Man in the Moon

Prince Rupert gets more and more Irish every day. Pretty soon the hills will turn to a beautiful emerald green and the shamrock will grow wild.

Perhaps we may even grow flax and manufacture Irish linen and live very largely on potatoes.

Here's to the Irish!

It was undoubtedly an Irishnian who wrote to a patent medicine concern: "For nine years I was totally deaf. After using your salve for a few days I heard from my brother in South Carolina.

Another Irishman was defending a case in court. The judge asked if he challenged any of the jury. "Well, I thing I can lick that little guy on the end," was the prompt reply.

"Your face seems familiar. I've either seen you before or someone very much like you."

"Well, I've never seen you before—or else it's someone else very much like you I've never seen before."
