Men of Medicine Keynote of "Disputed Passage"

Dramatic conflicts concealed behind stern and sterile features of men of medicine comprise the theme of 'Disputed Passage,' picturization of Lloyd C. Douglas' famous novel, which is the feature film at the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week. Dorothy Lamour, John Howard and Akim Tamiroff are presented in the leading roles.

Dorothy Lamour is an American girl born in the Orient who returns to America. She meets and falls in love with Howard, a brilliant young surgeon and protegee of Tamiroff who is a stubborn and vitriolic doctor professor who worships science and with whom human emotions count for nothing. Hearing of Howard's contemplated marriage, Tamiroff intervenes and persuades the girl to leave for China where she engages in work at the battlefront. The story thereafter takes the characters to the war-torn Orient for the final climax of the plot. A dramatic turn of events brings the picture to a happy and satisfactory ending. There are plenty of thrilling scenes.

From The Waterfront

Under tow, the Frank Waterhouse freighter Northholm, which struck a rock at Porpoise Harbor at the end of the week, damaging her propellor among other things, left Sunday for Vancouver where repairs will be effected. No work was done in the local dry dock.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, returned to port at 10:30 this morning from Stewart and other northern points and sailed at 1:30 this afternoon for Vancouver and waypoints.

An appeal is expected to be made by the crown against a decision of Justice of the Peace W. E. Collison against confiscation of some 16,000 pounds of fish involved in connection with the conviction of the local halibut boat Atli for a breach of International Fisheries Commission regulations. Although the justice of the peace decided against confiscation, there has been no release of the fish.
