Official "Say So" in Regard to Halibut Season is Awaited Although Known—Navigation Examinations on—New Co-op Building About Finished

While it has been known authoritatively in Prince Rupert for several weeks that the opening of the 1940 halibut fishing season in the North Pacific has been set for April 1 by the International Fisheries Commission and that there will be little if any change in quotas as to the division of fishing between Areas No. 2 and 3, the official announcement has yet to be made but it is expected this will be forthcoming within a matter of days now. Meantime, the fleet at Prince Rupert, as at all other halibut fishing ports on the coast, is busy getting in readiness for the season's operations. The halibut vessel owners have been working out their arrangements for voluntary curtailment in the interests of conservation and orderly marketing. The British Columbia Halibut Marketing Board will be sitting in Prince Rupert at the first of next week. Halibut fishing vessels and their masters, which have been engaged in coastal defence patrol during the past winter, may be released so they may engage in their normal pursuit of halibut fishing.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 10 o'clock last night from the south and sailed at 1 a.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

At the conclusion of her present voyage, C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide is to be withdrawn from service for annual overhaul and in her place the Princess Louise will be coming north next week. The Princess Norah, which has been relieving the Princess Mary on the Vancouver-Powell River run, will be returning to the Alaska route for the time being.

Capt. J. C. Barbour, examiner of masters and mates, arrived in the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday from Vancouver, being here to conduct examinations for candidates for navigation papers sent up from the school which has been conducted here during the past winter by Capt. J. R. Elfert, local harbor master.

Finishing touches are now being put on the imposing new store building which has been erected at Cow Bay by the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative and very soon now the store and offices of the Co-op will be moving into the commodious quarters. There is an attractive imitation brick finish for the front.

The Armour Salvage Co.'s service boats Bonilla, Capt. Henry Hansen, and Pachena, Capt. Oscar Haveroy, left Thursday night for the North. Returning at the first of the week they will bring in two scows—one laden with gravel from Hastings Arm and the other with material taken from Anyox in connection with the dismantling of the old smelting and mining plant.

DRAMA AND FUN FILM

"Code of Streets" and "Blondie Metts Boss" Showing at Capitol Theatre

"Code of the Streets," a fast action drama of juvenile heroism in the underworld, and "Blondie Meets the Boss," the second of a popular series based on comic strip characters, are double billed at the Capitol Theatre for tonight only.

Topping the cast of "Code of the Streets," Harry Carey is seen as a practical-minded police lieutenant who is responsible for the approaching execution of an alleged murderer. The story tells how the brother of the convicted man, his former associates and the police lieutenant's son, convinced that there is no guilt, work fearlessly to thwart the execution. There is high dramatic tension until the purpose is accomplished. "The Little Tough Guys" are featured in the cast.

In "Blondie Meets the Boss," Dagwood gets into difficulties with the boss and Blondie's efforts to save his job only results in her taking his place at the office while he stays home and does the housework. A jitterbug contest climaxes the picture. Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake and little Larry Simms again have the principal parts.
