Too many cooks won't spoil THIS baking!

Co-op flour loves to be worked with because of its high gluten content. Gluten is a gluey protein—the tough elastic substance that holds your dough together and helps make baking light and fluffy. The more you work with Co-op flour—the more gluten action you get. Win praises from your family with light, fluffy homemade treats! Use Co-op flouravailable only at your Co-op!

Co-op flour is pre-sifted—has been for years. However, any flour tends to "settle" once it is packaged! A little home sifting on your part fluffs it up and ensures accurate measurements when they are absolutely necessary!
