OVERSEAS AIR HEADS

Wing Commander Francis Vernon Heakes, one of the Royal Canadian Air Force leaders overseas, was born in January, 1894, and saw service with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1916 and 1917. He transferred to the Royal Flying Corps in September, 1917, and was absorbed into the Royal Air Force on its formation in April, 1918. In July, 1919, he transferred back to the Canadian Expeditionary Force and remained with the Permanent Active Militia until his transfer in May 1923, to the Canadian Air Force which received its "royal" prefix the following year. Wing Commander Heakes has filled a number of staff appointments in the R.C.A.F. and, from June, 1935, to March, 1937, was stationed in Winnipeg, Man., as Air Staff Officer and then as District Intelligence Officer.

Squadron Leader Archibald Patrick Campbell was born in November, 1903, and joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in June, 1924. He is a graduate of the Royal Air Force Staff College and a qualified air armament officer.

Born In Poland

Squadron Leader Bernard Mortimer Aronson was born in Zelva, Poland, in May, 1900, and came to Canada five years later, being educated in public and high schools and the Ottawa Collegiate Institute. He was employed as an audit clerk in the Department of National Defence at the end of the last war, being too young for service with the forces, and in March, 1920, was transferred to the Air Board.

Enlisting in the ranks of the Canadian Air Force in March, 1923, Squadron Leader Aronson progressed through the ranks of corporal and sergeant until 1925 when he received a commission in the Equipment Branch of the R.C.A.F. During the last thirteen years he has served at Air Force Headquarters in connection with stores administration at Camp Borden, as accountant officer at Winnipeg, and at Trenton as officer commanding the Equipment Training School. In May, 1938, Squadron Leader Aronson returned to Ottawa to become Director of Equipment Administration and now goes to London as Equipment Staff Officer at the Overseas Headquarters. His was largely the responsibility for securing accomodation for officers and airmen of No. 110 (AC) Squadron and he will now be charged with the necessity of supplying it with aircraft and other equipment.

Colonel the Hon. P. J. Montague, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.C., V.D., A.D.C., who is Assistant Adjutant and Quartermaster General at Canadian Military Headquarters in the United Kingdom, is empowered to exercise and perform the duties and functions of Deputy Judge Advocate General for Canadian Military and Air Forces in the United Kingdom. Although not on the staff of the Overseas Headquarters, he may be associated with it from time to time.
